VOL. IX.

WILKESBORO, N. C., THURSDAY, NOV. 9, 1893.

NO. 32.

THE CHRONICLE.

R. A. DEAL, Editor and Proprietor.
Entered at the Post-office in Wilkesboro as second-class matter.

THURSDAY, NOV. 9, 1893.

Mr Ceo D Hobbs a butcher of Winston, has been missing since Wednesday of last week. There seems to be an opinion that he was murdered and thrown into Belo's pond.

The repeal bill has become a law, President Cleveland having signed it. The House passed the bill in a few hours after receiving it from the Senate. The Senate might learn a lesson from the House.

The revenues last week captured some blockade near Winston and locked it up in a small house in Winston. That night the blockaders came with their wagons, broke in the house and carried the juice away.

The Senate adjourned without confirming either Elias or Simmons, as Collector. Cleveland has re appointed them and the question of their confirmation will come up again next session. Elias will continue as collector and Simmons will take charge at an early date.

The hosts of Mr J. P. Caldwell's friends here are very much grieved at the death of his wife which occurred Nov. 2nd at Statesville. She had been quite low for several days but we were not prepared to hear of her death. His many friends here as well as the CHRONICLE extend their sympathy to Mr Caldwell in his sad bereavement.

W. S. Barnes, Secretary of the Alliance has begun suit against post-master Kerr of Asheville and Congressman Crawford, of the Asheville district, charging them with libel and slander. The cause of the suit dates back to the last campaign. Crawfords opponent charged him with signing the "Demands" subtreasury and all and produced a card from Secretary Barnes containing all the demands with Crawfords name signed to it. Crawford denounced it as a forgery. Kerr, who was editor of the Citizen published the denial. Now Barnes has indicted both of them.

Fashion May Deeree but no Chameleons for us.

One of the fads among society women in the South is the wearing of a live chameleon. with a gold chain around its neck and a long pin at the other end of the chain so as to fasten the horrid little thing on your dress. It is worn as a badge and the chameleon crawls around as far as the chain will permit at its own sweet will.

Miss Bettie Blair is the possessor of one of these 'curious little creatures, which was sent her by Mister Clairborn Carr from the Worlds Fair. The chameleon, which lives on flies and insects, could not be induced to eat when it reached here, so it was sent down to Yearby's drug store to see if he could persuade it to partake of food. It seems to be trying the Tanner act; at least it acts that way.

The wisest course in politics is to vote for the best man, and you can not be mistaken. In the use of blood-purifiers, you can be mistaken if you take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, because all parties agree that it is the best—The Superior medicine. Try it this month.

Still the Same.

We notice that the bad places in the road just this side of the bridge have received no attention yet. What is the matter? Why don't the authorities attend to this? In a short while, no doubt, winter winter will be on and it will be almost impassable; or, a horse's leg will be broken and then a suit will be in order. Fix it, at once.

A Potato That You Don't See Every Day.

All the papers now contain accounts of very large potatoes but we will bet our copy of Joe Robertsons' work on "The Use of poetry and music in courting (we take this method of returning thanks to Joe for a copy of the work) against Bob Deal's new beaver bought since he was appointed post-master at Wilkesboro the greatest novelty of the season in the potato line was grown on Mr John Fields place near Elkin. The potato is a perfect production of a small boy. The head, arms and legs are very lifelike and the resemblance to a human being is certainly remarkable. Nature must have been in a frolicsome mood when she fashioned this peculiar potato.

Turner's N. C. Almanac for 1894. We are indebted to the publisher Jas. H. Bennis of Raleigh, N. C. for a copy of Turner's N. C. Almanac for 1894. This number of the almanac is the most valuable that has ever been issued. To the farmer and housekeeper, it is a mine of information for the whole year. In fact the almanac is valuable to every body. If you have never had a Turner's N. C. Almanac in your house lay this one and hang it up by the fireplace for reference and especially in sickness, emergencies or any other matter and you will never go without one again. It will save you many dollars in a year, and can be bought for the very small sum of 10 cents if you will address the publisher, Jas. H. Bennis, Raleigh, N. C. Don't fail to get one.

Authors New Home magazine is a publication that always finds a welcome in every home circle. It is essentially a home monthly and no household is complete without it. A glance at the November issue will convince anyone of this. Its opening story "a Fatal Number," is the most realistic narrative of Italian life since Adolphus Trollope's Tuscan novels, and is beautifully illustrated. Melville Phillips literary editor of the "Philadelphia Press" continues his novelet "was she fairly won," and its interest increases with each installment. Among other capital stories are "Cousin William" and "The Veiled Isis," "Flora Culture" ought to be read by every amateur gardener. The Boys and Girls corner will charm the young folks while the home circle, with its hints and suggestions will greatly interest the older members of the household. The Womens World is a complete and profuse description with illustrations of the newest and prettiest styles in dress. Altogether the number is a storehouse of interesting and instructive reading from the pens of popular writers, and we are not surprised to learn that its circulation is rapidly growing; it cannot be otherwise at the low subscription price of $1.00 a year. Handsome premiums are offered to those who will get up clubs for 1894. A sample copy will be sent for five cents. Address Arthurs New Home Magazine, Philadelphia Penna.

Summit Items.

Mr J W Church of Summit who has recently been appointed Dep't marshal, is very sick. He will fill bond and be ready for business as soon as he recovers from his sickness.

Married on last Wednesday in Ashe county at the brides home. Mr Stokes Vannoy of Parsonville and Miss Nella Osburn were made henceforth one by Rev Wm. M. Lee.

We are left again you see. I guess it wont be so next time, and I'll tell you why, we have our matter shaped in a different direction now.

Mr Editor we mountain folks want you to advise your friends who don't live more than a thousand miles away to let the land up on the Blue Ridge alone if he has to induce our Mountain girls to marry the fellow he sell it to, unless this scribe can buy the land then its all O. K.

L. A. T.

Summit N. C. Nov. 3rd 1893.

Trap Hill Letter.

Mr Editor:—As I have not seen anything in your paper from this place in some time I will write you a few items. Most of our farmers are very busy sowing their wheat.

Times are very hard here now,—even possums are scarce.

Miss Cora Gentry who lives near here died last week.

Mr Wm Speaks and Miss Billings both of this place, were married this week.

Mr Willborn has moved back to his old home on Hunting Creek.

Miss Floss Bryan and her sister Miss Phoebe entered school at the College this week.

Mr Tyre Holbrook who has been visiting friends in Watauga is at home again.

Mr W A Bryan and Mr Weaver Jones are visiting friends in Ashe this week.

Prof W. R. Absher with Miss Horton paid our village a visit last week.

A party of the young folks visited Stone mountain last Saturday. They report a good time.

Miss Lula Horn, who has been in school here for some time will leave in a few days for her home in Iredell, where she will teach.

We are having a good school at Fairview college now, have 87 pupils enrolled and new ones enter every week. Prof Jones is a good teacher and is having great success. Miss Emma George has charge of the music department and Prof E H Carrico of Lexington business college is in charge of the business department. Those desiring an education can not do better than to come to Fairview college.

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill St., Montreal, P. Q., says: I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many

Wonderful Cures

performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
