Old Soldiers Coming Thanksgiving, To Hold a Memorial Service

Ex-Governor Glenn Scheduled to Make The Principal Address—Mr. J. C. Pinnix Also to Speak Will Pay Tribute to Their Dead Comrades of the Sixties

Thursday, Thanksgiving day, of next week will be a gala day for every old soldier in Yadkin county if he wants to come to Yadkinville, and join with his comrades in a memorial service to those who lost their lives in the cause of the sixties. Reunions and Memorial services have been held every where but Yadkinville and the old soldiers of this county who have attended anything in this line were compelled to go out of the county to witness it, but this time it will be in reach of all.

Mr. I. L. Shugart, of Jonesville, telephoned to us yesterday and informed us that Ex-Governor Robert B. Glenn will be here to make the principal address, and that Mr. J. C. Pinnix of this county would also make a talk, as well as any other person who happens to feel so inclined. He said it was the desire of the old soldiers that they meet at Yadkinville Court House at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning and that they wanted to shake hands with each other the first thing. This will be followed by a gathering in the court house and an opening prayer by some minister. Then the Mayor of Yadkinville will deliver an address of welcome to all, and Governor Glenn will speak at 11 o'clock.

Everybody is invited to come to Yadkinville on Thanksgiving day and witness these exercises and enjoy yourself any other way you see fit, and hear the address of Mr. Glenn who is one of the best speakers in the South.

Case of Wife Swapping

The marriage of C. L. Hennis, formerly of Mt. Airy, N. C., to Mrs. R. F. Painter, at Johnson City, Tenn., will be read with interest. More than a year ago Hennis went to Jacksonville, Fla., visiting the home of the Painters. As a result, he and Mrs. Painter eloped, the couple going west, leaving a wife and several children at Mt. Airy. The husband secured a divorce, as also did the wife. Later Painter went to Mt. Airy, and courted Mrs. Hennis and in July last was married to her. As a result a very embarrassing situation has been relieved in this exchange of wives.—Ex.

Clarence Poe to Speak in Yadkinville Dec. First

Mr. Clarence Poe, Editor of the Progressive Farmer and one of the most distinguished private citizens in the South, having visited a number of times many of the principal nations of the world, will address the people of Yadkin county at Yadkinville, Monday December 1st, the occasion of the session of the Farmers Union County Convention.

Every farmer, farmers wife, son and daughter ought to hear Mr. Poe, as well as any body else who is interested in the improvement and uplift of country life. You will miss a treat if you fail to hear him.

Yours Resp.

A. J. MARTIN, Chair. Committee on Arrangements.
