That is the Way Twin-City Pythians Think About It.

Present Conditions Do Not Justify the Establishment of Such an Institution in North Carolina This Year—Joint Celebration by Four Local Lodges Largely Attended And Greatly Enjoyed.

Present conditions do not justify the establishment of an orphanage in North Carolina by the grand lodge of Pythians, but when they do the institution can and will be forthcoming.

This was the sentiment unanimously expressed by the representatives of Damon, Salem, Wachovia and Forsyth lodges at the anniversary celebration held in Damon castle hall last night.

The joint meeting of the four lodges last night was attended by about 125 members and the occasion was one of interest and enjoyment.

Chancellor Commander Geo. R. Green presided during the business session of Damon lodge, while Mr. A. B. Byrum occupied the chair during the anniversary exercises.

Mr. B. S. Womble made the opening address, his subject being the "Origin and Purpose of the Order." He spoke instructively and entertainingly and his message was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by all who heard him.

Mayor F. H. Vogler, of Salem lodge, led the discussion on the orphanage question. He favored the establishment of such an institution when conditions justify it, but he did not believe that the time was ripe for the grand lodge to assume such an expense just at this time, as there are only about twelve or fifteen K. of P. orphans in the state now and these have been provided with good homes and are being educated.

Mayor O. B. Eaton was spokesman for Damon lodge, Rev. E. E. Williamson for Wachovia, and Grand Chancellor for Forsyth. With Mayor Vogler, they agreed that the orphanage should be established, but they did not believe present conditions justified such action this year.

State Grand Chancellor W. C. Crist was admitted with the honors of the order during the discussion of the orphanage question. The grand chancellor made an inspiring address on the life and character of Justice Rathbone, founder of Pythianism. He also spoke of the growth of the order in North Carolina, saying that an active campaign is being waged to reach the ten thousand mark by the next meeting of the grand lodge.

There are 163 lodges in the state and with an accession of six members to each the goal will be reached. The speaker reported that at Fletcher, a small village, 65 of the 67 male citizens are Pythians. He confessed that this lodge did not have the material to secure the six members desired. The grand chancellor urged every member present to do his duty by living and working for the principles of the order.

Encouraging talks were made by C. E. Crist, E. A. Ebert and others. The entertainment committee served oranges, apples, bananas and cigars, and the Pythians dispersed declaring the anniversary celebration to be both enjoyable and profitable.

The colored teachers of Forsyth county met in their fourth quarterly meeting at 1 o'clock today in the court house.

"Difficulties in Teaching, Reading and how to Overcome Them," and "How to Teach Children Language" were the principal subjects discussed. Prof. C. G. O'Kelley, of the Slater School, was the leader in the discussions. Among the others who took part were F. M. Fitch, J. J. Jones, Ora E. Jones, J. A. Lowe and J. C. Williamson. The meeting was very interesting to all present.

The association is arranging to hold educational meetings in different parts of the county during the summer, to formulate plans to lengthen the school terms for the next year.

New York Governor Is Very Popular Out There

He Speaks of Chicago Today And Much Interest Is Being Manifested by Republicans—Receiving Many Invitations From Nearby Towns for Speeches.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 22.—Governor Hughes, of New York, addressed the Union League Club meeting in commemoration of Washington's birthday today. He declared himself in favor of governmental policy that would prevent discriminating rate allowances, which precludes equal access to markets for all members of industry, and against crushing smaller industry by misuse of large aggregations of capital and unfair competition. He declared fines upon corporations, particularly upon large corporations with monopolistic powers, unjust because they are easily transferred upon the public or upon stockholders.

The local committee has received communications from scores of western cities asking that Governor Hughes be urged to extend his trip.

The great desire shown by Republicans in the West to see and hear him is considered one of the most significant phases in the presidential situation. Requests for the Governor's presence in Western States have been coming in ever since the adjournment of the legislative session last summer, when it was thought he would be at leisure to travel. But it was not until he had delivered his address on national issues before the Republican Club in New York that the pressure became really great. That address before the Republican Club met with a most gratifying reception all over the country, but nowhere more so than from the Republicans of the Middle West. The newspapers in all this great section of the country gave up an unexpectedly large amount of space to it, and the comments both by the newspaper press and by individual Republicans have been complimentary to a degree.

Steamer Afire Near the Mouth of the Mississippi

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 22.—Lack of news from the Morgan coastwise steamer Conus, which left Wednesday for New York has caused fear here that she is the steamer reported afire off the mouth of the Mississippi by the British steamer Greystone Castle. The fate of the vessel is unknown. Captain Lewis, of the Greystone Castle, reported that flames shooting from the vessel could be sighted at a considerable distance. He ran toward the steamer to offer assistance, but she steamed away toward the Florida Straits. Lewis could not make out the vessel's name.

Jim Smith Bound Over to the Charge of Murder.

Jim Smith, of Smithtown, who has been in Forsyth county jail since last Saturday night, was escorted to Greensboro on the early morning train by Deputy Marshal Carroll, where he was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner J. M. Wolfe on the charge of conspiracy to obstruct the process of the law, and in furtherance of such conspiracy Deputy Collector J. W. Hendrix was killed on December 20.

Eight or ten witnesses were examined for the prosecution, but the counsel for the defendant decided not to offer any testimony.

Smith was bound over to the next term of the federal court, to be held in Greensboro in April. Commissioner Wolf stated that he would announce the amount of the bond to be required this evening or Monday. It will probably not be less than $5,000. District Attorney Holton is counseling that it be a justified bond.

The principal witness against Smith was the wife of Oscar Sisk, who arrived in Greensboro yesterday. She claims to be an eye-witness to the tragedy, and said emphatically that Smith fired the shot that killed Hendrix. Her husband, Oscar Sisk, is in jail at Greensboro and will likely be charged with complicity in the murder. It is believed by some people that Sisk is the one who did the killing, and that he and his wife are trying to saddle the crime on Smith in order to clear their own skirts.

Revenue officers have been in the Smithtown section this week, evidently looking for testimony against the supposed murdered Officer Hendrix. Those examined today, besides his wife, were all relatives of Sisk, uncles, nephews, cousins, etc.

William Spencer, a relative of Smith, testified that Smith came to his house after Hendricks was shot and that Jim was told that he was accused of shooting the revenue officer, that Smith declared with emphasis that "I wish I may die and go to hell if I shot him." Spencer also stated that Smith had a pistol at the time and that he took several blank cartridges out of it.

The Vanderbilt Lines Give Assurance to Employees.

Believed That Proposed Reduction in Wages on All Railroads Will Not Come, as Several Big Roads Are Opposed to It—However, Some Roads Will Probably Order a Reduction in Wages.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—As a result of a meeting here to consider reports that a general cut in wages was threatened among the railroad employees, members of a committee of thirteen, representing the various railway brotherhoods, are greatly encouraged. When they leave here they expect to bear assurance to members of the various unions that on a great majority of the railroads, at least, no reductions are to be feared.

In addition to the declaration made to the committee by President Newman, of the New York Central, that no reductions are contemplated on the Vanderbilt system, it is intimated today that assurances have been given the committee by heads of other eastern roads that a similar policy will be maintained.

Southern Holds Conference. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—The conference as to wage adjustment between Vice-President and General Manager Aekert, of the Southern Railway, and representatives of locomotive engineers was resumed today, and a general conference was held with a committee representing the conductors and trainmen.

The proposition made to these classes of employees is substantially the same as that made to the machinists and other shopmen, which is to the effect that in view of the condition of business and the falling off in traffic, the lower scale of wages in effect a year ago shall be restored.

No definite action has been reached and a further conference will be held tomorrow.

Senator Fulton Makes Reply to His Accusers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Denouncing Francis J. Henry and the men associated with him as "a desperate gang of conspirators" to injure his name and reputation and declaring their only motive is "revenge and politics," United States Senator Fulton, of Oregon, has prepared a rebuttal reply to the charges that have been made against him by Henry. With characteristic straight forwardness Fulton meets every charge and his statement will contain letters and documents to sustain his contentions. The reply will be printed in full in Sunday morning's papers in Portland.

Mrs. R. V. Swan and children arrived this afternoon from Waynesville. They will be here about two months on a visit to Mr. Swan.
