Yadkinville and its Business Men

Yadkinville is situated almost in the center of the county and is surrounded by the best of fertile land and also an immense amount of timber lands. It being the county seat town, gives us the advantage over our sister towns. During the year we have a number of public days, which is an advantage, not enjoyed by other towns; we have six general stores, besides a various manufacturing industries and above all good citizenship. A welcome is always extended to new citizens and visitors. Yadkinville has a population of about 450; has one good hotel, Hotel Shore, and the Logan House.

Atty. F. W. Hanes S. Carter Williams

One of our foremost business men is Attorney F. W. Hanes. After obtaining an education, Mr. Hanes went to Wake Forest Law School, where he graduated in 1899 and was admitted to the bar in September of the same year, after which he located in Yadkinville for the practice of his profession, and now has a large practice in Yadkin and adjoining counties, and has many cases in Federal Court.

Mr. Hanes was married to Miss De Ette Kapp last year and they, together with Mr. Hanes' mother, live in their beautiful residence on West End.

Mr. Hanes is also somewhat of a farmer, having charge of his father's large farm near Hamptonville, and recently purchased near Logg's School House and one south of town.

He served two terms in the legislature and is now a member of the State Republican Executive Committee.

Mr. W. G. Wooten

One of Yadkinville's new citizens is Mr. W. G. Wooten. In the election of Mr. Wooten to the office of Register of Deeds, we not only gained a new citizen, but the people of Yadkin county gained a competent and trustworthy servant who is always obliging and accomodating in the discharge of his official duties.

Mr. Wooten who is now 41 years old, was born on his father's farm, near Forbush, and is well known all over the county as a successful farmer.

Mr. Wooten's father, Mr. Jessie Wooten, was operator of the old Wooten forge, in the days of the civil war, it being located on a small creek near his home.

Mr. Wooten was first married in 1894 to Miss Lora Williams and they lived happily together until death separated them, and he later married Miss Minnie Williams and they, together with Mr. Wooten's children, live on East Main street.

Mr. Wooten is a self-made man and conservative in all things, always ready to lend a helping hand. He has recently purchased an interest in the Yadkinville Buggy Co., but his duties as Register of Deeds prevents him from taking any active management in the affairs of the company.

Yadkinville Roller mill

The only Roller Mill in our town was established in 1904 and since that time their patronage has increased until they are compelled to work over time a great deal.

They handle cotton seed meal, daisy middlings, etc., at reasonable prices.

This mill is now owned by Messrs. A. E. Holton, Jr. W. H. Gough and C. C. Bray, all of whom are among our best business men, and they will appreciate your custom. Their brand of flour, "Pride of Yadkin," is known far and wide for its quality.

Atty. D. M. Reece

Another enterprising man of our town is Attorney D. M. Reece. Being born in the perilous days of 1862 on his father's farm on the Yadkin river. Mr. Reece did not have the educational advantages that are now offered. But being reared in a good home by kind and loving parents, he attended the free school, receiving his first lessons under John Atlas Witty, at Boonville, in the house now occupied by Mr. M. M. Crummel, and was later enabled to attend the University for a year. After this he read law at the same place for thirteen months. But it was under the instruction of that noble hearted man, Dr. John Manning, that he received his final instructions, and was admitted to the bar in 1885.

In 1887 Mr. Reece was married to Miss Mary Robertson and settled down in Yadkinville for the practice of his profession. Until the death of Mr. J. Q. Holton, they were associated together in the practice of law, but since the death of Mr. Holton, he has held up the large amount of business. He has always had the confidence of his fellow men, in matters of business as well as law.

His office is located next door to the post office and he will be glad to glad to see you anytime.

Mr. H. B. James

Mr. H. B. James, well known all over this county and state, as well as Virginia and South Carolina, as one of the best judges of horses and mules, has a good sale and trade stable in our town and will buy, sell or trade horses with you anytime. He is always prepared to furnish good stock at right prices and will always give you the worth of your money.

Besides being a horse trader, Henry is an all round good man with open hand to every worthy enterprise or cause.

Yadkinville has only one Jewelry store, and this is owned by Mr. O. V. Hutchens. He first began as a watchmaker when 9 years old and has worked his trade practically ever since that time. Mr. Hutchens first established a jewelry store and repair shop in a small room north of the court house, but his business has grown until larger quarters are necessary, and he is now beginning plans for the erection of a modern two-story building with large glass front. The above cut shows the new building as it will be when completed and it will be one of the nicest in town.

You will always find an assortment of watches, clocks musical instruments, etc., at his store. His work as well as his goods always guaranteed to give satisfaction.

Mr. Hutchens has always been a constant advertiser in the columns of The Ripple, which, he says, accounts in a large measure for his success.

Oscar, as he is known by his many friends, was married in 1900 to Miss Callie Reese and two children have blessed their union. Besides being an up-to-date watchmaker and jeweler Mr. Hutchens is somewhat of a musician, having won several prizes in large contest.

Mr. Hutchens' has the endorsement of the largest watch manufacturers in the United States. Not only does his business spread over this county, but he also gets orders and does considerable business in northern and western states, with an order last week from the Phillipine Islands,
