

Sign-Up Period Begins

Farmers who want to bid to enter their highly erodible cropland into USDA's conservation reserve program may do so during the program's second signup period, May 5-16.

According to Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lying, producers will be offered the option to bid for conservation reserve program contract beginning with either the 1986 or 1987 crop year.

For contracts which are effective immediately, annual payments will be made beginning October 1, 1986. Producers cannot harvest any 1986 crop planted on land to be placed in the program. Any producer who has had or will have a crop mechanically removed from the designated area is ineligible for a 1986 contract.

For contracts which become effective on October 1, 1986 or later, producers will be allowed to harvest their 1986 crop, and no annual payments will be made before October 1, 1987.

USDA will establish maximum acceptable rental rates after the end of the signup and bid data have been evaluated.

Additional signup dates for the 1987 crop year will be announced later.

For the 1986 signup, designated cropland may be grazed until the Commodity Credit Corporation enters into a conservation reserve program contract with the producer and notifies him that livestock must be removed to comply with contract provisions.

Land that is designated for 1987 contracts may not be grazed after October 1, 1986.

Agricultural stabilization and conservation state committees may re-establish pool boundaries for the second signup period.

The only acreage limitation that applies for the second signup is that a maximum of 25 percent of the cropland in a county may be entered into the program.

During the first signup period, which ran March 3-15, 838,356 acres of highly erodible cropland were entered into the conservation reserve program. Accepted bids ranged from $5 to $90 per acre, and the average bid was $41.82 per acre.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WARREN COUNTY RESIDENTS

- Can you honestly say that you have felt safe in the last four years?
- Can you honestly say that you have noticed a change in hiring practices in the last four years?
- Can you honestly say that you have noticed equitable treatment over the last four years?
- Can you honestly say that those things that were promised four years ago have come to pass?

If you are among the small minority able to answer in the affirmative, then cast your vote to maintain the status quo. But, if you are ready for a change, consider the alternatives. Think for yourself. Support those candidates who are willing to think for themselves and support you. Support those candidates who respect both themselves and the citizens of Warren County. Support those candidates who are able to understand and to appreciate those who put them in office. Support those candidates with an undeniable history of meaningful support of their friends and constituencies. Support those candidates who understand the concept of fairness. Support those candidates who know what is in the best interest of Warren County. Support those candidates who will represent and support YOU. The time for change is now.
