

Hight Is Recipient Of State Leaf Award

Warren County native Peter T. Hight, associate agricultural extension agent in Lee County, is one of four agents in the state who received "Excellence in Tobacco" Extension awards at a luncheon at the North Carolina State University Faculty Club in Raleigh Thursday.

The awards were given under the joint sponsorship of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. and the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service.

Each agent received a plaque and $4,000 presented through the North Carolina Tobacco Foundation. The purpose of the program is to strengthen the incentives for county extension agents to provide the best possible service to farmers in their area.

Hight, 29, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hight of Macon.

He has been on the Lee County staff since 1980. A graduate of North Carolina State, he recently completed requirements there for a master of agriculture degree, which he will receive in May.

He utilized on-farm research and demonstration plots as the basis for his tobacco educational program. Eight farmers from various areas of the county have conducted 17 demonstrations. Tours of the plots are held each summer.

One of Hight's strongest points is his ability to communicate effectively with all clientele, according to program officials. He does this through farm visits, radio programs, news articles, newsletters, and conducting meetings.

Hight relies heavily on the advice of the County Tobacco Committee and the County Agriculture Program Committee to identify needs and opportunities.

Dr. William M. Hildebolt, vice president for research and development, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., told the luncheon group that the tobacco industry today is facing a period of change that requires growers to be better informed and more involved in solving their own problems.

"The need for rapid transfer of the best tobacco technology and for the development of leadership among tobacco growers is more urgent than ever before. County extension agents are the most important contributors to this end," Hildebolt said.

Dr. Chester D. Black, associate dean and director, N.C. Agricultural Extension Service, presented the agent awards and thanked Reynolds for its support of NCSU.

Since 1962, Black said, Reynolds has invested more than $3.5 million in tobacco agricultural programs at the university.

MRS. CHARLES GREGORY FLEMING

Miss Janet Lynn Tucker Weds Charles G. Fleming

Miss Janet Lynn Tucker and Charles Gregory Fleming, both of Littleton, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at Enterprise Baptist Church.

The Rev. Richard Dale Astle, assisted by the Rev. Ron Nida, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess L. Padgett of Rt. 2, Roanoke Rapids. She is a graduate of Northwest High School in Halifax County and of Roanoke Rapids Hair Styling Academy. She is employed as a licensed cosmetologist.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis P. Fleming of Rt. 3, Littleton. He is a graduate of Halifax Academy. He also graduated from Chowan College in Murfreesboro and received the bachelor's degree from Atlantic Christian College in Wilson. He plans to continue farming with his father at Sunny Acres.

Mrs. Ruby Dickerson, pianist, and Scott Sink, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her brother, Anthony David Tucker of Wilmington, and step-father, Jess L. Padgett, the bride wore a formal gown of bridal white silk taffeta with venise lace. The fitted bodice featured a portrait neckline, modified leg-o-mutton sleeves and basque waist. Venise lace motifs etched with seed pearls and sequins were lavishly applied on the bodice, sleeves and neckline. Chantilly lace ruffles accented the sleeves and waist. The floor-length skirt extended into a chapel train. Scattered venise lace motifs with pearls and sequins adorned the skirt and a chantilly lace ruffle bordered the hemline of the skirt and train. The bride's headpiece was a two-tiered veil of illusion with scalloped embroidery border, accented with scattered silk flowers and leaves centered with pearls, flowing from a wreath of orange blossoms and pearl sprays.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Ginger Love of Roanoke Rapids, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Nancy Thornton, sister of the groom, Ms. Carol Cotton and Mrs. Janice Spragin, all of Littleton, and Ms. Peggy Wheeler of Roanoke Rapids.

Alvis P. Fleming served as his son's best man. Groomsman were Ronnie West of Littleton, Neil Hughes of Chapel Hill and Travis White of Warrenton.

Mrs. Geraldine Spragins of Littleton served as mistress of ceremonies.

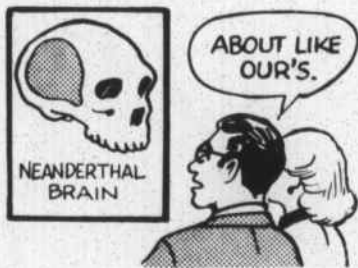

After a wedding trip to Florida and South Carolina, the couple will reside in Littleton.

Reception

The parents of the bride hosted a reception at Camp Willow Run following the wedding. Mrs. Lynn West presided at the guest register. Punch was poured by Mrs. Margaret Stevenson of Henderson and Mrs. Odell Wheless of Butner, both aunts of the bride. Cake was served by Mrs. Hilda Poythress, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Lisa Hester, cousin of the bride, both of Henderson. Others assisting in serving were Mrs. Teresa Tucker of Wilmington, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Debbie Frances of Roanoke Rapids, step-sister of the bride; Mrs. Paula Glover of Oxford, cousin of the bride; and Mrs. Bonnie Jenkins of Roanoke Rapids. Rice bags were distributed by Miss Jennifer Clausen of Henderson and Miss Mandy Padgett of Roanoke Rapids and good-byes were said to Mrs. Rozealyn Dunkley of Henderson, cousin of the bride.

Rehearsal Dinner

A rehearsal dinner was given in honor of the bride and groom on Friday, April 25, at Camp Willow Run. Hosts were the parents of the groom.
