MYERS IS DISMISSED

Shooting of Nicholson Was Justifiable—Dramatic Ending

The trial of Luke Myers, for killing Harry Nicholson Nov. 25, was held in the court house Sunday at ten o'clock, before Justices J. H. James, A. B. Warden and Dr Russell, and they returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

From the evidence it seems that Myers had been to help an uncle guard some wheat and was on his way home at 9 o'clock when Nicholson jumped from some weeds beside the road and struck Myers with a black-jack knocking him down and while still in a sitting position Myers fired the contents of a shot gun into the thigh causing death from bleeding in a few minutes. Nicholson also fired six shots at Myers with a ro shot, automatic Colts revolver, but it was never clearly established who fired the first shot. It appears that Nicholson, armed with his pistol and black-jack, was on the march, as he had secretly assaulted one Tom Smith on the same night he was killed. The widow of the dead man testified that her husband was a little strange at times and more so than usual on the evening of the tragedy.

With the announcing of the verdict the court room was the scene of a dramatic ending.

When the prisoner was discharged he turned to his sister and began to weep, when she threw her arms around him and give vent to her joy with tears and sobs. At this a general cheer went up all over the court room.

The defendant was represented by Atty. S. C. Williams while D. M. Reece and F. W. Hanes the State.

FUNERAL OF N. GLEN WILLIAMS

The funeral of Mr. N. Glen Williams, who died at his home in Little Yadkin Tuesday night of last week, was held from the residence Thursday afternoon at three o'clock and was conducted by Dr. H. A. Brown of the first Baptist church of Winston. A large crowd of relatives and friends were present to witness the funeral services. Mr. Williams was almost 49 years old and is survived by Mrs. Williams and several children. The interment was in the family graveyard near his home.

Since the death of his father 26 years ago Mr. Williams has been the sole owner of the old Nick Williams Distilling Co., and his famous whiskies have been sold from coast to coast, and he has now stored at his warehouse more than twenty thousand gallons of whiskey, most of which is more than eight years old. This is said to be the finest lot of whiskey in the south if not in the whole country.

GRAND JURY'S REPORT

Make Report of Work at November Term

We the grand jury for the Fall term, 1913. Beg leave to make the following report.

We acted on seventeen bills, found twelve true bills, and five not true. We visited the jail in a body and found the prisoners well cared for. We found some parts of the closet under repair in one of the cells, and recommended the same to be made at once. A committee of three was appointed to visit the County Home, and found the inmates well fed and clothed. We found some of the buildings under repair, needing new roofs and lights in the windows, and allow the flues and chimneys needing repair. We also recommend that the buildings for the insane be moved further from the other buildings on account of nuisance to the other inmates. We also visited the various county offices and found them in good shape.

M. Crummel, Foreman.

Old Soldiers Meeting

The first annual memorial service of the confederate veterans of Yadkin county was held in the court house Thursday.

The house was almost full when Mayor F. W. Hanes arose to deliver the address of welcome, which he did in a splendid manner and with fitting words. Mr. I. L. Shugart then made a few remarks and prayer followed. It remained for the choir to do the rest of the morning session, except a short talk by Prof Dixon. The choir sang some beautiful and patriotic songs, after which the meeting adjourned until 2 o'clock. The old soldiers were then taken to different homes and all given a good dinner.

Prof. Z. H. Dixon of Elkin made the principal address in the afternoon in the place of ex-Gov. Glenn who, as we expected, did not come.
