WILKESBORO, WILKES COUNTY, N. C., OCT. 30, 1891.

NO. 35.

The Wilkesboro Chronicle.

E. A. DEAL, Editor and Proprietor.

Entered at the Post-office in Wilkesboro second-class matter.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1891.

Wilkesboro Needs Manufactories.

By all means, Wilkesboro should turn her attention toward manufacturing. In order for towns to build rapidly and permanently, it must proceed upon a manufacturing basis. The mercantile business is about full in this section at present. We must turn our attention to manufacturing.

In all the essentials of position and surrounding advantages, Wilkesboro stands favorably comparing with any rival.

Wilkesboro is splendidly situated for factories, being upon the banks of the Yadkin, and near the mouth of Reddies River, Moravian and Cub Creeks, with plenty of water-power.

It is surrounded by a section affording immense supplies of raw material.

Her hard woods are unlimited. Furniture factories, etc., can find no better location.

The fruit of this section is the finest in the world and is grown in great abundance. Canning factories could not be more advantageously situated than here.

Tobacco factories would be at home here, in the center of as fine tobacco lands as the globe affords.

A steam tannery could not find a better location. Tan bark can be had cheap, with an immense supply to depend upon. Part of the hide supply would have to come from the western markets; but the advantages of cheap bark largely exceed the small disadvantage in procuring hides.

The markets of the world are now in easy reach of Wilkesboro.

"The half has never yet been told."

If the Subtreasury, the money loaning scheme, promises such relief, what is the trouble in Kansas? What are those people cutting up about? Has not the money borrowing and loaning business on land out there about bankrupted the farmers, at least some of them; then where is the wisdom of trying to make it easy for every farmer to get his lands in the terrible clutches of mortgages, etc.? If our farmers would raise their own corn and bacon here in Wilkes, instead of borrowing money to buy Western meat and corn, their condition would improve. But if they depend on borrowing more money to send out of the country for eatables, we see no hope of better times.

Next week will decide two interesting elections—those in New York and Ohio. The indications point to the election of the Democratic ticket in New York by 10,000 majority. In Ohio the matter is about in a balance, with an inclination toward Republican success. Campbell, the Democratic candidate for Gov. has made a brilliant canvass, and but for the third party ticket, would be sure of being elected. But it looks now as though McKinley would get there by the help of the third party.

If the rain-makers can put up a good job in the snow line, we are certain we can procure there a right good job at this place, for the benefit of the fellows who want to hunt rabbits.

The Henry W. Grady Monument, Atlanta Georgia was unveiled on the 21st by his little daughter, amid the gaze and applause of thousands whose heart-throbs beat in love and admiration of the gifted Georgian. Confederate Veterans and members of the Grand Army stood together and marched side by side to do obeisance to the grandness of the occasion. The gifted Governor Hill, of New York, was the orator of the occasion, and he was received with great enthusiasm. His beautiful tribute to the young Georgian, "who when he died, was literally loving a nation into peace," was pathetic, eloquent, grand. Georgia will never have a grander day, nor gather to pay tribute to a nobler, more worthy son.

Col. McClure's speech at the Exposition last week was full of wisdom, friendliness for the South, and good cheer for our people. Col. McClure is a Northern man, who has always shown sympathy for our people, and being in a position to do so, has done perhaps more than any other private citizen to bring the sections together, in peace and harmony. North Carolina honors herself in honoring him.

If the Democratic party and the best interests of the State are saved, it will have to be done through patriotic Alliances. Out-side advice, even from men who have spent the best part of their lives in making North Carolina what she is, only appears to irritate the Alliance, so great has prejudice been worked up. The Alliance leaders who have inflamed this prejudice, together with those who have deprecated this wrong procedure all the while should make an effort to heal the difference. They can do it, if they will.

They have got the rain-making business in pretty good shape, and can make rain right along without asking the Lord much about it. The Republican administrations from Grant on down have had as little as possible to do with the Lord, and they've got the people in a bad fix by it. If they keep on much longer the Lord nor the people either will have much voice in running the things in this Government.

The Keeley Institute, for the cure of the liquor habit, will be located at Greensboro for this State. Mr. W. H. Eller and Dr. Palmer, of Nebraska, will have charge of it. The Keeley cure has been working wonders in its sphere of reformation. It has worked some remarkable cures and is doing good wherever it is tried.

If it should fall to the lot of the brethren of the Press, as is generally believed, to receive that mandate: "Enter ye into that furnace which is heated with sulphurated stone coal," they will possess one advantage over their fellow citizens who will accompany them. They have been used to the "Devil" all their lives.

To avoid the dangers and perils and hardships to be endured by Mariners in passing around Cape Hatteras at this season, the Southport Leader suggests that Southport be made the coaling station for steamships instead of, as now, Norfolk or Newport News.

The official Alliance papers are now saying, there is nothing in the "tariff" question. Tariff reform is a part of the Ocala platform, and if there is nothing in it, why invoke the people to stand by the Ocala demands? If tariff reform is not the biggest part of financial reform we would like to know why. The principal part of the government's finance is raised by tariff taxes.

Mr. E. C. Beddingfield, a prominent Allience man, and a good Democrat, says there is no use of mincing matters, that there will be a third party ticket in the field next year and the Democrats just might as well prepare to face it. That is just about the size of it.

Prof. Geo. Markgraff, music instructor of Salem Female Academy, was stricken with paralysis on the 24th. His case is considered hopeless.

Gov. Holt is making North Carolina the best and most practical business-like government she has had in years. He is the kind we need.

Oonslow is a good county for bears. 20 have been killed this summer in the Stump Swamp region of that county.

The total visible cotton supply of the world is 2,895,590 bales, of which 2,519,990 are American.

All the Republicans that we have heard express an opinion are secretly hollering "hurrah for Polk and the third paray".

The fastest train in the world in from New York to Buffalo. It is a distance of 439 miles and is run in 8 hours and 40 minutes, 52 1/2 miles per hour.

Important Notice.

The Annual meeting of the National Alliance takes place at Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17th.

Is He in Love?
 The other evening just after mail a young man stood near the post-office reading a letter written in a young lady's hand. His attention was intense, and as he swallowed the last word a brilliant smile played over his face, and he started away happily humming a familiar air, the words, as well as we could catch, running thusly:
 Shesmi Swedart,
 Rimer bo;
 Shesmi Ranni,
 Rimerjo;
 Soon we'll be married,
 Never teapart,
 Little anner oony
 'Smy Swedart.

"The Editor Out."
 The old delinquent read the sign, And straightway turned about; But who its meaning can divine—"The editor is out!"

Out of money—not one cent!
 Out of six months' office rent!
 Out of groceries—bills have said it—
 Out of humor, out of credit;
 Out of paper, out of ink;
 Out of anything to drink;
 Out of ideas, out of news;
 Out of clothes and out of shoes;
 Out of power to thrill the nation;
 Out of church and free salvation;
 Out of all things—just about—
 Thanks to him who help him "out!"
 [Atlanta Constitution.]

Somewhat of a Dude.
 There were creaselets in his pantlets,
 There was English in his speech;
 But there wasn't fifty centlets
 Anywhere that he could reach.

Ho! for Western North Carolina!

The Garden Spot of the World!

IN VARIETY OF PRODUCTS it Surpasses all other sections.

Owing to its wonderful natural resources it was possible to establish here the most extensive Herbarium on the Globe, and with it side by side has grown up the LARGEST WHOLESALE ESTABLISHMENT in N. C. Strangers wonder at its magnitude and are at a loss to understand how it has been accomplished; the explanation is easy: Fair Dealing, Economical Management, Minimum profits and a LARGE VOLUME OF BUSINESS.

Has been our aim and policy and has contributed chiefly, we believe, to the success we have thus far attained.

It has become a well known fact and is said to the credit of our people that merchandise of every description is sold cheaper in Western North Carolina than anywhere in the South. New Yorkers frequently say to us: "Why, you folks sell goods cheaper than we do here." This we are pleased to admit and it is not a revelation to many of our best merchants. Experienced business men are alive to the fact that the Retail Merchant can buy to better advantage in Baltimore than in New York, in Richmond than in Baltimore and in Statesville better still than in Richmond.

BY MAKING LARGE PURCHASES

WE ARE ENABLED TO SECURE THE

Lowest Quantity Prices, while our Expenses are Insignificant As compared with houses in the large cities

Our object, however, in this advertisement was more particularly to call attention to a NEW AND HANDSOME LINE OF GOODS,

ESPECIALLY FOR THE DRIED FRUIT SEASON.

Our Counters are Loaded with Seasonable Goods and there are Bargains in Every Department. Stock is complete and there will be no delay making shipments. Respectfully,

WALLACE BROS.
