DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO CONTINUE INVESTIGATION

District Attorney Holton came in from Charlotte this morning to continue his investigation in reference to the matter of preventing cotton mill men of that section on a charge of bringing English employes into this country contrary to the alien labor contract laws.

A special from Charlotte says: "The district attorney has been ordered to bring suit against the mill men as a result of the special investigation held in Charlotte the past month by Mr. McLaughlin, of the conditions and circumstances surrounding the importation of mill hands. The cotton mill men will be able to secure a hearing at almost any time before the Attorney General of the United States or before the head of the Immigration Bureau in reference to their side of the matter."

"Whether any indictments will be brought on the matter really gets into the courts. Mr. Holton refrained from saying. He is here under instructions from Washington to look into the case against the mill men. If an indictment is made out against any of the manufacturers it will have to come of course through the grand jury."

"There is a strong feeling among the manufacturers that they ought to be given a hearing before the matter goes any further, and this they will no doubt secure if it is demanded."

STATEHOOD ELECTION BEING HELD TODAY

ARIZONA CITY, Nov. 6.—Today the proposition of uniting the territories of New Mexico and Arizona into one State, as provided for by the bill passed at the last session of Congress, will be submitted to the popular vote and the general opinion prevails here that it will be voted down ten to one. Both parties are declaring against it so Arizona will remain a territory until it can become a State in itself. The principal objection to the scheme is that New Mexico is composed of and controlled by Mexicans. In Arizona a Mexican gets to show. Arizona is all vacating by leaps and bounds and is purely American, hence the objection to the unannihilation.

Mrs. Thomas Newlin earnestly urged the need of earnest cooperation in the Sunday school work.

Mrs. Preyer urged the necessity of more subscribers to the White Ribbon, and in order to put it on a more lasting basis, that more subscribers be secured. Letter of greeting was read from the national president.

This a very beautiful and appropriate memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Woody. Two national and five State members had been called to the foreward.

Mrs. McWilliams, from Pennsylvania, then presented her work, and recommended that angel bands and radio clubs be organized among the young people.

In the intermission a most elegant and beautiful dinner was most beautifully served in the annex of the church.

This afternoon a very pleasant trolley ride was tendered the ladies of the convention.

Monday Night. Rev. G. H. Detwiler, D. D., of Greensboro, pastor of West Market M. E. church, preached on last evening the annual sermon before the W. C. T. U. Convention at Centenary M. E. church. Dr. Detwiler's most excellent sermon, or address as he called it, was taken from II Kings 6:16.

"Fear not, for they that be with us are more than they that be with them." Starting with a brief outline of the temperance organization thirty years ago, he showed what rapid strides had been made along all lines, how temperance advocates had gained what they hardly dared to hope for in these earlier days. He then gave a brief history of what the white ribboners had had to contend with and what they had accomplished. What forces are against us? First, appetite. Here he entered fully into the results of heredity, showing that scientific knowledge and religion were the only certain cure for this disease. Second, love of greed. Here he told how the business man's commercial interest influenced him to cast his vote on the side of the liquor traffic. He then took up the three forces that are for temperance.

1. The physical force—that intelligent knowledge that deals with the effect of alcohol on the human system. He urged the establishment of hospitals to cure the unfortunate of their weakness.

2. The legal force. He showed how step by step there had come better legislation, till now the question was what is the best method of control? "We must Christianize the golden rule and protect the weak. What we want is annihilation of the liquor traffic."

The third and most powerful force was the moral force, that force that controls the will power. To produce the best results the intellectual, legal and moral forces must unite. He said the high tension at which we are living, going constantly beyond one's strength, etc., were the transient causes for a great deal of the abnormal conditions now existing and the increase of intemperance. With his prophetic eye, he foresaw that in ten years all will be swept aside, and the temperance movement would gain the victory for home and Christ.

Yesterday Afternoon. A yesterday afternoon's session of the W. C. T. U. convention Mrs. Curtis made an earnest plea for Union Signal, White Ribbon and other W. C. T. U. papers.

Mrs. White read minutes of the executive committee, also of previous meetings.

Vice President—Mrs. Cartland. Recording Secretary—Mrs. Mary Wade, Guilford College. Corresponding Secretary—Miss Nettie Johnson, High Point. Treasurer—Mrs. J. V. Preyer, Greensboro.

10TH ANNIVERSARY

Christ Moravian Church and Sunday School Hold Appropriate Services.

Anniversary Announced By Boys' Band—Rally by Sunday School—Address by Mr. Geo. P. Pell—Love-feast—Sermon by Bishop Rondthaler.

The services incident to the tenth anniversary of Christ Moravian Church were largely attended on Sunday.

The day was ideal and members and friends of the congregation took advantage of the delightful weather conditions and turned out in large numbers.

At 9:30 a. m. the Salem Boys' Band announced the anniversary by playing of well-known Moravian chorals and at 10 o'clock the church was filled with the members of the Sunday school and their friends for the rally day exercises by the school. These were of an unusually bright and interesting character. Special rally-day songs were sung and one splendid chorus by male voices alone. Ten little girls in white, each carrying the stars and stripes, executed a beautiful flag drill and interpreted the colors of the flag to mean love, purity and fidelity.

Mr. George P. Pell, assistant superintendent of Centenary M. E. Sunday school, made the address of the occasion and delighted his many hearers with his apt illustrations and practical views of religious things.

The report of the year showed that the Sunday school out of a total of 251 enrolled members had had an average attendance of a little more than 180, while the collections for the year amounted to $149.94.

The anniversary lovefeast at three o'clock was attended by more than 200 persons, and was the largest love feast ever held in this church. The large choir under the skillful leadership of Mrs. Kenneth Pfohl, rendered beautiful anthems. Brief addresses were made by Rev. J. F. Kirk, pastor of Grace and Southside Methodist churches and by Bishop Rondthaler.

At the communion which followed the lovefeast, six persons were received into the church membership, five by the rite of baptism and one by confirmation.

At 7:29 the church was again filled for the closing service of the day. The sermon, a strong, practical one, was preached by Bishop Rondthaler, from the daily text of the Moravian church for the day, "The kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost," Rom. 14:17. The special music at this closing service was rendered by a female chorus of thirteen voices and their last selection "Bavior Breathe an Evening Blessing," rendered with fine expression, was a fitting close to a day of joyous, spiritual services.

Last night there was a church social for the young people of the congregation in the rear rooms of the church. About fifty young people were present and an enjoyable evening was spent. During the evening steps were taken to organize a young people's society for definite Christian work.

All in all the anniversary exercises were the best held in recent years and the visitor could not but be impressed with the spirit of loyalty and enthusiasm of the members.

Reports received from the county districts in Forsyth are to the effect that a light vote is being polled.

Joseph B. Foraker, SENATOR FROM OHIO.

Edward F. Dunne, MAYOR OF CHICAGO.
