INQUIRY FROM KANSAS

(Special to The Sentinel.)
RALEIGH, Aug. 24.—State Superintendent of Public Instruction Joyner received this morning a remarkable letter of inquiry from the superintendent of public instruction of Kansas.

SITUATION IN CUBA IS GROWING
MORE SERIOUS ALL THE WHILE

IT IS QUITE POSSIBLE THAT THE UNITED STATES
WILL HAVE TO INTERVENE YET.

Although State Department Officials Do Not Seem To Regard Situation As Extremely Grave There Are Indications That This Country May Be Compelled To Take A Hand If Revolutionary Disturbances Are Not Promptly Checked--Insurgent Leader Ready for Attack On Pinar del Rio--Will Advance on Havana Later.

(By Publishers' Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Despite the efforts of the state department to belittle the present Cuban trouble the situation is considered exceedingly grave by high government officials and the probability of intervention by this country is being discussed at length today.

Up to an early hour no request had been received by the state department for assistance. It was reported in diplomatic circles here last night that Palma had sent a hurry message to Washington, asking that a couple of batteries of artillery manned by regulars be dispatched at once to Havana but this is denied this morning.

HAVANA, Aug. 24.—This city is today anxiously awaiting news from Pinar Del Rio. Word was brought

COMING SEASON AT ELKS' AUDITORIUM

Everything would seem to indicate that the coming theatrical season here is going to be an unusually successful one. It is quite certain that more really good attractions will be presented at the Elks' Auditorium than ever before.

Of last year's favorites several will return. Louis James, who gave such a superb presentation of "Virginius," will appear here this season as Falstaff in "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

Among the attractions that were not here last year may be mentioned "Wonderland" with Mary Marble and "Little Child" on the stage.

James O'Neill, who scored such a hit in Monte Cristo, will not be here this year as he has returned to England for the season.

Murray and Mack will be here September 5 and "Wonderland" September 9. Other attractions include Miss Adelaide Thurston, "Sergeant Kitty" and "The Sultan of Sulu."

"Paris by Night," which comes to the Elks' Auditorium Thursday, September 13th, for one night, has one of the most unique characters now very well known, namely, he of the push cart, the banana man, Mr. Shady.

"Paris by Night" is a musical comedy and has a large company of comedians. A beautiful song number, assisted by the large chorus, is the "Belle of the Boulevard," and the finest costume number ever introduced upon any stage is the Spanish spectacular of the legendary days of Spanish knighthood.

FRICITION IN ARMY.

Remarks of General Greeley Construed As Being Aimed at Funston.

Although No Personal Ill Feeling is Known to Exist Between the Two Generals Statements of Greeley Relative to San Francisco Disaster Are Believed to Give Evidence of Friction.

(By Publishers' Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—It is the army to have a Sampson-Schaley controversy? General Greeley's criticisms of the army system whereby division and department commanders are given jurisdiction over same territory have occasioned considerable friction.

On the day of the earthquake General Greeley was speeding toward Washington on leave to attend the wedding of his daughter. He was in the vicinity of Chicago when he heard of the disaster and at once wired the war department he would return to San Francisco immediately.

ACCUSED OF STEALING
$125 FROM RELATIVE

A negro named Tom Starr is in the city lock-up awaiting the arrival of an officer from Davie county. Starr was arrested late last night. He is wanted in Mocksville to answer the charge of stealing $125 from Allen Brown, grandfather of Starr's wife.

Starr says that he had been working at Hotel Phoenix for two months; that he went to Charlotte a few days ago to attend the funeral of his sister. He admitted, however, that he dodged the officers at the union passenger station here and that he left his trunk, fearing arrest if he should attempt to have it checked.

MAY BE A JOINT CANVASS IN FORSYTH

Will the Republicans of Forsyth agree to a joint canvass of the county this year?

The Democrats are always anxious and several members of opposition have expressed themselves as favoring a joint campaign with the Democrats.

For several years Republicans have preferred "going it alone." Their plea was that they preferred to practice "bush-whacking" tactics. Having lost out in this, there are at least a few Republicans who say that their candidates must meet their opponents on the stump this fall.

The Socialists have a county ticket and it is quite likely that they will ask for a "division of time" in the canvass.

The canvass will not open until Sheriff Alspaugh starts on his tax collecting round. This will be about the 12th of October. The Democrats will accompany him and if the Republicans consent to a joint canvass it will be entirely satisfactory to their opponents.

The Republicans will hold their county convention one week from next Saturday. The bosses have not decided yet upon all of the candidates they want nominated.

NON-PARTISAN PLAN OF CHOOSING JUDGES

(Special to The Sentinel.)
NEW YORK, August 23.—Judicial candidates, chosen without regard to their political service, influence, or the campaign contributions they are able or willing to make, are offered to the voters of New York county this fall.

A committee of thirty-five lawyers, with Hon. Joseph H. Choate as chairman, and Alton B. Parker as vice chairman, have selected a ticket including ten candidates for justices of the Supreme Court, two for the Court of General Sessions, and a candidate for Surrogate.

The ticket has already received the approval of over 1,700 members of the New York bar, and will cut an important figure in the fall election.

The Judiciary Nominators, the name adopted by the Choate committee, have opened headquarters and are proceeding actively with the work of placing their candidates in nomination by petition. The committee has acted in response to a general demand from lawyers and the public generally for judicial candidates of proven ability and independence, who would be free from obligations or connections that might interfere with impartial and efficient administration of justice. This is their ticket:

For Justices of the Supreme Court:
Edward S. Clineh, Theodore Connolly, Lewis L. DeLafield, John Frankenhelmer, Leonard H. Maesten, Samuel H. Ordway, Charles E. Rushmore, Lawrence E. Saxton, Edward B. Whitney.
For Surrogate: Frank T. Fitzgerald.
General Sessions: Rufus B. Cowling and William E. Wyatt.

Ever since Richard Croker testified before the Murer committee that Tammany expected judges nominated and elected by it to favor the "organization" whenever they could do so, there has been a growing belief that something should be done to remove the choice of judges from political control. The discovery that heavy campaign contributions had come to be almost a condition precedent to nomination for judicial positions by the regular parties, strengthened this belief.

Then came the plan of the Judiciary nominators to choose candidates by a sort of referendum of lawyers and citizens in general without regard to party.

The lead of the Judiciary nominators is being followed in several other cities. Movements are on foot in Brooklyn, Buffalo, Pittsburg and Chicago. A citizens' committee of one hundred is making up a ticket in Brooklyn, suggestions as to the best men being welcomed from all quarters. The experience of Buffalo shows how easy it is for an independent movement of this kind to be swamped up by the politicians. The Bar Association there had the choice of nominees in hand to start with, but the movement was soon captured by men whose party allegiance was stronger than their desire to further absolute independence of judiciary nominations.

Anticipating such a possibility in New York, the Choate committee has kept free from any organization through which its actions might be controlled or influenced.

TWO NEGRO WOMEN HAD STOLEN SHOES

(Special to The Sentinel.)
GREENSBORO, Aug. 23.—As the result of a shrewd piece of detective work of Chief Police Neelley and his men, Daisy Gibson and Fannie Tatum, two negro women, are in jail charged with breaking into the store of the Ward Shoe Company and stealing a number of shoes and postage stamps to the value of a dollar or more. The clue on which the officers started was rather unusual. One of the women left one of her shoes near the store. An officer remembered having seen Daisy Gibson wearing the same shoe when a witness in mayor's court only a short time before. The officers saw her on the streets only a short time afterwards and she wore a new pair of shoes. She and Fannie Tatum were arrested. Their rooms were searched and fifteen pairs of shoes found. The women will be given a hearing in mayor's court this afternoon. The Gibson woman has confessed, implicating the other.

Misses Myrtle and Sallie Griffith left this afternoon for Clemmons to visit their grand-father.

EDUCATOR IS WAGING
WAR ON "BOOK TRUST"

(By Publishers' Press.)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 24.—W. H. Elson, superintendent of schools in this city, has been doing some "trust busting" of special interest to school boards, as well as parents and school children all over the country.

The subject of his efforts is the price of text books. From school superintendents in all large cities he obtained price paid for books by each and found they were lower than Cleveland had been paying, especially in many western cities where price is as much as twenty-five per cent less than here.

He figures that even young pupils would call this discrimination. He so told book company representatives whom city this week asked for bids for book supply. He then gave companies some information, which was that the trust now sells books to San Francisco, New Orleans, Chicago, Boston and other cities for so many cents and said to them: "In the past you have charged this city more than this price. In some instances you do not make your price above the low price quoted." The result is being watched by school superintendents in many cities.

LIBERAL RESPONSES TO CAMPAIGN CALL

(By Publishers' Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Even newspaper men are contributing their little one dollar bills to the Democratic congressional committee. That old saw about impetuosity of the craft is being relegated to the scrap heap of exploded superstition. A short time ago Secretary Charles Edwards, of the committee, began to enlist Democratic newspaper editors all over the country in the campaign for cash. He sent them printed appeals for one dollar contributions with request that it be published; also request for list of not less than twenty Democrats in their respective localities who might be expected to readily contribute a dollar each. Replies to these letters are now coming in and surprisingly enough many of the letters, besides list of names, contain enclosures of dollar bills.
