Aycock Given Promotion

Jr., of Greenbelt, Md. (Prince Georges County) has been named interim agronomy department chairperson in the College of Agriculture at Maryland. Dr. Aycock succeeds James R. Miller, who retired on June 30 after 27 years of service to the state's

Work Is Published

(Continued from page 1B)

A multimedia exploration of "Look Homeward, Angel," Wolfe's foremost work, each seminar is free to the public through a cooperative agreement between the university and the Agricultural Extension Service in participating counties.

In addition to the history of North Carolina 4-H in action, Dr. Clark has published material on the works of Washington Irving, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Thomas Wolfe and a variety of other 19th- and 20th-century American writers. At present he is at work on a piece about Mark Twain.

Work on the 4-H history was begun in 1978 and required six years to complete. The title "Clover All Over" emphasizes the spread of organized 4-H clubs into all of the state's 100 counties.

Prior to his composition of the book, Dr. Clark was recognized with a statewide 4-H alumni award. He has also served in a series of offices of the 4-H Honor Club and was its president in 1981 when this organization was recognized by the N. C. General Assembly for 50 years of service and support to the state's 4-H and youth program.

Copies of this 4-H history, which is of interest both locally and statewide, can be obtained from the Office of 4-H and Youth, Box 7606, NCSU, Raleigh, N. C. 27695. Each copy costs $9. Proceeds from the sale of the book will go into a fund to develop 4-H further in North Carolina.

A copy of "Clover All Over" is in the Warren County Memorial Library and the Warren County Agricultural Extension Office.

Dr. Clark is certainly to be commended for this most interesting history.

STARTS FRIDAY

VOLUNTEERS

SHOWTIME

2:40-4:50-7:00-9:10

$2.00 TILL 6.00

CINEMA

STARTS FRIDAY

JAMES BOND 007

A VIEW TO A KILL

(PG)

SUN. ONLY

7:00 - 9:15

WEEKDAYS

7:00

M. Kenneth Aycock, the University of agricultural community.

A faculty member at the College Park campus since 1966, Aycock is well-known among the nation's professional tobacco research workers. More than twothirds of Maryland's tobacco crop is a own from varieties which Aycock helped to develop in cooperation with the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station. addition development of new varieties, Aycock has been involved cooperative research on disease resistance, fertilization response and air pollution effects on Maryland tobacco.

In 1970 the University of Maryland's College of Agriculture alumni chapter honored him with its "Excellence in Research" award. The Northeastern branch of the American Society of Agronomy presented him with its annual research award in 1982.

A native of Elberon, in Warren County, Aycock holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from North Carolina State University and a Ph.D. degree in plant breeding from Iowa State University.

AYCOCK

After receiving his baccalaureate degree, Aycock spent a year (1959-60) as the first vocational agriculture teacher in Bear Grass High School at Williamston. He is married and the father of two children.

Recent Guests

Margaret Greene of Philadelphia, Pa. and Carrie Conquest of Williamstown, N. J., sisters of Sprig Alston of Arcola and Patsie Gardner of Littleton, were guests at the annual homecoming and revival services the week of August 4 at Shiloh Baptist Church.

While visiting, they stayed at the Holiday Inn in Henderson.

The first printed cookbook came off the press only 20 years after the first book, Gutenberg's

Macon Antique To Be On Public Display

(Continued from page 1B)

House and Senate. He was Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives under President Thomas

Among the oldest items in the exhibit are two silver spice casters (shakers) attributed to Charles Adam (1697-1716), and owned by Christopher Gale, first chief justice of the North Carolina Supreme Several furniture pieces designed by Frank Lloyd Wright (1869-1959) and made by Henredon Furniture Industries, Inc. of Morganton, are in the exhibit. Other furniture includes a 1789 blanket chest from Cabarrus County and a pine huntboard from the Jacque and Juliana Busbee collection.

North Carolina's famous pottery areas are represented with several important pieces including several jugs and pitchers of different glazes.

Ellington explained that the exhibit is designed to highlight recently acquired pieces. "These items illustrate the wide range of objects North Carolinians used throughout the years," he said. He pointed out the ca. 1946 RCA black and white television set, with a rounded, movable magnifying glass placed in front of the screen to increase the size of the image.

A porcelain chamber pot with "Yarborough House" painted on the outside recalls the days when the well-known Raleigh hotel served as a homeaway-from-home for legislators and visitors. The most recent acquisition is a beautiful handmade hammered dulcimer with carved dogwood and cardinal decorations, reminding us of our talented mountain artisans.

Uniform pieces, worn by military personnel from the 1800s to 1955, include Civil War cavalry boots, a ca. 1820 infantry coat and a Women's Army Corps trench coat, overcoat and suit, ca. 1950.

Old toys will take some visitors back to their own childhoods while the younger visitors may see what their parents or grandparents used for amusement, such as a child's folding desk, an 1890s horse pull toy, a dollbed and folding ironing board.

A multipurpose piece combining a lamp stand, clock holder and ashray, made of rhododendron root, marked "NRA/Blowing Rock, NC," (ca. 1935), was probably made by a worker in the National Recovery Administration program.

Ellington explained the museum's new acquisitions are received in several different ways. "We receive many items from our very active Museum Associates group," he said. "We also receive artifacts from gifts or bequests from individuals and from outright museum purchases." He pointed out that annual funds allocated for museum purchases amount to only $6,800 - not nearly enough to fill gaps in the museum's collection.

"The Associates' help is enormously valuable," he noted. "Without their help, we would miss out on important additions to the collection. Associates' membership funds help preserve our state's heritage and enable it to be displayed for all North

"Associate members and others all over the state are always on the lookout for various pieces as they appear on the market to fill in the gaps in our collec-

As plans for the new museum building progress, gifts, bequests and Associates' support are now more important than ever. The museum is actively collecting items for exhibit in the new facility which will offer more than three times the present exhibit

Meanwhile, visitors may enjoy the new acquisitions exhibition which reflects some of the "behind-the-scenes" activity at today's Museum of

"Museum Pieces: New Acquisitions" will be on view on the mezzanine through August, 1986, at the Museum of History, an agency of the Department of Cultural Resources, at 109 E. Jones St., Raleigh. Museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 9 a. m. - 5 p. m.; Sunday, 1-6 p. m. Closed Mondays. Admission is free.

For details, call the Museum at 733-3894.

Lake Gaston 3rd Annual

Fall Seafood Festival

SATURDAY, OCT. 5 - 3-7 P.M. Lake Gaston Lions Club Fund Raiser

Ticket Sales Close September 1

All the Seafood You Can Eat and

All Your Favorite Beverages TICKETS $15.00

Write: Lake Gaston Lions Club P. O. Box 222, Henrico, N. C. 27842 Call (919) 537-2025

LOUISBURG THEATRE

FRIDAY, AUGUST 16 THRU THURSDAY, AUGUST 22

2 Shows Each Night at 7 & 9

ALL SEATS AT ALL TIMES $2.00

Wedding Vows Are Exchanged

(Continued on page 3B) Suzanne Hudson and wine was served by Mrs. Susan Nelson and Mrs. Carolyn Smith.

Rice bags were distributed by Craig Seaman and Shannon Taylor, and good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Seaman.

Courtesies

A pre-rehearsal dinner was given by the bride and groom at Middleburg Steak House on Friday evening. Following the meal, guests were served the traditional groom's cake.

On Friday evening, the SUMMER prospective bride and RENTAL groom were honored at (PG) an after-rehearsal party SUN. ONLY at the Ridgeway Com-3:30 - 5:20 munity Club. Hosting the WEEKDAYS affair were John and 9:15 Ann Kilian, Wallace and Lucy Holtzman, Rogers $2.00 THURS and Barbara Holtzman, SUN. TILL 6.00 Gus and Tillie Daeke. EMBASSY Glenn and Suzanne HudKilian, Walter and Virginia Bender, Reuben and Babs Holtzman, Richard and Lou Ann Bender, Richard and Freida Holtzman, Richard and Alma Matthews, Calvin and Judy Seaman, Eva Holtzman, Henry and Margaret Seaman, Harold and Elda Seaman, Rob and Linda Allen, Palmer and Louise King, Lena Bender, Doris Bender, Hal and Shirley White, Leonard Kilian and Danny Bender. Music was provided by Marvin Pierce.

On August 7, the brideelect was entertained with cocktails and dinner at the Silo Restaurant in Henderson by friends and relatives.

Miss Ruby Seaman was feted with a lingerie shower on June 22 at the home of Miss Doris Bender in Ridgeway. Hostesses for the occasion were Doris Bender. Elaine Bender and Lynn

The parish hall at St. Paul's Lutheran Church was the setting on Saturday night, July 20, for a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Ruby Seaman. Hosting the affair were Mrs. Margaret Seaman, Mrs. Katherine Seaman, Mrs. Edna Seaman, Henry W. Seaman, Mrs. Hazel Holtzman and Mrs. Tillie Daeke. Approximately 50 guests attended. Special guest for the occasion was Mrs. Gladys Seaman, mother of the bride. Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Alma Mathews and Mrs. Ruby Seaman.

Miss Ruby Seaman was honored at a bridal shower on July 19 in the Garnett Street Conference Room of Rose's Stores Buying and Executive Offices. Serving as hostesses were friends and co-workers of the bride-elect. Approximately 100 guests attended.

On July 26, the bridal couple was honored at a miscellaneous shower at the Rose's store in Wilson. Employees of the store hosted the shower.

The bride and her attendants were honored at a luncheon on July 20 at the home of Mrs. Ruby Seaman. Hostesses were Mrs. Ruby Seaman and Mrs. Brenda Seaman.

Ends Course

Velma M. Pvt. Russell, daughter of Margaret L. Russell of Rt. 2, Norlina, has completed the Army personmanagement nel specialist course at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Students were provided a working knowledge of personnel classification and reclassification, assignments and utilization; and enlisted evaluation system, promotions and reductions, automated personnel systems.

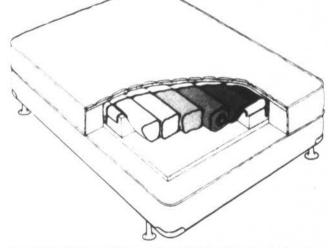

Pvt. Russell is scheduled to serve at Fort Bragg, N. C.

She is a 1983 graduate of Warren County High School.

son, Leonard and

Florence Bender, Lillie

Here's the "in" buy of the year in bedding-the patented, unique SOMMA Mattress that is sweeping the nation in popularity for amazing sleep comfort. Individually adjusted cyclinders of water provide the exact degree of restful firmness desired for a good night's sleep. Each side of the SOMMA is adjustable to individual sleeping taste. Come in and see the SOMMA Mattress today for cool sleeping comfort. The price may never again be duplicated. Limited supply.

Warrenton Furniture Exchange, Inc.

115 E. Franklin St.

Warrenton, N. C.

Exterior Latex Flat House Paint

Economic white Soap & water clean-up List price $10.99

our best quality Latex Flat House Pain ong-lasting colors eautify & protect SERVI, ITAR athes with hous Exterior Latex Flat louse touse Paint Paint