—Let Warden the Tailor take your measure for a nice tailor-made suit. The truth is, no one mouths should be well swabbed two or three times daily with an antiseptic solution, using for this either carbolic acid or creoline 3 per cent, or one teaspoonful of alum dissolved in one quart of water. After the mouths have been thoroughly swabbed with this solution, one teaspoonful of a dusting powder composed of alum and sulphur, equal parts, should be sprinkled in the mouths. In case of constipation it is well to give one pound of Epsom salts dissolved in one quart of warm water. When ulcers appear on the feet and under they should likewise be bathed in the antiseptic solution and the same dusting powder could be used to advantage.

If animals are properly treated in the outset there should not be more than one or two deaths per hundred.

W. G. CHRISMAN,
State Veterinarian.

Moonshiner's Picnic

Illicit stills among the Southern Appalachian mountains will simmer steadily for a time undisturbed by the internal revenue service, because the service has exhausted its money for raiding purposes. The revenue officers will ride on their raids no more until Congress supplies more funds. Lack of departmental actions has forced the service to recall 40 revenue watchdogs who for years have prowled the mountain fastnesses of the Carolinas, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and other Southern Appalachian States. The men will be assigned to other work pending the appropriation of raiding funds.

Clarence Call Says Taft Will be Elected

Ex-Sheriff Clarence Call, of Wilkes, was a passenger on train Thursday morning. He was returning from a trip to Washington and New York. While in the latter city he visited Republican headquarters and carries home with him rosy views of the situation. He says the tide is fast turning to President Taft; that Roosevelt's Bull Moose party won't be in it and that his followers will discover before the national election in November that they are only rainbow chasers. Mr. Call expressed regret that a few Republicans in North Carolina were leaving the old party and going off with Teddy. He expressed the opinion that they would see the error of their way and come back into the fold.

Judging from the views expressed by the ex-sheriff, he was made to believe that President Taft's re-election may be regarded a foregone conclusion.—Winston Journal.

The Crime of Crimes

The New York world pays the following beautiful tribute to Col. Roosevelt:

"Theodore Roosevelt has been identified with the Republican party for thirty years. He is leaving it at a time when the party is not only less corrupt but when it is more responsive to public opinion than at any other period during those three decades.

"The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1882 when he wanted to go to the Assembly although at the election that fall the people of New York repudiated it by a majority of 200,000.

"The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1884 when tens of thousands of honest, independent Republicans refused to support a tainted candidate like James G. Blaine. Mr. Roosevelt was not among them.

"The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1886 when he accepted the nomination for mayor from the bosses and corrupt corporations to defeat Henry George.

"The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1889 when he wanted to be a civil service commissioner although the chairman of its National Committee was Matthew Stanley Quay.

"The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1897 when he wanted to be Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and obtained that office by the favor of Hanna, Platt and Quay.

"The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1898 when he wanted to be Governor of New York and was willing to help save Platts corrupt machine in return for the nomination.

"The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1900 when Platt and Quay nominated him for Vice-President.

"The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1904 when the bosses interposed no objection to his nominating himself for President.

"The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 if it had nominated him for a third term, and Mr. Roosevelt would have welcomed the support of every man and every interest now supporting Mr. Taft.

"A new party is necessary not because the Republican party is hopelessly corrupt or hopelessly reactionary, but because the Republican party refused to nominate ME. That is the crime of crimes. Because of that iniquity the Republican party must be destroyed."

—After July 1st I will carry passengers to and from Rockford at all times; will meet them when they let me know for $1.00. Will also carry them anywhere out from Yadkinville any time. N. G. Vestal.

The Populist party has died a natural death, and went down in obscurity "unwept and unsung."
