Work Accepted For Raleigh Event

"Winston's Woods," a gouache and watercolor landscape painting by local artist Dianne T. Rodwell, has been accepted for the grand opening exhibition of Artspace in Raleigh.

Artspace, Inc., a non-profit arts organization, has brought together individuals, corporations, foundations and governments to establish a community arts center for visual and performing artists in downtown Raleigh.

The center occupies the former Sanders Ford building which has been completely renovated to include an exhibition gallery and a number of studios. A restaurant and live theater are also planned.

Mrs. Rodwell's entry is part of a juried exhibition entitled "New Work." All works in the exhibition are by Artspace artists and have not been shown before.

The public is invited to the grand opening celebration of Artspace on Saturday, Nov. 15, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. A ribbon cutting ceremony is scheduled for 11 a.m.

The grand opening celebration will afford opportunity to observe artists at work in the studios. Tours, performances, demonstrations and refreshments are included in the day's offerings.

The "New Work" exhibition will continue through Jan. 10.

In any two-week period of 1981, 56 percent of all American families had baked a pie, cake or cookies. By 1984, that figure had dropped to 41 percent, according to a survey by NPD Group, a marketing research firm.
