

Grid Practice Set

Football practice for the 1988-89 season will begin on Monday, Aug. 1, WCHS Eagle Varsity Coach John Coleman announced this week.

The practice, which will involve players on the varsity and junior varsity teams, will be held from 7-9 p.m. at Warren County High School.

Each player should dress in shorts and T-shirts, the coach said.

All players should also make certain that they have had a physical examination and the required form completed, Coach Coleman said. Players who have not received the forms may pick them up at the main office at the high school.

Local Students

Seen As Leaders

In Drug Fight

Three Warren County High School students attended the Student Athlete's Summer Institute (SASI) in Durham at the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics July 10-13.

Alfator Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Crawford of Rt. 2, Macon; Trina Alston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Alston of Rt. 3, Warrenton; and Anthony Simes, son of Ms. Mildred Simes of Warrenton, along with WCHS track and field coach Morton Jones, attended the three-day event which helped them to be leaders against drug abuse in Warren County. The program trained student athletes to act as peer drug educators.

Sponsored by the Alcohol and Drug Defense Program of Warren County Schools, the group increased their knowledge of drug abuse, health habits and self-esteem. Throughout the session, they formulated a working plan designed to prevent drug use among the students in the Warren County area.

While 14 high schools in Region III participated in SASI, the Durham county and city schools teamed together to provide the grant and plan for the session.

Saws Not Always

The Proper Tool

Dan Campeau of the Warren County Extension Office recently said that "we tend to think of a chain saw as a universal tool to use in the forest or even around the house. Folks tend to think of it as a big Swiss Army knife with a motor. But chain saws can be a real safety problem when they are used where another tool would be better.

We often try to get a particularly felled tree that is hung up in another tree down with a chain saw. Using a "pry bar" or "cant-hook" to move or roll the hung tree would be a lot safer and you reduce the chance of damaging your saw. Sometimes even shaking the tree will do the trick. But be careful, even these methods can be dangerous. The best tool is a "come-along" or winch to help you make the tree go where and when you want it to.

When felling trees with a chain saw, you should always keep one or more plastic or aluminum felling wedges with you. They're dirt cheap, no trouble to carry, and when teamed with the chain saw make the greatest tool combination since the knife and fork. Read your chain saw owners manual to see how to use a felling wedge when cutting standing timber.

Trying to prune a tree with a chain saw can damage the tree and you. Kickback injuries involving the head are common results of this malpractice. Always use a curved pruning saw or bow saw to prune the limbs off of your trees.

There is always a big temptation to use what you have in your hands to solve a problem that's different from the one you started with. When what's in your hands is a chain saw, put it down and think again.

Northside School

Unlawfully Entered

Unlawful entry has been reported at another Warren County public school this week.

Northside Elementary School in Norlina on Monday was found to have been vandalized by persons who had gained entry through a window at the back of the building.

The unknown person or persons entered the principal's office and teacher's lounge. About $5 in change was reported missing from a soda machine, a sheriff's spokesperson said.

Five Locals

Taste Defeat

Although "sadder, but wiser" following two recent losses, team spirit prevails among the members of the 1988 Franklin-Warren County Babe Ruth all-star baseball team, Roy Pat Robertson, assistant coach, said this week.

The team had travelled on Thursday, July 14 to Pine Level, where they squared off in first-round district tournament play against Garner-Apex.

The Franklin-Warren team was held to only three hits that night and lost with a final score of 12-1.

A similar defeat awaited the team last Saturday, July 16, when the Franklin-Warren players lost, 16-5, to the Garner-Apex League All-Stars.

Warren County's athletic prowess was well represented in the tournaments by Tionne Harrison, Ricky Branch, Yarborough Williams and Roy Robertson, Jr. An element of coaching savvy was also provided by Roy Pat Robertson, a team spokesperson said.

Camp Registration Set For Band Members

Registration for the Warren County Band Camp will be held at Warren County High School on Monday, July 25, from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.

The band camp, which will be conducted for two weeks by Stanley V. Baird, will include first-time beginning band, intermediate band, basic musicianship for advanced students, as well as baton twirling and flag fundamentals.

Parents who would like to rent or purchase instruments should contact Paul Northern at Bursage Music Company in Raleigh (1-800/662-7318) or Mrs. Pat Hill at Hill's Music Shoppe, Inc. in Henderson (1-492-4116).

The registration fee for the band camp, which will begin on July 25 and end on Aug. 5, is $10.

Thornburg Taps White

Attorney General Lacy Thornburg has announced that he named Charles White III as his Warren County Campaign Manager for his re-election campaign.

Presently serving his third term on the Warrenton Town Board, White, an attorney and farmer, was chief prosecutor for the Ninth Judicial District for two years and the District Attorney for the Ninth District for eight years. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and its School of Law and a Navy and Merchant Marine Veteran.

"It is an honor to have Charlie associated with my campaign," said Thornburg. "Campaigns are still won at the grassroots level, and it is encouraging to know that Warren County is in such good hands."

A former state legislator and Superior Court Judge for 16 years, Thornburg is the only North Carolina official who has held elected office in all three branches of state government. Thornburg was first elected as North Carolina's attorney general in 1984.
