The tragedy occurred this morning at 7 o'clock, when James Ray shot and instantly killed John Adams. The fatal shooting occurred at the store of Anderson Bros. at Ivey, eighteen or twenty miles from Marshall, and full particulars of the bloody affair were unobtainable. It seems, however, that an old grudge had existed between Ray and Adams for a number of years, and that when the men met this morning the old sore was opened with the result that Ray drew his pistol and fired twice at Adams. Both shots took effect and Adams fell dead. Ray made his escape and up to this afternoon had not been captured.

"Appoint picket and finance committees at once and be ready to obey orders on short notice. Save money for emergency."

The Greeks telegraphed that the Roanoke police were unable to cope with the situation and afford them protection from the rioters.

2 MORE AGENTS TO STAND TRIAL

Indictments Against Southern Ticket Agents at Cary and Auburn Returned Today.

No Warrants Have Yet Been Issued For Any of the Agents Indicted by the Wake Grand Jury—State Will Fight the Cases To a Finish.

RALEIGH, July 16.—Two more agents of the Southern Railway were indicted today by the grand jury, those at Cary and Auburn, in this county.

The employment by Governor Glenn of such lawyers as Aycock, Justice and Ryan to assist Solicitor Jones here shows the state means business. Warrants have not yet been served on any of the indicted men.

LATER—AGENT GREEN ARRAIGNED.

Agent Green, of the Southern, was Arraigned this Afternoon and appeared before Judge Long in Wake court. On motion to set the case for tomorrow further proceedings were postponed.

BIG ELK REUNION.

Present Occasion the Most Successful in History of the Order.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 16.—The Elks are having a big time here today. The reunion is said by all to be the best in the history of the order.

Each of the Elks has a distinctive way of letting the public know just where he is from. The Colorado delegation took particular pains to enlighten people of the east as to the power of western lunks, and their yell could be heard for blocks. At least fifty beautiful women accompanied the delegation. The men were dressed as cowboys and attracted great attention. The Cripple Creek delegation has 170 burros on the way here and will ride them in the parade. The burros will be decorated with Elk horns.

The lodge from El Paso brought along its splendid Mexican band. New Orleans is 190 strong and has many "Southern Beauties" with it. The delegations are all here, very happy, very noisy and very much bent on winking up Philadelphia.

The city is fully prepared to take care of the host of visitors. There are mountains of food, and quantity of limes, lemons and eggs for the favorite Elk drink. The hostesses will be crowded, of course, even ball-rooms being pressed into service, and the local lodge members feel a sort of well-merited satisfaction in the preparation to entertain.

The city was never more gaily decorated. Electric light and flag displays with Elk emblems cover the front of the buildings, and everywhere there is evidence of the feeling of hospitality.

The rivalry between boomers of candidates for various offices in the grand lodge has become intensified, with every indication that there will be a number of warm contests when the election of officers is held. Many wires have been pulled by the supporters of those who have already entered the field as candidates, and already the monster conclave of Elks has assumed many of the aspects of a huge political throng. But the different contestants will only do battle with one another in the good-natured fraternal spirit that is so characteristic of their order.

The most interesting thing being taken in the selection of the grand exalted ruler, the highest office in the order John K. Tener, of Sharlotet, Pa., a bank president, newspaper man and ball player, is already regarded as certain to be elected to that coveted office.

DEAD BODY FOUND.

Tragedy With Which the Black-Hand is Believed to Have Been Connected.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The failure of Wm. H. Wines to pay a ransom of $3,000, it is believed, has resulted in the murder of his aged father, Wm. D. Wines, the wealthy contractor whose body was found today in Mount Kisco woods. The elder Wines went to Mount Kisco on a visit and disappeared July 2. Wm. H. Wines received a black-hand letter Sunday demanding $3,000. Wines gave the letter to a detective and a decoy envelope was placed as demanded in the letter. No one called and it is supposed the frightened kidnappers killed the old man.

Miss Eva Roberts is spending some time with relatives at Stoneville and Leaksville.

TO INVESTIGATE FATAL EXPLOSION

Board of Inquiry Ordered to Determine Cause of Accident on Battleship Georgia.

Explosion Yesterday Afternoon That Caused Death of Eight and Injury of Many Others To Be Carefully Considered With View of Determining Responsibility.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—A board of investigation has been ordered to inquire into explosion on the battleship Georgia, by which eight were killed and many injured yesterday afternoon in Massachusetts Bay. The navy department here understands that the cause assigned is that a charge of powder in an eight-inch gun in the turret ignited.

Three More Die.

BOSTON, July 16.—Three more men have died today in Chelsea Hospital as a result of the explosion on the battleship Georgia last evening.

The Georgia returned to practice grounds off Provincetown last night, leaving the wounded in hospitals here. The battleship was damaged little, the only injury being in the turret.

The official board of inquiry will be hampered by the fact that all near the bag of powder when ignited are dead.

Midshipman Lucien Frank Kimball, who probably owes his life to chief yeoman Island, tells the following story of the accident: "We were 22 in the turret when it happened. A projectile had just been rammed into port of eight-inch gun and the powder charge had come up of the carriage in two bags of 52 pounds each. Seaman Thomas lifted one of the bags and was about to pass it to the loader. I was facing aft, close to the turret. Hissing began, then there was a puff of air on my back and then all flames. I could hear men screaming and gasping for breath. Finally they began beating out the flames with their clothes. They gilled up in smoldering heaps, three or four on top of each other."

TOLSTOI REPORTED DEAD.

However, Report is Denied by the Reuter Telegram Company.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 16.—A message from Moscow this morning announced the death of Count Tolstoy, Russia's "Grand Old Man," in whose death the people of Russia lose their greatest champion in the world of letters. He was 79 years old.

CITY OF ROANOKE TO PAY DAMAGES

Greek Consul at Washington To Investigate Assault Made on His People in Roanoke, Va.

Parties arriving here from Roanoke report that there has been no trouble in that city since early Sunday when an American mob played smash with the fifteen Greek restaurants and shoe shine parlors.

For some time the police were unable to cope with the mob. Several arrests were made and the defendants were given a hearing today. The Greek consul at Washington is expected to arrive in Roanoke today or tomorrow to investigate the trouble Saturday night and Sunday, which originated over a misunderstanding in the price of a lunch served by a Greek to a citizen of Roanoke.

Capt. Phillips, conductor for the N. & W., who resides in Roanoke, says it is understood that the city will pay the Greeks and the owners of the property occupied by them all damages done by the mob.

SUNDAY DRINKS.

Question is Being Agitated on All Sides in Charlotte.

CHARLOTTE, July 16.—The question of closing the soda fountains, the cigar stands, and similar institutions in the Sabbath day is causing much talk in the city. Many of the citizens of the town have been heard to express themselves on the question. Many are for opening up the town, throwing off all restrictions on selling soft drinks and cigars. There are others that are in favor of the same rules and regulations that are in existence at the present, with the same enforcement of the law that has held in the past. Still others are for rigid enforcement of the present law.

CASE IS CONTINUED.

Col. Rodman is To Arrive in Asheville Tomorrow.

ASHEVILLE, July 16.—The case against the railway agents in the police court was continued until the arrival of Col. Rodman, counsel for the Southern, tomorrow.

Mrs. D. Rich returned this afternoon from a visit to her mother, Mrs. Watkins, at Clemmons.

R. B. HORN COMPANY IS NOW TURNING OUT LARGE QUANTITIES OF CANDY EVERY DAY

New Concern is Making All Grades of the Confection. The Best Retailing at Eighty Cents a Pound.

The R. B. Horn Company already has in hand orders enough to keep their candy manufacturing department busy for three months.

The manufacture of the cheaper grades of candy was commenced the first of July. Commencing tomorrow, chocolates and bonbons will be added to the plant's product, and the highest grade of this confection will retail at eighty cents per pound.

To Be Attractively Packed.

Mr. Horn kindly explained many points in detail to a reporter this morning. The boxes to be used in packing the chocolates and bonbons are indeed neat and attractive. Boxes will be used, labeled "Bonbons," "Chocolates," "Bonbons and Chocolates," etc., according to the contents. The lettering is embossed in gold and under the word on each box appears the legend, "Made in Winston." The lettering appears in the center of the box cover, which is original in design. The five-pound box is especially worthy of mention, for its beauty. The boxes for the various other kinds of the high-grade product are also handsome.

On one of the boxes, designed especially for college girls, is a picture of the student in cap and gown. Under the picture appears the following: "Made in Winston for maids everywhere."

Uncle Sam—Gee! It's getting so I can't turn around without that fellow waving that scarecrow.
