

Daniel Steinert and members of the Northeast Piedmont have been busily at work in preparation for their Dec. 11 performance in Warrenton of Bach's "Magnificat." The concert will begin at 8 p.m. at Wesley Memorial United Methodist Church, where Steinert—director/founder of the Northeast Piedmont Chorale—serves as organist and choir director. Bach Performance Set

Schedule Includes Stop In Warrenton

Warrenton has been included on the concert schedule of the Northeast Piedmont Chorale, Daniel A. Steinert, director and founder, announced this week.

Bach's "Magnificat" and other Christmas music by composers from the Renaissance period, along with excerpts from Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors," will be performed at Wesley Memorial United Methodist Church on Sunday, Dec. 11, at 8 p.m. Tickets, available at $4 for adults and $2 for children, may be obtained for choir members or may be purchased at the door.

In addition to the Warrenton performance, the Northeast Piedmont Chorale will appear in concert on Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Franklinton High School Auditorium. Both performances are co-sponsored by Franklin County Community Schools and Wesley Memorial United Methodist Church.

Now in its second season, the group has grown from fewer than 30 members to over 40. They rehearse Sunday evenings in the Cockrell Music Wing recital hall on the Louisburg College campus. Invited to perform during the Spoleto Festival held in May in Charleston, S.C., the chorale has been reviewed favorably by The News and Observer and the Durham Morning Herald for their performances last year of Vivaldi's "Gloria."

For both "Magnificat" performances, the chorale will be joined by members of the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra and other area musicians, Steinert said.

Warren Student Is Given Honor

A student from Warren County, Jennifer Brayboy, is one of 29 Pembroke State University students named to the 1988-89 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

The students were selected as being among the nation's most outstanding campus leaders. Their names will be included in the annual directory which has been published each year since 1934.

Miss Brayboy, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Brayboy of Rt. 3, Warrenton, is a junior majoring in elementary education. She maintains a 3.7 grade-point average.

COG Directors Leave Unchanged Amount To Pay For Elderly Meals

The Kerr-Tar Region K Council of Governments (COG) board of directors meeting earlier this month declined to amend its budget to provide additional funds to Service America, the company providing meals for senior citizens in the five-county Region K area.

ServiceAmerica won the contract to serve the meals at senior centers in Franklin, Person, Vance, Granville and Warren counties during the current fiscal year by submitting the lowest bid for the services. But the vendor recently asked the COG for additional monies to operate the program for the remainder of the fiscal year. The request was for approximately $26,000.

Clark Joyner, Rocky Mount branch manager for ServiceAmerica, said recently that they did not initially seek additional funds. "We didn't request any funds," he said. "The Kerr-Tar people asked for the additional funds; we did not ask for monies."

"We requested that we be allowed to cancel our contract on several things, one the financial difficulty of operating the program and several other things. We told them 'we'd like to work with ya'll until a time you get somebody else in the program.' We were not going to pull the rug out from under everybody."

"Kerr-Tar came back to us and asked if we could get the additional funds would we consider staying on. We said 'sure, we would be willing to work out any situation we could.' Then we gave them the figures and they came back to us."

Joyner said that ServiceAmerica, with its main offices located in Stanford, Conn., is financially sound but that ServiceAmerica had encountered several problems in operating the Region K meals program.

"Utility costs are high and food costs are up drastically with the drought," he said. "Also, there was the volunteer mileage aspect. We had not included that in our bid process, and then we were not eligible to put it into the packet as far as those funds were concerned."

The latest development with ServiceAmerica has left many people who are involved in the program unsure what will happen next. ServiceAmerica's contract allows the vendor to pull out of the program after 15 days' notice. Should this occur, senior citizens in the five counties would be left without the weekday meals program until the bid process could be completed and a new vendor selected. This could take as long as 11 weeks.

Ridgeway Lucky Clovers Gather

By CYNTHIA PERSON
Club Secretary

The Ridgeway Lucky Clovers met recently to hear a presentation by Michael Riggins concerning drug abuse.

During the presentation, we learned that using drugs can become a bad habit. Many drugs are being distributed now and we should all be aware of them. Any substance that will cause you to be drowsy or dizzy should be considered as a drug.

Plans for the Christmas parade were made at the end of the presentation.

Frank Vaughan, a new member, was welcomed to the club.

Following adjournment by repeating the club motto, "Making The Best Better," refreshments were served.
