

MAILING LETTERS TO DAIRYMEN AND CATTLE-RAISERS

County Demonstrator Bruce Anderson is mailing out to dairymen, and others in the county interested in cattle raising either for dairying or beef purposes, a letter calling attention to the meeting of the North Carolina Live Stock Association, which is to be held at Salisbury next month.

All cattle and swine breeders are invited to attend the meeting. A cured meat contest, similar to the one conducted last year, will be a feature of the sessions this year. Important lectures will be delivered by representatives from Washington and also from the State Department.

Mr. Anderson desires to get in touch with all farmers or live-stock men and hog breeders, and also any one who desires to take up raising beef cattle. He is especially anxious to communicate with any who desire to purchase pure bred cattle under the direction of the department of agriculture, as the time is near in which to have breeders ship the desired stock to Salisbury.

Mr. Anderson's letter follows:

Dear Sir: Do you wish to secure one or more head of purebred dairy cattle? The North Carolina Dairymen's Association will conduct at their annual meeting in Salisbury, January 25-29, 1916, a sale of dairy cattle. These cattle will come from reliable breeders of milk producing herds. Very possibly you will realize the value of purebred animals. If so, you have the chance to secure what you want near at home and see them before buying.

While some dairy cows are as good or better milkers than some that are registered, there is no doubt pure bred cows from reliable herds are a good business asset beyond the milk given. The strain now must pass and the demand for purebred animals will not be satisfied for a long time. You had better help satisfy this demand under no circumstances can you afford to use a scrub or grade bull as he has not, as the purebred has, the power of transmitting to his progeny the desirable qualities of his ancestors. Then in breeding purebred cattle or merit you can get a deeper satisfaction out of your business than when you milk a scrub, bound for the slaughter house before the end of the year.

During this Dairy Association meeting at Salisbury very interesting lectures and demonstrations will be given. These will repay your attendance. This agent will go and will be glad to have any dairymen or farmers attend also.

Should you wish to consult me before deciding to purchase, I shall be glad to visit your farm.

If you wish to secure a pure bred

CHEERFUL WOMEN

Dependancy is a thing of evil origin and evil results. Worry produces nothing but wrinkles and wretchedness. Let the reader put up a little note on her bureau, on her desk, and at the head of her bed, just two words, DON'T WORRY. Worry is the greatest foe to the happiness of any household. An anxious, dependent face, a fretful, complaining voice, will make every one uncomfortable.

A woman's nerves are more truly the cause of worry than outside troubles. The nerves are of a woman's body the telegraph system, which surely warns her of any trouble in the feminine make-up.

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made with glycerine, entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured over ninety per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that would make it easily procurable.

Women are earnestly advised to take it for irregular or painful periods, headache, displacement, catarrhal condition, hot flashes, sallow complexion and nervousness.

For girls about to enter womanhood, women about to become mothers, and for the declining days of middle age Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription should always be on hand. In liquid or tablet form.

Write Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for free 156 page book on woman's diseases. Every woman should have one.

Put CRISCO to this Test

A severe test for any shortening is its use in hot bread. Make some Crisco biscuit; they are delicate—in looks, odor and taste. They are light and daintily brown. Break one open and you will be delighted with the appetizing aroma, free from any suggestion of lard. They are just as wholesome and digestible as their delicacy promises.

You will find equally as attractive points about Crisco in other branches of cooking. For instance, you can fry without smoke and odor. You can use the same Crisco for frying all manner of foods and all will have a new wholesomeness. You can make a light rich cake with Crisco which will keep fresh and moist longer.

Below is a good biscuit recipe, or you may use your own favorite recipe by using from 1/2 to 1/4 less Crisco than you would of lard. Note how Crisco stands the test.

Baking Powder Biscuits: 2 cupfuls flour, 2 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1 teaspoonful salt, 2 tablespoonfuls Crisco, 1/2 cupful milk.

Mix together the dry ingredients. Mix thoroughly with the Crisco, using a knife or spoon, and add gradually the milk, mixing with a knife to a soft dough. Toss on floured board, pat and roll to desired thickness. Shape with a biscuit cutter, place on a floured tin and bake in a hot oven 12 or 15 minutes.

STARTED WITH SEVEN COWS; MADE FORTUNE

An El Paso (Tex.) dispatch to the Philadelphia North American says: Wert Love, who has died at Warfa, started as a cowboy, without even a horse that he could call his own, and became a millionaire owner of vast herds and a ranch that was a domain within itself.

A resident of West Texas since 1885, Wert Love was known to every cowman from Fort Worth to El Paso. He had his peculiar characteristics, and thrift was one of them. But while he was frugal he never allowed a genuine case of distress to go unrelieved.

When other cowboys were drawing their wages in gold back in the eighties, and riding to El Paso or San Antonio to spend the money in riotous living or over the gaming table, Wert Love was putting his earnings into cows. His start was seven cows. At his death he could not have counted all the cattle in his herd if he had ridden hard for a month at the task.

His first work after coming West was for Jim Powell, a cousin, near Fort Davis. He was a mere boy, and received but $2 a month and his board. He refused to take any money except that necessary to buy his clothes, which were few, and asked to be paid in cows.

A DISHEARTENING PROSPECT. (Lord Roschbery.) I know nothing more disheartening than the announcement recently made that the United States—the one great country left in the world free from the hideous, bloody burden of war—is about to embark upon the building of a huge armada destined to be equal or second to our own. It means that the burden will continue upon the other nations, and be increased exactly in proportion to the fleet of the United States. I confess that it is a disheartening prospect that the United States, so remote from the European conflict, should voluntarily in these days take up the burden, which, after this war, will be found to have broken, or almost broken, our backs.

RAILROADS AND LEGISLATION.

(James J. Hill.) The railroad is the least common multiple of all national industry. Its expansion is an indispensable condition of growth. Like every other activity in the world requiring the investment of capital, it not only will not grow, it will contract if laws and regulations prevent it from earning a reasonable profit. If the railroad had existed at the time our constitution was framed, there is little doubt that the States would have been forbidden to legislate concerning it, exactly as they were to tax imports. As in the case of the tariff, the regulation of railroads should be in the hands of an expert nonpartisan commission, on which both they and the public should have fair representation, with power to act subject only to review by the courts.

COACH DISGUISED AS WATER BOY ON FIELD.

All kinds of schemes have been devised by coaches to get instructions to their players during games, and here's one that cops the prize.

In a game between the high school teams of Reading and Norristown, Pa., this season, the Norristown player, especially the captain, seemed unusually thirsty and were continually calling the water boy.

"Doc" Bunting, interested in the Reading team, noticed the water boy seemed to do a lot of talking to the captain each time he went on to the field. He moved around so he could get a good look at the boy.

PSALM OF WAR.

The War Lord is my shepherd; I shall always be in want. He maketh me to lie down in mean trenches; he leadeth me into chill waters. He harasseth my soul; he leadeth me into hellish combat for his fame's sake.

Yea, tho' I come unscathed from the shadow of death, I shall be no better off, for thou art still with me; thy tyranny and thy taxes discomfort me. Thou prearest danger for me in the presence of so-called enemies; thou maketh me useless toil; my cup runneth empty. Surely evil and hatred will follow me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the army of the War Lord forever.—Ellis O. Jones, in Life.

Believes Earth Flat, Fined.

Chardon, (Ohio), dispatch Philadelphia North American.—Despite the fact that her sect believes the world to be flat, Mary Miller, a Middlefield Amish Girl, must go to school and learn the contrary.

This was the decision of Justice Bridgen at Middlefield after a bitterly fought suit to compel Joe Miller, her father, to send the girl to school.

Justice Bridgen decided the case in favor of the state and fined Miller $5 and costs. Motion was made for a new hearing. Middlefield Amishmen will back Miller in fighting the case.

ITCHING NEARLY DROVE A WHOLE FAMILY CRAZY

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 24, 1914.—"My husband had a rash all over his body, and soon the WHOLE FAMILY was in the same condition. It looked scaly and raised in on the arms and body in big bumps. This trouble burned and itched so that it would nearly drive me crazy. It was always worse at night so we could not sleep. We all had this trouble for about two or three weeks, and during that time tried many remedies and prescriptions with no results. We tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and it RELIEVED AT ONCE, and before the third jar of ointment had been used, we were all completely cured. It has been four months since we were cured, and there are no traces of the trouble." (Signed) Mrs. S. A. Clarkson, 1520 Lawn Ave.

Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, and physicians have prescribed them for 20 years in the treatment of skin troubles.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS GIVE CHRISTMAS EXERCISES

Four Sunday schools in the city held their Christmas entertainments last evening, they being the First Baptist school, First Presbyterian, Fourth Street Christian, and St. Paul's Episcopal. At each church there was a large attendance and the interesting programs prepared by each of the four schools were rendered in a manner that reflected much credit upon both the scholars and the teachers.

At First Presbyterian. The Caldwell Memorial building in which the exercises of the First Presbyterian school were held, was attractively decorated for the occasion with holly, mistletoe, cedar and Christmas bells. Just in front of the rostrum was a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, capped by the brilliant chandelier in the auditorium. Different colored lights gleamed on the tree, which was also decorated with tinsel. As Mr. George Norfleet, superintendent of the school, called the names of the different classes, representatives of the classes went forward to the platform and announced the gifts they classes would give, bringing the gifts with them. Some classes gave clothing, some baskets of provisions, some money, while others gave a combination of all three. The amount of money given is estimated at $100, while the provisions and clothing aggregated fully $300.

By First Baptist School. At the First Baptist school a most interesting program was rendered to the large audience that filled the church. In addition to several excellent musical numbers short talks were made by Dr. H. A. Brown, pastor of the church, and by Mr. J. H. Early, superintendent of the Sunday school. An orchestra under the direction of Mr. Talmage Davis furnished delightful music throughout the evening. Offering for Orphanage.

A miscellaneous program that was enjoyable in every way was rendered to a large gathering at the Fourth Street Christian church. An offering was taken for the orphanage work being carried on by the church. During the evening Misses Pansy and Daphne Wimbish sang a duet, this being followed by a recitation by Miss Irene Byerly, after which Miss Daphne Wimbish sang a solo.

Gifts Go to Mission. St. Paul's Episcopal church was beautifully decorated last night for the Christmas exercises of the Sunday school. A large attendance was present. The children of the school this year decided to give gifts to the Episcopal mission rather than receive them. The gifts donated last night will be taken to the Inverness Mills tonight where a Christmas program will be rendered.

INDUSTRIAL PLANTS IN NORTH CAROLINA

The summary of miscellaneous factories in this State for the past year, just issued by Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman, shows 3,706 factories compared with 755 factories of this class reported last year. The difference is largely for the reason that heretofore the report has largely involved only representative plants to show manufacturing and labor conditions. But this year, thru special cooperation with the United States department, the summary is practically complete, the unlimited resources and facilities of the federal department assuring a practically complete representation. The total capital reported this year $137,584,197 with $61,439,158, estimated value of raw material. The estimated value of manufactured output is $136,095,168, with payroll aggregating $23,476,581, and salaried employes, $5,117,478. The average day for employes is nine hours and forty-three minutes. There are 58,568 male and 6,691 female employes and 4,824 salaried employes.
