SAT ON TELEGRAPH POLE. Robert Wolfe Defied Arrest But the Constable Went Up the Pole And Got Him.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 10 .-erched seventy five feet in the air on op of a telegraph pole, Robert Wolf. years old, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who as wanted in that city to answer a narge of abandoning his 18-year-old ife, defied Constable "Tim" McCarby to "come up" and arrest him, in Vindsor Locks, a few miles from here-McCarthy went up and ecently. Volf was taken to Prooklyn tonight. Wolf was working for the Windsor ocks Electric Lightning Company hen McCarthy learned where he as. The constable saw him at work with a band of men, and started to-ward him. Wolf broke into a run for he telegraph pole and reached it as he constable grabbed him, and, as had climbers on his feet, he went p the pole. But he left part of his hirt in the constable's grasp.

Reaching the top Wolf perched him elf on a crosstree, lighted a cigarette nd invited Constable "Tim" up, say-"The air up here is fine and

McCarthy tried twice to manipulate today to see his brother, who is quite a pair of climbers and nearly broke bis neck in two thirty foot tumbles but at the third attempt he reached Wolf

"Very good, so far, but how are you going to get me down?" asked Wolf. "Throw you down," said Constable 'Tim'

"Start right in. I've got as good a chance of giving you a bad tumble," was Wolf's reply.

Then followed a game of walt, with of her son-in-law, P. E. Allen, at Hotel Wolf smoking on one crosstree and the constable swearing on another Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Holbrook went to Wrightsville today to spend a week or more. The news spread fast, and several hundred persons arrived to see the fun and give advice. The two aloft Miss Mary Cromer returned this argued for two hours, and men with cameras took views to, perpetuate the memory of the arrest. Finally, at 5 o'clock, Wolf said it was time for supper and he would descend.

Weary and sore the two men de-scended to the ground. Then the con-stable had revenge, for he hurried his Day, has returned home. J. S. Cri and J. L. Cautrill came in his afternoon from a business trip Wolf. Constable "Tim" shook his fist at Wolf as he was led away and B. F. Huntley and family returned Wolf retorted by advising him to ge
