WILKESBORO, N. C., THURSDAY, MARCH 29 1894.

NO. 51.

THE CHRONICLE.
 R. A. DEAL, Editor and Proprietor.
 Entered at the Post-office in Wilkesboro as second-class matter.
 THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1894.

Evangelist Lee, well remembered here, is now holding a revival meeting at Washington, D. C.

The match game between Yale and Chapel Hill, at Greensboro, last Friday, resulted in 7 to 4 in favor of Yale.

The names of the A. League lynchings are in the hands of the officers, but the parties themselves are, or they have made tracks to parts unknown, so the reports say.

The Chapel Hill and Lehigh University boys tried a game of base ball at Raleigh, last week, and the Chapel Hill boys beat the others by a score of 6 to 1.

The Elkin Times got out a special edition last week, giving a description of the advantages and attractions of that thriving little town. We congratulate the brethren upon the enterprise.

We have received a beautifully illustrated catalogue of the Dilworth Floral Garden, at Charlotte, N. C. Those wanting some beautiful plants and flowers will do well to write to the Manager, J. P. Dahlborn, Charlotte, N. C.

Mr. Eldridge, who has been editing the Statesville Mascot, has bought out the Lexington Dispatch, the paper he established several years ago. Mr. Harkness succeeds him as editor of the Mascot. We wish them both success and plenty of it.

Something may happen about election times this fall. Of course, we know and everybody else knows, that we are editor and proprietor of the great and voluminous cosmopolitan weekly, and we also conduct the finest post office that is run in the town of Wilkesboro. But there is one thing our Senators and Congressmen, as well as Grover, seem to have forgotten. We also run a "large and enthusiastic" garden, and our quota of seed has not reached us. This should be attended to at once or something may drop.

Senator Colquitt died at his residence at 222 A street S E, in this city at 7:10 o'clock this morning. The end was quiet and peaceful and death came as if the Senator were dropping into sleep. He had been sinking gradually all night. At 3 o'clock this morning the entire right side became totally paralyzed, and after that it was evident to all that death was at best a question of hours only. The entire family, except a daughter, Mrs. Newell, of Milledgeville, Ga., was present, as were also the family of his colleague, Senator Gordon, who were summoned when the attack occurred at three o'clock.

For several days President Cleveland has been considering the Bland bill for coinage of the silver seigniorage. As yet he hasn't decided whether he will sign or veto it. One thing certain, if Mr. Cleveland vetoes this bill at the instance of New York Bankers and disregards the great masses of the South and West, he will violate the pledges of the Democratic party expressed in their platform at Chicago. Nearly all the Democrats of the Senate and House voted for this bill and the Republicans almost as a unit voted against it, and if Mr. Cleveland prefers to assist the Republicans in legislating against the people and in favor of Wall Street, as he undoubtedly would do should he veto this bill, he had better leave the party that elected him and join the one that upholds the capitalists in his endeavor to grind down the farmer and laboring man. We trust, however, that Mr. Cleveland will allow this important measure to become a law, thereby giving much needed relief in these times of scarcity of money and financial stringency.

Easter in the Twin City.
 WINSTON, N. C., March 26th.
 Last Sunday was our first time to witness the Easter services at the Salem Female Academy, or rather at the Moravian church, of Salem. Many people, however, were disappointed when they awoke Sunday morning to find that it was raining. The early morning, or sunrise services were, therefore, conducted inside of the church, instead of at the cemetery as is the custom, on this account it was not altogether attractive as usual, but it certainly is a beautiful and attractive service, and one that makes an impression upon the memory that will not be forgotten. Bishop Ronthaler delivered a very excellent discourse upon the resurrection of our Savior. This early morning service all occurs before and just about sunrise, and one must rise rather early to witness it all.

After the service we took a stroll through the cemetery. It is the prettiest cemetery in the State and no doubt better cared for. The graves of all, young, middle aged and old, were beautifully decorated with every variety of flowers tastefully arranged on and around them by loving hands, bespeaking the affection in which the memory of the dead is held by these people. But we haven't time to write more on this subject at present.

Winston is building right along and appears to be overcoming all her misfortunes and back sets.

The Wilkes delegation had the pleasure of dining with our good friend Col. Clement Manley, one of the most courtly, delightful and hospitable gentlemen in the State.

To-day (Monday) is a holiday in the Twin City, all business houses being closed. It is one of the few, or perhaps the only town in the State that observes Easter Monday as a holiday.

An Old Friend.

In a series of interviews with members of the last Congress, 31 out of 43 remarked that they were readers of The Youth's Companion. For definite and trustworthy information on the questions of the day it is really unique, while the high character of its stories, the wide fields covered by its special articles, and its contributions from the most famous writers in Europe and America, are well known.

Its programme for next year seems brighter than ever. Some of the important stories are: "The Deserter," by Harold Frederic; a Tale of the Great Mutiny in India, by Sarah Jeannette Duncan; several Romances of the sea, by W. Clark Russell; Tales of the War, and of the Frontiers in Early Days. H. M. Stanley contributes two thrilling narratives from Darkest Africa, and Archibald Forbes writes of his "Closest Call." Naval Battles are described by Admirals, and Military Life by Generals. Then there are articles on Choosing an Occupation, Boys Who Should Not Go to College, Physical Training, Recreations of all kinds, and many other practical subjects.

Another pleasant feature is the charming picture of a young lady of colonial times, "Sweet Charity," reproduced in colors from a painting by Ferris, which is presented to all subscribers who send their $1.75 for a new subscription or a renewal.

GENTLE ANNIE.

The Spring time has come, gentle Annie! And it is time to plow, gentle Annie; For to succeed in farming, gentle Annie, You ought to have good plows, gentle Annie.

There are cast and steel plows at Allens; And the South Bend Chilled plows at Allens; And the good running Chattanooga's at Allens; And the single and double shovels at Allens.

Our lands are really rough, But the South Bend Chilled plows are tough, And will plow your land deep enough, And its price is quite low enough.

Seeing this with your two eyes It should make you wise, And never, never otherwise, Then on N. M. Allen place your eyes.

Get in the swim— And deal with him! You will never, never be hurt As you so smoothly turn the dirt.

How Pigs Grow at Clemmonsville.
 Mr. T. C. Farabee, of Clemmonsville, penned a pig weighing 42 pounds. He killed it after 100 days' feeding and it weighed 220.

The above is from the Winston Daily. That was a very nice pig no doubt, but we know of two that takes the prize from it. A fellow here bought two pigs about the size of common rats. He fed them for some six months and when he made pork of them, we understand they came very near weighing 25 lbs each.

Three Deaths in Iredell.
 Some two weeks ago Richard Hendren, said to have been the oldest man in Iredell county, aged about 95 years, died at his home near Bryantsville, Iredell county.

Mrs. Malinda Wilson, of the same post office, died on the 17 inst. She was 83 years old, and leaves 13 children and 234 grand children.

John Jordan, the largest man in Iredell county, weighing over 300 pounds, died on the 12th inst, in Sherrpsburg township.

People with delicate stomachs and Ayer's Sarsaparilla is agreeable to the taste, and, therefore, prefer it as a blood-purifier to any other. This is one reason of its great popularity as a spring and family medicine. Safe, certain, and palatable.

The gladsome spring is smiling o'er the earth; and butter-flies on painted wings in summer light are going forth. Do let them be happy over ground pulverized and made light with the South Bend and Chattanooga plows, sold by N. M. Allen.

A Racking Cough

Cured by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Mrs. P. D. HALL, 217 Genesee St., Lockport, N. Y., says:

"Over thirty years ago, I remember hearing my father describe the wonderful curative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During a recent attack of La Grippe, which assumed the form of a catarrh, soreness of the lungs, accompanied by an aggravating cough, I used various remedies and prescriptions. While some of these medicines partially alleviated the coughing during the day, none of them afforded me any relief from that spasmodic action of the lungs which would seize me the moment I attempted to lie down at night. After ten or twelve such nights, I was Nearly in Despair, and had about decided to sit up all night in my easy chair, and procure what sleep I could in that way. It then occurred to me that I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took a spoonful of this preparation in a little water, and was able to lie down without coughing. In a few moments I fell asleep, and awoke in the morning greatly refreshed and feeling much better. I took a teaspoonful of the Pectoral every night for a week, then gradually decreased the dose, and in two weeks my cough was cured."

Notice!
 NORTH CAROLINA. In the WILKES COUNTY Superior Court.
 T. J. Dula, L. S. Benbow and M. L. Mot vs J. C. Armstrong.
 Having been appointed commissioner by a judgment of the Supreme Court of Wilkes county to sell the lands described in the pleadings in the above entitled case, I will on Monday April 30th 1894, at the Court-house door in Wilkesboro, N. C., sell to the highest bidder for cash said lands lying in Wilkes county, N. C., New Castle township, adjoining the lands of R. P. Boone, P. P. Younger, Marcus Walker and Wm. Soergaves, containing 103 acres, more or less being the land whereon J. C. Armstrong now lives.
 This Feb. 23rd 1894.
 R. N. HACKETT, commissioner.

GOODS FOR THE MULTITUDE,
WALLACE BROS.
A NEW STOCK, ELEPHANTINE IN SIZE, LILLIPUTIAN IN PRICE.
More Goods than has ever been shown by any House in North Carolina at one time.

When you see them and hear the prices you will understand why we have bought in such quantities. The time to buy is when everybody wants to sell. The bulk of our stock for the spring of 1894 was bought during the Panic, at panic prices, and will be sold accordingly. We do not say, as many do, "that we will not be undersold," but we say to you that while this stock lasts

WE WILL UNDERSELL THE BEST OF THEM.
 It is a most gratifying statement to make and we have asked the printer to put it in bold type.

A bold statement too it may be seen, yet those who are familiar with the facts know that in the performance of our promises we go a step beyond rather than fall short.

Notwithstanding the great panic we have just passed through, our promises have been fulfilled and our prophecies realized. And considering all the circumstances we look back to it as a year of remarkable progress, made so, in our judgement by the fact that our aim has been not to see how much profit we could make in a single season, but how low we could sell our goods—and our persistent and continuous efforts in driving down prices has brought us the increased business we have been working for.

An ounce of experience is worth a pound of logic and, with the results of our past efforts before us, we see our way clear to take a decided step forward, and with the opening of our new stock shall deal some sledge hammer blows in the way of low prices that will speak louder than any any advertisements we can make.

Knowing that every dollar we can save our customers will prove an equivalent gain to ourselves, and that we have never been so well prepared to serve you as we are at this time, it affords us unusual pleasure to again solicit your valued trade.

Very respectfully,
WALLACE BROS.,
 C. S. Tomlin, John S. McRorie, John F. Bowles, H. Wallace and L. P. Bristol will represent us on the road and visit as many of our customers as possible.
