NEWSPAPER MAN IS ATTACKED BY A BULL

Robert Jordan, circulation manager of the Morning Journal, had a narrow escape this afternoon from being severely gored by an angry bull.

Mr. Jordan, who resides in East Winston, was returning to the office from dinner when he saw the "brute" that had him from being severely gored.

M. K. Roney, of Kernersville, had a narrow escape to the city. When he reached the corner of Maple and N. streets one of the animals, a bull, probably from a circus, threw buckets of water over him.

Mr. Jordan dodged the animal three times. Once the beast came within an inch or two of his side. Mr. Jordan finally fled to his home and the bull began to chase him.

CONFERENCE BETWEEN ANTHRACITE OPERATORS AND MINERS ON IN NEW YORK

However, It Is Not at All Probable That Any Agreement Will Be Reached—Miners Will Offer to Make Slight Concessions, But It Is Not Known Just How Far They Will Go in This.

New York, April 3.—Prospects for peace in the coal regions seem remote today and there is little likelihood that the joint conference of miners and operators, which meets at upon today, will result in the adjustment of differences unless the attitude of both sides undergoes a great change.

The operators this morning say they will not yield an inch in their position but are willing to sign agreement to continue operations under award of the anthracite commission for another term of years. The miners will absolutely refuse to enter into another agreement under the commission award but are willing to modify the original demands for the sake of peace.

This Was Taken in Valuables and Securities in a Systematic Way from Home of Dr. Josephus Pinuit in Minneapolis.—When Arraigned Defendant Told About the Theft and Gave Information as to Where Valuables and Securities Were Deposited.

New York, April 3.—Thos. J. Wainwright, accused of systematic robbery of the home of Dr. Josephus Pinuit, of Minneapolis, in which securities and valuables amounting to $150,000, are said to have been stolen, was arraigned this morning.

He admitted he was the man wanted. He explained that, since leaving Minneapolis, he had spent money lavishly, having brought a woman with him as far as Chicago where he left her. He gave officers three addresses of furnished apartments where a great deal of booty would be found. He told the magistrate that the bonds he stole, valued at $500,000, had been deposited in Corn Exchange Bank.

FREAK ITALIAN THIEF IMPOSES ON MANY

NAPLES, April 3.—The police of this city are looking for Giuseppe di Maggio, a freak possessed of two hearts, but, evidently, no conscience. Some time ago a medical institute of New York bought Maggio's body to be delivered after his death, for $8,000. With this money Maggio settled down in Naples and lived merrily on his capital, which was soon spent. He ingratiated himself into the favor of a wealthy landowner, whose sister he promised to marry. He pretended that he was to receive a large sum of money from America and supported his story with a fraudulent cablegram. On the strength of his story he borrowed money right and left, including his prospective brother-in-law and then skipped. A warrant is out for his arrest.

Workers In Lancashire, England, Cotton Mills Demand Increase in Wages.

If Five Per Cent Increase Is Not Allowed by End of Month These 250,000 Men Will Go On Strike.—Mill Owners Do Not Seem Disposed to Grant Demands.

LONDON, April 3.—A serious situation has developed in Lancashire as a result of the decision reached by 250,000 workers in the cotton mills to demand a five per cent increase of wages with the threat that unless it is granted they will strike at the end of the month.

Great consternation exists among the employers as a result of the stand taken by the employees. The mill owners declare that a strike will prove very disastrous. They have ordered on hand for goods that will keep the mills busy for many months but they declare the demands by the workers are excessive.

TROUBLE AT MINERS' MEETING AT PITTSBURG

PITTSBURG, April 3.—The convention of miners convened this morning, with both Patrick Dolan and Frank Feehan, newly elected district president, present and prepared to act as chairman.

Dolan attempted to call the delegates to order. Feehan, foreseeing a clash, declined to take the chair. Delegates elected S. A. Wetzel chairman against the protest of Dolan. Wetzel and Dolan each attempted to preside from different platforms. Wetzel had the largest following. There were cries of "Put Dolan out, he is a traitor." Wetzel finally adjourned the convention for an hour after Dolan refused to leave. The hall or be put out by the sergeant-at-arms. Wetzel said he would have Dolan removed by law.

The rupture is likely to develop into an open fight before the day is over.

GERMANY'S FRIENDLY NOTE TO ENGLAND

LONDON, April 3.—A correspondent of the Publishers' Press has been given to understand that messages of congratulations on the outcome of the Algeiras conference have been exchanged by Great Britain with France and Germany. The latter's reply is of more cordial nature than any communication which has passed between the nations for long time. This is taken to indicate the beginning of friendlier feeling between England and Germany.

RECORDS ARE BROKEN IN TARGET PRACTICE

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 3.—Letters from the Pacific squadron tell of some remarkable shooting done by crews of warships, which engaged in maneuvers at Magdalena Bay last month. Both torpedo boat destroyers Perry and Paul Jones, which are in class, competing for the president's gunnery trophy, broke all former records. One of the records smashed was that of the three-inch gun. J. Nelson, of the Paul Jones, made 11 hits out of possible 12.

Big Fight In The House of Representatives Today Over This Measure.

Louisiana And Mississippi Favor the Bill While Texas Is Against It—Bill Provides for $500,000 for Handling Epidemics.—Vote at Five, To Day—Senator Tillman Again Taunts Senator Scott.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The house was a scene today of hostilities between states of Mississippi and Louisiana on one hand and Texas on the other over national quarantine bill. The measure appropriates five hundred thousand dollars for suppressing epidemics and makes power of marine hospital service in establishing quarantine lines supreme over state authorities. Mississippi and Louisiana are for it. Texas is against it. The measure will be before the house and a vote will be taken at five this afternoon.

Tillman Again Taunts Scott. When Senator Tillman submitted in the senate this morning his daily communication relative to railway abuses Mr. Hale interrupted the reading. "I think the senator has gone overboard," he explained, in asking the South Carolina senator to forego reading of the letter. He had reference to the recent sarcastic challenge of Senator Scott that Tillman should keep the senate posted daily about railway abuses.

"This is flash light upon another phase of railway discrimination," replied Tillman. Hale withdrew his objection. The communication was from C. W. Eads, of Ballston, N. Y., who charged the D. & R. Railway with crowding him out of business; said that since the company had established a coal packer at that place he could not get coal from the company or have it shipped to him over their line.

"And I want to explain," said Tillman, "that this is a voice in the night appealing for help from the operations of one of five railroad corporations that have absolute control of anthracite coal productions."

Several of The Smaller Cases Have Been Disposed Of Thus Far.

Later in the Week Cases Against Hartman, Shore and Renegar, Yadin Distillers, and Casper Company of This City, Will Be Taken Up.

Special to The Sentinel. GREENSBORO, April 3.—Federal court is engaged in trying the typical moonshine cases so far. The bigger cases such as those against the Yadin and Rowan county government distillers and the big Casper Company of Winston will not be called before Friday. These cases are indictments found at the last term of the federal court at Asheville and will be strongly contested by able counsel.

In the John L. Casper case Messrs. W. P. Pynn and Clement Manly appear as counsel for the defendant. Mr. John T. Benbow will defend the case against I. C. Shore, C. A. Hartman and W. H. Renegar of Yadkin. There are several cases from Davidson county, all the defendants being represented by Messrs. John R. McCrary and Z. T. Walser, of Lexington. The only contested jury case this morning was where officers found a lot of meal hidden under some shooks in Tom Hathecock's barn, a still near by, the still worm hid out in some weeds near his house and a plain path leading from the house to the still three quarters of a mile distant. Lawyer Sapp from Asheboro handled the case for the defendant well. The jury returned a verdict not guilty.

In the case against Albert Ingram, of Davidson county, for blockading, no defense was offered but leniency asked. No sentence yet.

The trial of H. K. Grubb and Joan Grubb, of Davidson, for blockading, is now in progress.

FLOODS IN ALABAMA.

MOBILE, Ala., April 3.—The situation in the lowlands of the Alabama river and the Tombigbee river due to the overflow of the two rivers, grows worse daily. Steamboats have been compelled to discontinue service, landings for 150 miles above Mobile being under water. In addition to fuel is to be had in the inundated district. The flood already has reached proportions of the disastrous overflow of 1890 and now threatens to rival that of 1871, when the rivers reached stages never known to have been equalled before or since.

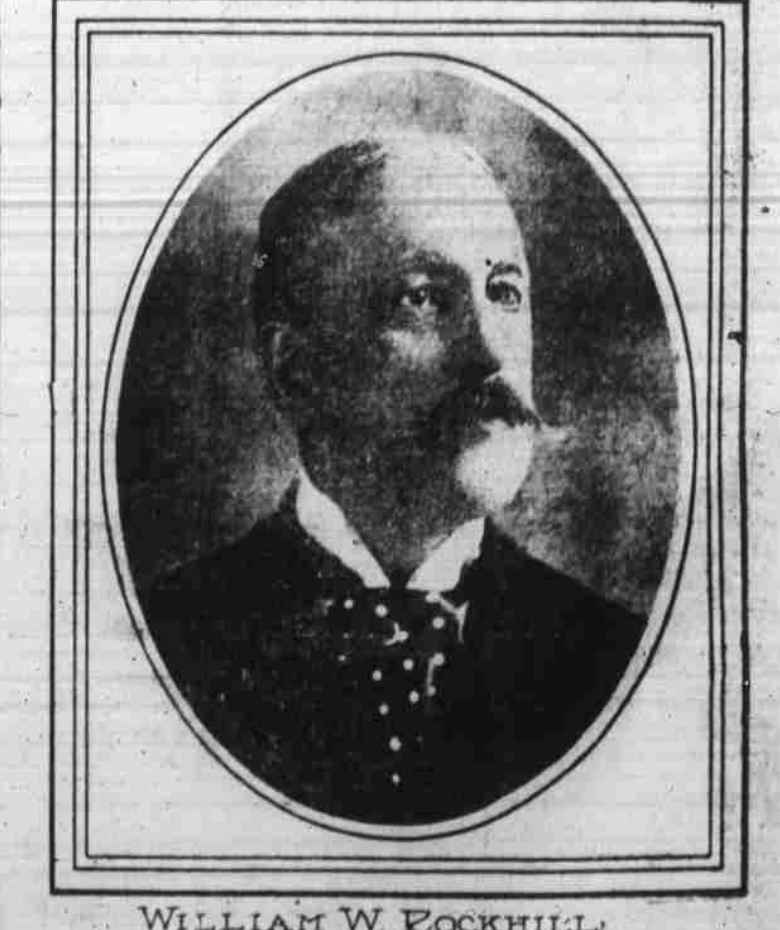

Cattle are starving, farmers are fast exhausting their supplies, and because of the severe change in the weather pneumonia has appeared among cattle and other live stock.

Dixie, Ala., over a hundred miles above Mobile, is under water several feet deep, with the water still rising. Since Saturday the overflow has extended about fifty miles.

Only one or two losses of human life have been reported so far.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. White, of Lumberton, who attended the funeral of Mr. White's brother, Walter White, held here Sunday afternoon, left this afternoon for home.

S. D. Kelly is slightly indisposed.
