MR. AND MRS. ANDREW AVAILLEN RIGGLEMAN

Riggleman-Jones

Vows Are Spoken

The wedding of Christina Rose Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Jones of South Hill, Va. to Andrew Availen Riggleman, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Availen A. Riggleman of Medley, W. Va., took place Saturday, Sept. 7, at four o'clock in the afternoon at the John H. Kerr Dam.

The Rev. Availen Riggleman, father of the groom, performed the double-ring ceremony.

A wedding poem was written and read by Ms. Erma Mills of South Hill.

Traditional wedding music and songs chosen by the couple were played by Mrs. Margaret Hazelwood and sung by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hazelwood of La Crosse, Va.

The bride was escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents.

The bride's formal gown of white organza featured an eyelet ruffled bodice, basque waistline accented with pink rosebuds and ball-gown sleeves of eyelet, worn off-the-shoulder. The cathedral-length train was accented with eyelet lace pick-ups, caught with satin ribbon and pink rosebuds and a cotton eyelet ruffled hem. As an accompaniment, she wore a fingertip veil, designed and sewn by the bride's mother.

Mrs. Becky Martin and Mrs. Judy Stallings, sister of the bride, served as matrons of honor. Misty Dawn Stallings and Angel C. Jones, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls.

Ben F. Riggleman, brother of the groom, served as the best man. The usher was Jerry N. Stallings, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Shirley Weaver presided at the guest register.

After a honeymoon trip to Florida, the couple are residing in Norlina.

Reception

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the pavilion at the John H. Kerr Dam. The wedding cake was made by Katherine Stallings of Norlina. Assisting with the reception were Bobby Webb, Erma Mills and Janie Lynn Burton.

The weather has turned really cool and damp and the residents are having to stay inside. Most of our people can't stand the cold and it is a long winter for them having to stay inside. So many of them have arthritis and must stay warm, so it is necessary that they stay inside.

We had our Halloween party on Wednesday, Oct. 30, and everyone had a really good time. We played Bingo and several other games and everyone got to go fishing for prizes. Then we served refreshments to everyone. The aides enjoyed the party as much as the residents did. The rest home has been decorated for several weeks and we also had a very spooky ghost and some witches out in the yard. Some of the residents were a little bit afraid of the witches in the yard. When the wind blew, the ghost moved with the wind and residents weren't sure if he was real or not.

Our mobile dentist, Dr. McAdoo, was here last week with all the new dentures he has made for the residents. He goes all over the state to rest homes and makes it possible for everyone to have the dental care they need, even the ones that are not able to get to the dentist in town because of their condition. We are very glad to have Dr. McAdoo coming, as

Circle Four Has Meeting

Circle Four met Tuesday, November 12, at the home of Melba Barker.

The members made plans for renovating the church nursery by using funds from their recent donut and flavoring sales.

Circle Four will have the program for the General UMW meeting on Nov. 25.

Circle officers elected for 1986 were: Mrs. Nancy Paschall, president; Mrs. Judy Lewis, vice-president; Mrs. Paula Aycock, secretary; Mrs. Jane Jackson, treasurer and Mrs. Jeffrey Evans, "Sick and Cheer" chairman.

A program entitled "Thanksgiving and Gladness" was presented by Mrs. Kay Bennett.

The circle's Christmas party will be held during their Dec. 10 meeting at the home of Mrs. Aycock. Mrs. Evans will present the program.

Chinese cabbage, also known as celery cabbage, resembles romain lettuce. It can be used in a salad or served cooked.

all of the work is done right here on the premises.

We want to thank Jean and Robert Moore from Littleton for the nice load of clothes they brought to our residents. Thanks also to Audrey Hobgood for the things she brought. We want to thank Mrs. Henry Wiggins for the things she brought and Mrs. Beulah Hardy for the clothes and also for bringing small Testaments from the Gideons for our staff.

Birthdays for the month are: Thelma Collins, 2nd; Larry Burnette, 5th; John Simpson, 6th; Fletcher Harrison, 11th; Sarah Burchette and Edward Spence, 13th; Mark O'Neal, 15th; Jessie Richardson and Annie Clark, 23rd; John P. Davis, 27th; and Dora Collier, 28th. Our address is Rt. 1, Box 55, if any of you want to send a birthday card.

We want to thank Tom Young and his gospel group for coming on Saturday night to entertain the residents. Everyone really enjoyed them and we hope we can work out something for them to come every week.

Till next week, God bless.

Pearce Addresses History Body

By PAT BAKER
T. H. Pearce of Franklinton, author and noted historian, spoke to members of the Warren County Historical Association at their Nov. 12 meeting at Warren County Courthouse.

He addressed the importance of recording history accurately.

Pearce noted that while events in history cannot be changed or undone, historians can unfortunately change the way history is recorded. The deliberate omission of facts not to one's liking changes the recording of history, as does the unintentional human error.

Works of fiction, Pearce commented, also cause distortion of historical fact. Lack of research on the part of some fiction writers misleads readers into believing the events happened as portrayed.

For example, Pearce cited a recent television production in which a company of women were portrayed as seeing action during World War II as part of a helicopter unit. In fact, Pearce said, there were women in World War II, but few were in combat and helicopters were not used.

Pearce also cited instances where history has been changed under the guise of "poetic license." The majority of people today would believe that Miles Standish was a pilgrim, Pearce explained, when he was in fact a Catholic.

In closing, Pearce reminded members to be appreciative of efforts of past historians.

A question and answer session followed Pearce's comments.

Mrs. Nancy P. Blankenship, president, conducted the business meeting at which time reports were heard from various committees.

Correction
In the birth announcement for Erica Nicole Seaman in last week's Warren Record, the age of the infant's sister, Lisa, was incorrectly given.

Lisa is three and one-half years old.

The Warren Record regrets the error.
