IS SUING GREENSBORO FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

IS SUING GREENSBORO FOR $10,000 DAMAGES. (Special to The Sentinel.) GREENSBORO, Oct. 27.—James T. West, who conducted a business popularly known as the "curker's establishment" here for a few months after prohibition went into effect here nearly two years ago, has brought suit against the city of Greensboro for $10,000 damages for interference on the part of the city by passing an ordinance prohibiting the operation of the business, and as a result of which twenty-one warrants against him were issued. He has retained as his counsel, Colonel John A. Barringer.

Owing to the unusual character of the case it has attracted a great deal of attention here. In the spring of 1905, just after Greensboro's prohibitory law went into effect, Mr. West fitted up his place in East Second street, and announced that he was ready to serve the public. He proposed to serve soft drinks, etc., and in addition to this fitted up lockers where drinks could be kept cool for the owner. A person renting a locker carried the key, and when he desired a drink he came and secured it if he desired he could have Mr. West to mix the drink, he furnishing the whiskey and Mr. West the other ingredients at a nominal sum.

Many people became his patrons and it is said that he did an "unraveling good business." But not long after he opened the place the board of aldermen, at the request of numerous citizens, passed an ordinance prohibiting such business in the city. Mr. West was arrested, tried before the mayor and fined. All of the cases were carried to court on appeal, and there were never heard.

GREENSBORO, Oct. 27.—Members of the two local lodges of Odd Fellows are preparing to entertain representatives from all the lodges of this district who will be here to attend the first quarterly meeting November 12 and 14. The counties embraced in this district are Randolph, Guilford, Rockingham and Caswell. There are several lodges in this district and each is entitled to two delegates. In addition to this others will attend as visitors while prominent Odd Fellows from all over the State are expected to attend. Delegations from Alameda, Forsyth and Davidson counties are expected.

W. D. Jennings, a young white man, was arrested at the White Oak Mills yesterday morning on a warrant sworn out by F. M. Farr, of Charlotte, who alleges that the man had stolen a large amount of goods from his store in the Queen City. Chief of Police Neeley carried the man to Charlotte, where he will be given a hearing.

TERMS OF SEPARATION OF THE MARLBOROUGHS

TERMS OF SEPARATION OF THE MARLBOROUGHS. LONDON, Oct. 27.—The deed of separation between the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, signed October 23, is on ground of incompatibility of temper. By its provision the Duchess settles $100,000 a year on the Duke. He gets Blenheim and the Duchess is precluded from going there but Sunderland House in London and her own dower go to her, and she is to have custody of the children. The Duchess is now at Sunderland House but it is understood she will go to America shortly for a long visit.

MAN WHO KILLED HIMSELF IDENTIFIED

MAN WHO KILLED HIMSELF IDENTIFIED. NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—A man who shot and killed a woman at Hotel Marlborough last night and then killed himself was positively identified this morning as L. G. Hampton, secretary of the United States Trust Company. The woman was identified as Victoria Teakow, who was head saleslady of a department store. Hampton leaves a widow and two children. A heart-shaped locket, engraved "Atlanta 1904," was found among the woman's effects.

RUSSIAN REBELS WRECK A CUSTOMS HOUSE

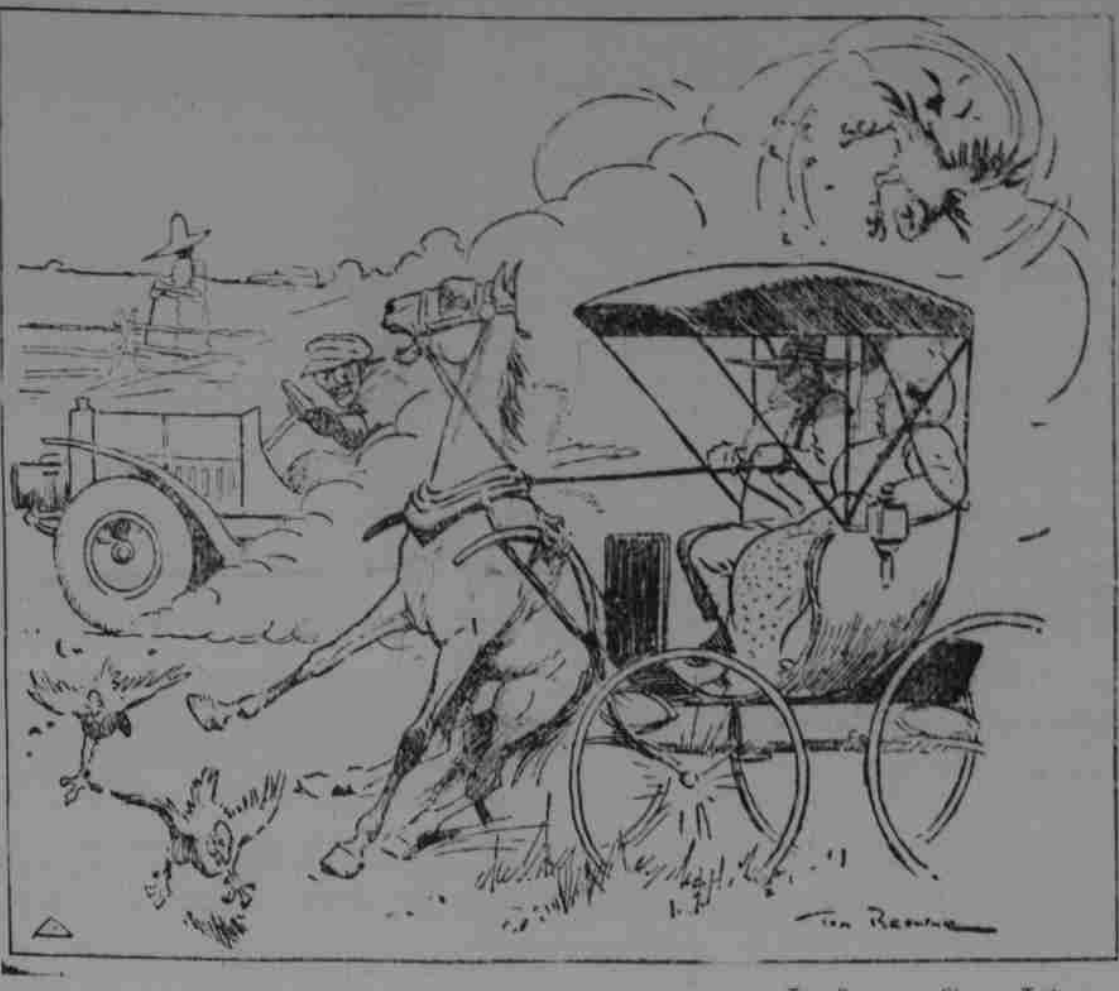

RUSSIAN REBELS WRECK A CUSTOMS HOUSE. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 27.—In a bold raid today on customs houses in which they employed a bomb to aid them in wrecking the place, revolutionists made away with $200,000 worth of goods. A bomb was thrown at the cashier, but he escaped injury. Ten others were mortally wounded in the confusion. The robbers got away with the money.

DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY MEET

DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY MEET. An unusually large number of the members of the Daughters of the Confederacy were present at yesterday afternoon in the Ellis' parlors to do honor to the memory of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, who will always be enshrined in the hearts of ever loyal Southerners. While the heroic deeds of our noble men, who paired out their blood as freely for their country's cause, is being now given fairly recognition, how much of their heroism was due to a heroic woman, who suffered, prayed, worked and suffered at home, will never be known.

Before holding the memorial service the business of the meeting was transacted. Among other things, the following delegates to the National Convention were elected: Mesdames H. L. Riggins, H. Montague and A. H. Kiler. The convention meets November 14 at Guilford, Miss.

The ladies, feeling the great benefit to be derived from a systematic study of the Civil War, will, in addition to the musical program as previously prepared, answer by roll call in reciting principal battles, generals, etc., who figured in these battles.

Mrs. Bruce Carter and Mrs. W. H. Barham were enrolled as new members. There is most beautiful memorial service was held in honor of Mrs. Jefferson Davis. The following were present: Mesdames Y. H. Kiler, W. T. Brown and John Young. Miss Young acted as a reader of Mrs. Davis.

Following are the resolutions adopted:

M. P. Revival Continues. There were 20,000 people at the North First Presbyterian church last night. Rev. Mr. Benson, who has been preaching the revival, will be continuing his services at the usual hour tonight.

Miss Sallie Nading will be walking down the aisle at 8:00 o'clock.

ASSISTANT STAMP CLERK NOT NAMED

ASSISTANT STAMP CLERK NOT NAMED. It has been more than a week since Mr. J. F. Reynolds, Republican candidate for Clerk of the Superior Court, sent in his resignation as revenue stamp clerk here. Collector George H. Brown came here last Saturday and transferred the office to Mr. Harry E. Nissen, who was named as Mr. Reynolds' successor. Mr. Nissen had been assistant to Mr. Reynolds for about eight years. His successor is not yet known and the delay in the appointment is causing speculation among the politicians. The position pays $1,000 a year, and it has been predicted that one of the clerks in the Collector's office at Asheville will be transferred here. However, Mr. L. M. Gordon, ex-registrar of deeds of Stokes county, who is now a resident of this city, recently stood a civil service examination and passed, making the highest average in the class. His friends are "pulling" for him, and are expecting him to get the plum. If an appointment is not made before election there will be a good reason for believing that there is a string attached to Mr. Reynolds' resignation which has been claimed.

DISPUTE BETWEEN U. S. AND JAPAN

DISPUTE BETWEEN U. S. AND JAPAN. (By Publishers' Press.) LONDON, Oct. 27.—So serious is the dispute which has arisen between the United States and Japan because of recent events in Japan at discriminating against Japanese children in schools of San Francisco it is reported in England that the matter will be made the subject of inquiry in parliament Monday.

ACCUSED OF TAKING $250 FROM A FRIEND

ACCUSED OF TAKING $250 FROM A FRIEND. L. M. Blalock was arrested and committed to jail here last night on the charge of taking $250 from T. W. Mechem, of Davie county. This morning Blalock confessed to the officers that he got the money, stating that most of it was hidden near the public road in Walkertown. Jailer Hanner accompanied Blalock to that place this morning, but the money was not found.

There is evidence that Blalock and Mechem were drinking when the money was taken. They were in Walkertown and Mechem alleges that he was asleep in his wagon when Blalock took the $250 out of his pocket. When arrested the latter had about $45. Blalock's father arrived here this afternoon and the matter may be adjusted. Mechem is inclined to believe that Blalock would not have taken his money, had he been sober. Mechem does not want to prosecute his friend and agrees not to appear against him if the $250 is refunded, which will probably be done.

HASTENS TO BEDSIDE OF HER SICK FIANCE

HASTENS TO BEDSIDE OF HER SICK FIANCE. (By Publishers' Press.) Norvell, Mass., Oct. 27.—Miss Lucretia M. Early, aged 59, and niece of the famous Confederate general Early, is speeding from Lebanon, Pa., to Norvell today as fast as the swift train can carry her to reach the bedside of Benj. J. Prentiss, 78 years old, whom she is engaged to wed and who is seriously ill. Prentiss is a veteran of the civil war. After years of single life he had a desire to have a home of his own and last winter while reading a western paper saw advertisements for a correspondence club. A correspondence with Miss Early ensued and she came to Norvell. An engagement promptly followed. Miss Early had gone home to settle affairs before returning to Norvell to be married when her fiancé became dangerously ill and she was married.

—There have been about sixty professions at Elm Street chapel since the meeting began three two weeks ago. Mrs. Guerrah, of Danville, Va., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. Clay Lillie, at the Presbyterian house.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS FOR M'IVER MONUMENT

APPEAL FOR FUNDS FOR M'IVER MONUMENT. To the Business Men of North Carolina: We, the undersigned, having been appointed to solicit subscriptions from the business men to erect a monument to the memory of Dr. Chas. D. Melver, avail ourselves of the kindness of the press of the State to call the attention of the entire public to this worthy cause. We do not feel that it is necessary to make any argument or to state any reasons why every man in North Carolina who is able to do so should subscribe to this fund. We wish you to think over the matter for yourselves, making the great and unparalleled work accomplished by Dr. Melver for the people of the entire State, and then act in this matter according to your own wishes and inclinations. We know that it cannot be otherwise but that every citizen of the State who is able to contribute will gladly do so. Any subscription can be sent to Dr. J. E. Brooks, Greensboro, N. C., treasurer of this committee. W. H. Osborn, chairman; Chas. H. Stidman, J. E. Brooks, Chas. H. Ireland, J. W. Scott, J. D. Helms, A. M. Seales, committee.

Scaffold and Ten Men Fall.

Scaffold and Ten Men Fall. A scaffold with ten men on the second floor of the new Master building on East Fourth street gave way this afternoon and fell a distance of ten feet. The injured are F. M. Kimmel, of West Salem, who was painfully hurt by falling on a plank containing several large nails, and J. L. Hauser, who was painfully hurt, sustaining several ugly scars on the side of his head. Struggle to say the cloth others were unhurt with the exception of a considerable jar by the fall. The men, when the scaffold fell, were putting up metal ceiling.

An invitation. You are cordially invited to attend the Young Men's Party, to be given by the young ladies of the First Baptist church at the home of Mrs. J. J. Rodden on Holly avenue, between the hours of 4 and 10, on the evening of October 31st. Oysters, ice cream, candies, etc. Everybody welcome.
