Warren County High School vocational students are shown various equipment used in the Electrical Installation Program at Vance-Granville Community College. The activity was part of a week-long observance hosted by the college in celebration of National Vocational Education Week. Approximately 65 students from WCHS visited the campus to learn more about the college's vocational training programs.

WCHS Vocational Students Pay Vance-Granville Visit

Vocational education students from Warren County High School were among the participants in special activities hosted by Vance-Granville Community College during National Vocational Education Week, Feb. 9-15, according to Vera Gatano, publicity director for the college.

Coordinated by Sam Parsons, VGCC vocational counselor-recruiter, a series of demonstrations were arranged in each of the college's vocational areas. In these educational settings, VGCC students demonstrated skills acquired through a variety of occupational classes. At the same time, the visiting students learned the wide range of career choices offered through vocational training, Ms. Gatano said.

Parsons described the week-long activities as a cooperative effort between the college and area public schools to advance and broaden knowledge about vocational education and its role in the economic vitality of the community and state.

VGCC program areas which participated were automotive mechanics, cosmetology, electrical installation, heating and air conditioning, light construction and welding.

ABC Sales Figures Released

Warren County's three ABC stores produced sales of $528,021 during the last six months of 1985, according to figures quoted Monday by Macon Wemyss, county ABC supervisor.

The Warrenton store led in sales with $241,363, followed by Norlina with $189,434 and Littleton with $97,224.

Of the total sales, $90,821 was disbursed to the state for taxes and the county received two separate amounts: $14,127, or three and one-half percent of the profit; and $8,879.88, or five cents per bottle.

Wemyss noted that some of the funds will not be distributed until the end of the fiscal year in June, including: five percent of the net profit to law enforcement; seven percent to rehabilitation; 15 percent of the net profit from the Warrenton store to the town of Warrenton; and 15 percent from the Norlina store to the town of Norlina. The Littleton store, Wemyss noted, is outside the town limits and surplus from that store, along with any amount over the working capital of the county ABC program, will go to the county at the end of the fiscal year.
