TWO AMERICANS AND 15 MEXICANS KILLED.

By Wire To The Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A telegram to the war department, received this morning, from Major Watts, who is at Waco, Arizona with four troops of the Fifth cavalry, says: "My information as to the trouble at Cananea is as follows: Mexican employees of the Greene Copper Company struck for higher wages and went to the company's lumber yards at Trix to induce non-strikers to quit work. Two American brothers named Metcalf resented their action and shot and killed four or five Mexicans. The strikers then broke into a house and killed the two Metcalf brothers. The story of the Copper Company differs somewhat. They claim the trouble was due to labor agitators. The total casualties were two Americans and about fifteen Mexicans killed. Greene says Mexican troops there have everything well in hand and that no more disorder is expected."

GRADUATING EXERCISES AT CLEMMONS' SCHOOL.

Special to The Sentinel. CLEMMONS' SCHOOL, June 2.—The commencement exercises began on last Sunday at 11 a. m. by an inspiring and excellent sermon, preached by Dr. John H. Clewell, principal of Salem Female College. On Monday at 2:30 p. m., the class of this year presented a beautiful granite step to the front of Main Hall, followed by the presentation of three banners, one to Clemmons' School, one to the Lehman Literary Society and the third to the Websterian Literary Society. The one presented to the school was very happily received in appropriate talk by Prof. Mendenhall; the one to the Lehman Literary Society was received by the president of the Society, Miss Bertha Hall. The one to the Websterian Literary Society was received by Mr. Harry Kilbuck, the secretary of the Websterian Literary Society. Both their respective speeches were very fine. Rev. James E. Hall, the principal of the school, made talks on the presentation of these banners in the name of the school in earnest and well-chosen words. Then the students faculty and visitors formed into a procession and marched through the village giving the different school yells. On Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. took place the annual concert. This consisted of anthems, vocal solos, instrumental solos, duets, trios and sextets, a short play and two recitations. The audience was large and showed by its frequent encores that they thoroughly enjoyed the program. A small admission fee was charged, yet there was a crowded house. On Wednesday at 10 a. m. the commencement day proper took place. First came the graduating exercises by seven essays, produced by members of the class, interspersed by music by pupils of the music class. The essays were of a specially high order and showed painstaking endeavor on the part of the graduates, and thorough instruction in English by the Headmaster, Prof. E. P. Mendenhall. At 2 p. m. the large audience assembled to hear the literary address by Prof. M. C. S. Noble, of the University of North Carolina. Before he began his address, a beautiful anthem, the Miller's Woe, was sung by some fifty voices. Prof. Noble's address was well received and applauded by his appreciative audience. Rt. Rev. Edward Routhaler then in a most enthusiastic vein presented the diplomas to the graduates, giving excellent advice to the class. Three medals were then presented by Rev. John F. McColston. The Volger Scholarship medal was awarded Miss Fannie Sprinkle for having made the highest average of anyone in the senior class for the whole year. One medal to the beginners in music who made most progress during the year and one to the advanced pupils who did likewise were also presented. Miss Addie Spang received the beginners' medal and Miss Stella Hester the one in the advanced class. Mr. McColston's presentation speech was very good and was quite appropriate to the occasion. The entire afternoon program was made interesting by several pieces of music. This ended the most successful school year in the six which have passed in the history of this excellent institution. Clemmons' School has had four States, Virginia, Kentucky, Kansas and North Carolina, represented in its student body this year. Eight counties in our State have furnished pupils. Surry, Stokes, Yadkin, Wilkes, Davie, Davidson, Rowan and Forsyth. Most of the students have returned to their homes and it seems quiet now on Clemmons' Hill. Several visitors have been here during the commencement and some are still here. The dormitories and homes were taxed to accommodate the friends of the institution. Misses Elizabeth Fletcher and Mabelle Sharp, who have been visiting relatives and friends in Kernersville for about two weeks, have returned home.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

Trouble In Ohio Coal Fields Results In a Pitched Battle Early Today.

The Trouble Arose Over Effort of Mine Owners to Import Non-Union Workmen.—The Non-Union Men Have Fied.—Authorities Have Situation in Hand.

By Wire To The Sentinel. STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, June 4.—As a result of a pitched battle between guards and a mob of four hundred striking miners at Plum River mine, the trouble here was reported today. The trouble is said to have started over an attempt of the coal company to import non-union men to the mine under the cover of darkness. The sheriff at 4 o'clock this morning made a demand for state troops. The adjutant general has ordered the mobilization of several companies. The guards, who were outnumbered, were compelled to retreat into the mines so that the exact numbers of casualties is not yet learned. Later reports from the mining district say the shooting has ceased but that both strikers and guards are on picket and that at a moment's notice either side appears ready for the battle to be resumed. Sheriff Vorhees went to the scene after sending word to the adjutant general to be ready with troops. It is not thought troops will be needed, although there is much excitement. Another fusillade took place at Glenn's Run mine No. 2 last night between the striking miners and guards. Superintendent Young, of Cleveland, was wounded. Nearly seventy-five shots were fired. All men imported to the mines have fled.

SPECIAL ELECTION IN LEWISVILLE TOWNSHIP.

At the meeting of the county commissioners today a petition was presented from the required number of voters asking the board to order an election in district No. 1, Lewisville township, for the purpose of voting on the proposition of levying a special tax (20 cents on the poll and 60 cents on $100 property valuation) to supplement the regular school tax in that district. The election was ordered to be held on Thursday, July 21. A jury for July term of court was drawn and a number of claims were allowed by the board.

State's Chief Executive Confined To His Bed and Had Considerable Fever. His Physician Says Capt. Glenn May Be Able to Be in His Office Tomorrow, But Must Cancel Out-of-Town Engagements.—Chairman Adams in Raleigh.

Special to The Sentinel. RALEIGH, June 4.—Republican State Chairman Spencer B. Adams is in the city from Greensboro this morning to lay before Governor Glenn evidence in support of petitions he has filed for the pardon of revenue officers Geo. W. Samuels and J. W. Hasty, under sentence of three and six months respectively, in Wilkes county jail for overpowering and cowardly Editor Deal, of the Wilkesboro Chronicle, because of charges the editor had printed against their official conduct. Owing to sickness of the governor the hearing was postponed until June 7 and a respite until June 15 granted. Governor Glenn was confined to his bed all of yesterday and had considerable fever. He is sitting up today but is unable to be in his office. His physician told him he would probably be out tomorrow but it would be necessary most probably for him to cancel most of his engagements out of the city for some time to come.
