NEW DORMITORY FOR THE CLEMMONS SCHOOL

Rev. J. E. Hall, principal of the Clemmons School, was in the city today and reported that the commencement exercises this week were the best in the history of the institution. The enrollment of students the past session numbered 152. The trustees have decided to build a dormitory this summer for small boys, the management deciding to make a specialty of boarding students of this class. Principal Hall says the prospects for the next term are decidedly encouraging. He already has the promise of several small boys from Winston-Salem. The negotiations looking to the conversion of the Clemmons School into a county high school have been declared off, as the trustees find that they have not the authority to transfer the property and management to the State or county. It is thought now that the county school board will establish two high schools, one at Lewisville and the other at Walkertown.

ROAST FOR WINSTON BALL TEAM

Made Only One Run on Error in Game With Mt. Airy.

The Mt. Airy Leader deals out a roast for the Winston boys who went to the Granite City last Saturday to play ball with the "Champions" of that town. Here is the Leader's report of the so-called contest: "Five hundred people went out to the furniture factory grounds last Saturday afternoon to witness a game of the national sport that was decidedly the 'worst ever,' for there had come to this city a crowd of boys purporting to hail from Winston-Salem, and whose purpose it was to play baseball against the strong Mt. Airy team. The home team had been strengthened by adding two new players, Messrs. Fraser and Horan, and the public expected a good game, but it was soon demonstrated that the home team had been marked for a trip to the mountains by a crowd of fakirs who knew nothing about the game. Nine innings were played and not one of the Winston crowd reached their base until the last inning, when Dobbys, for the home team, threw the ball away and gave the visitors a chance to score. The home team was in fine form and made twenty-nine runs, which could easily have been made twenty-nine hundred. The home team has gone to considerable expense to get together a team that is a credit to any city and it plays good ball, and while they did not do it, it would have been nothing amiss had they allowed that Winston crowd to go hungry while here and walk home after the so-called game."

A captain of the imperial army said to the Publishers' Press today: "We received no word of any uprising, and certainly would if the revolt were serious. It is easy to see that the revolt is among thieves, robbers and nomadic people living in the mountainous portion of Kwantung province but there is no sympathy among the people in general. Newspaper reports are not causing us the least worry. The government is not unpopular in China and there is no reason to believe this uprising will prove a serious matter."

The twelve men then returned to their room for further consideration of the case. A report was current about nine o'clock last night that the jury was divided 7 to 5, the majority being for acquittal.
