Life

Life—
‘Tis but a breath,
A morning breeze,
A sighing wind
Among the trees—
Then all is calm.
Life—
‘Tis but a thread
That spans between
The present and
The great unseen—
A slender cord.
Life—
‘Tis but a midst,
A summer shower
A burstin storm
A silent hour
Then sweet repose

Ten Things to do in Typhoid Fever.

In all cases of typhoid, however mild, the patient should remain in bed. The course of the disease may be greatly shortened by keeping the patient in a prostrate position.
2. The vessels used in the sick room should be thoroughly scalded after use.
3. All food utensils should be washed and scalded separately before placing with dishes used by the family.
4. Bed linens, towels, wearing apparel, should be plunged into boiling water or water containing a strong solution of carbolic acid before they are washed.
5. Chloride of lime, which can be bought in dozen cans, or bichloride of mercury, are safe disinfectants for vessels used in the sick room.
6. The caretaker should cleanse her hands with a disinfectant (carbolic acid, creolin, bichloride of mercury), before taking food.
7. Treat all excreta from patient with disinfectant of sufficient strength that all typhoid germs may be killed before removing from the sick room.
8. Bury all excreta from typhoid patient.
9. Keep all flies from the sick room.
10. Write to your State Board of Health for literature upon the care and treatment of typhoid fever.

BIG 4TH OF JULY CELEBRATION HERE

An effort is being made by some of the enterprising citizens of Yadkinville to have a Fourth-of-July celebration here that will eclipse anything in this section of the State. If the present plans mature we will make full announcement in our next issue. One of the most prominent men in the state has agreed to come and make an address.

Marriages May be Void. Married and Didn't Know it

Chicago Dispatch,
Municipal Judge Stewart to day held that thousands of weddings of the immediate past were illegal and void because they had been performed by a justice of the peace from outside the city limits in an office he occupied in the county building in Chicago. This justice of the peace was recently ousted from the county building. The judge volunteered an opinion from the bench that the Justice of the peace had no legal right to marry anyone in Chicago, he being a justice from outside of Chicago and because justices were abolished in the city in 1905.

At the same time Philip Fishman was telling Judge Cooper how he was married without knowing it. He wanted the marriage dissolved. He said he inquired of a clerk in the county clerks office for a peddler's license. With him was a young friend. A slip of paper was handed him he said and they were taken to justice Stacy's office. He told the court he thought he was swearing to something on the permit when he and the girl said the customary “I do.” Later he found he had a wife. They tried to make the best of it he said, but it was not a success.

A Vacant House

Talk about crowded tenants well it does not apply to Yadkinville, there is a house in this town that is unoccupied, and no one can be induced to move in. The house is built on the latest plans and has all modern conveniences, is surrounded by good neighbors, wood and water furnished. We do not venture an assertion as to why, whether on account of its former occupants, the place of location, the latitude, longitude, or altitude. All former occupants get out the first chance and one in ten thousand can be induced to return without force. If you should ask the cause of the vacancy ask some one else. For further information ask the keeper of the—JAIL.

Respect Your Mother

Mark the young man who is coarse and disrespectful to his mother. No roseate pathway can be hers who shall sustain to him the relations of wife. Not the happiest will be the lot of those who shall come to be his children. Not to be envied in the neighborhood ever in which he must be reckoned as a citizen. It does not matter what the mental stature of that mother is, how old, how bent, how decrepit, the man to whom she is mother owes to her gentleness, tenderness and consideration. Did she fall back, and did the children by means of superior advantages, pass her in the face? But think of the toil and trial, her devotion and denial, her mind and the years she gave that the children might derive the benefit. Think of her sacrifice no wonder if she fell behind, with her heart in her home, in the buds that were hers. There is no rank, no station, no condition that may exempt a manly man from a kind regard for his mother.

Railroad Talk.

Statesville, Special — The squad of convicts now at work on the Statesville Air Line railway numbers 54, four additional convicts were brought to the camps by Mr. George Hayes, a guard at the State prison at Raleigh. To see the great amount of work done each week on the road one would think the squad numbered nearer 100. Of course there are other laborers engaged in the work, but the number of men in addition to the convicts is not large.
