RED LEADERS ARE TWO-FACED

Take Both Sides of the Argument to Appease the Peasants and Workers.

IN FEAR OF FARMER POWER

Bolshevik Organ Warns the Peasants That if They Do Not Support the Soviet the Resuscitated White Generals Will Return.

Helsingfors.—Recent speeches of Bolshevik leaders in Russia and the utterances of the Bolshevik press have indicated a double purpose—to appease both peasants and city workers, whose interests are very different.

This two-sided attitude is maintained, it is said, to conciliate the peasants, who form the vast majority in Russia, even at the cost of sacrificing some communist principles, and at the same time of persuading the town workers that the adoption of a conservative land policy, like the granting of concessions to foreigners, is a clever bit of tactics.

"The Last Battle."
Nikolai Lenin, the Bolshevik premier, addressing a meeting of railway workers at Moscow the other day, dwelt on "the last battle" with the peasants, whom he characterized as an uncertain factor that might swing in favor of capitalism or of the proletariat.

"The peasants helped the revolution," he declared, "but now they are freed and have swung around to a pronounced petite bourgeoisie. They might even turn monarchist."

This "last battle" with the peasants is in reality a battle of cajolement. It is a campaign to win over the land workers. The well-known journal Derevenskaya Kommuna (Village Commune) has been rechristened Derevenskaya Pravda (Village Truth) and the peasants are begged to regard it as their special paper and to make their wants known to its sympathetic ear.

"Threat of 'White Generals.'" "You must know, peasants," it writes, "that if you will not support Soviet rule, tomorrow the resuscitated white generals will appear. Only the czar can replace the Bolsheviks. You must decide for yourselves whether you want him or not."

Meanwhile the peasants are filled with relief at the substitution of a corn tax for the odious requisition and the reintroduction of free commerce.

PIN SAVES MAN FROM DEATH

Stalled Motorist Pricks Himself With It and So Keeps From Freezing.

Denver, Colo.—Just a common, ordinary steel pin was all that saved the life of John U. Fish, Wyoming representative of the Bankers' Trust company of Denver.

Fish left Laramie, Wyo., to motor to Cheyenne in an open car. A blizzard struck him on the plain for 18 hours.

Unable to drive his car, Fish began his battle for life against the terrible drowsiness overcoming him. Taking a pin he jabbed himself constantly with the sharp point to keep himself awake. When found 18 hours later he was in a semiconscious condition, his feet and face frozen.

The Mountain Goes to Mahomet

Marion, Ky.—Sunday school teachers were in dismay when it was learned that the track team of the Marion high school and the rooters would not be back in time for Sunday school on "Go to Sunday School day," so the Sunday school moved over to Blackford, Ky., half way, and there the rooters and track team assembled and the services were held. The Marion Sunday schools had a 100 per cent attendance.

Graft Ears on Baby Boy to Restore His Hearing

An operation, said to be unique in the annals of surgery, is being performed on Charles Brown, three months old, at a hospital in Omaha, Neb. The price of operations will take several weeks to complete.

Little Charles is normal in every way except that he has no ears. Twelve physicians are endeavoring to graft hearing apparatus onto the child. The first operations proved successful.

Skin taken from the thighs of the infant is being used to model the ears.

Special Offer Expires July 11

If you want to take advantage of our special Subscription offer you should not delay the matter but act today. Tomorrow you may forget it. This special offer is being made for your benefit for the reason explained in our last weeks issue and we have sent statements to each subscriber whose paid up time expires on or before July 11, and request that you get the remittance to us by that time. Those whose times expire after July 11, will be allowed to renew at the Special Price of $1.00 per year if you desire but no statement will be sent them.

This special offer of $1.00 a year is being made for the benefit of the subscribers alone and at a clear loss to the Yadkin Ripple, but we feel it our duty to make this offer. If you want to take advantage of it do so promptly, and we hope all who are behind with their paper will take advantage of this at once, as we cannot afford to carry subscriptions past due when we are making offers like this. But if any of you do not have the money to pay during this period just come in and say so plainly and we will be glad to extend you credit, and if any of you don't want this paper just say so when your time expires and it will be stopped. Don't let it run on and then say you don't want it. That is neither fair to you nor us.

You will always find this office ready and willing to help you if you will only show a fair and co-operative spirit.

The first furniture exposition which is attracting buyers and manufacturers from all parts of the United States, formerly opened last Monday morning in the new furniture exposition building, the largest building of its kind in the world, recently completed in High Point at a cost of $1,000,000. The exposition will continue until July 2.

The Varner case at Lexington has been compromised. It is stated that under the terms of the compromise McKary pays Mr. Varner $20,000 and he pays Mrs. Varner $20,000, she to go to Utah and enter an unopposed suit for divorce. The exact terms of the compromise is kept a secret.

SCORNS WEALTH FOR U. S. A.

Pennsylvania Woman Would Rather Be Washerwoman in America Than an Heiress in Sweden.

Philadelphia.—"I would rather be a washerwoman in the United States than an heiress in Sweden," declared Mrs. Jennie Hendrickson of Waterville, Pa., as she straightened up from the washtub and patriotically waved a sudsy garment.

"I couldn't think of going back to the old country," she said, "after having lived in the good old U. S. A. I would die of homesickness."

Word came to Mrs. Hendrickson a short time ago that two granduncles recently had died in Sweden, leaving her a share in a large fortune which, according to some reports, amounted to nearly $2,000,000. Mrs. Hendrickson engaged a lawyer to go to Sweden to look after her interests. He came back with the news that there would be no money for her so long as she remained in this country.

"I'll never go back, no matter how much money there is waiting for me," said Mrs. Hendrickson.

Wooten's Store Robbed; Three Boys Arrested

The store of B. E. Wooten at Branon was broken into Thursday night and about $1.00 worth of merchandise taken, including shoes, shirts, knives, razors, etc., and as a result of quick work on the part of Sheriff Moxley three young men were arrested Friday morning and placed in jail here charged with the crime.

The three young men are Fred Finney, Winfield Finney and Conrad Madton. When arrested the boys were making their way out of the county, and they had on some of the stolen shirts and shoes when taken and the knives and other material were found in their possession.

When arraigned before Squire Money Saturday morning they all were ready to plead guilty and Madison admitted that he broke into the store. Each one was bound to court, the Finney boys under $200 bond each and Madison under $300 bond. Fred Finney and Madison were placed in jail in default of bonds and Winfield Finney recognized for his own bond.

Folks who don't want to get caught better go out of Sheriff Moxley's territory to commit their crimes, because he is always on the spot.

Letter From Iowa

Charlie Norman and family, of near Union, spent Sunday at the Ralph Clampitt home, near New Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Wooten spent Saturday in Marshalltown.

Miss Cora Norman, who recently returned from her school work at Cleveland, Ohio, is at the Mark Brendle home.
