GRAND JURY REPORT

We the Grand Jury for February term Yadkin County Superior Court beg leave to submit the following report:

We have passed on 42 bills and made 11 presentments. A committee of three of our number visited the County Jail and find confined therein six County prisoners and two Federal prisoners. They claim they are properly cared for and we recommend that the roof on Jailers house and also the Jail roof be painted. We also visited the office of Register of Deeds, Clerks office and Sheriff's office and found all in good shape. We visited, by committee the County Home and find six white women, four white men, three colored men and one colored woman. They are all well cared for under existing conditions. The building will soon need some repairs.

Respectfully submitted,
M. H. BRYANT, Foreman.
S. G. HOLCOMB, Secretary.

EVERY FARM SHOULD HAVE A RADIO

Raleigh, March 17.—Figures compiled by the Department of Commerce of the United States show that there are only 1,363 radios in use on the farms of North Carolina.

This figure is lower than it should be, in the opinion of Dean I. O. Schaub of the School of Agriculture at State College. Dean Schaub states that every farm should have a radio and when the proposed state-owned broadcasting station is put into actual use, he feels that there will be a tremendous increase in the number of radios owned by farmers.

"Last year," says Dean Schaub, "there were 283,491 farms in North Carolina. This was an increase of nearly 20,000 over the number found in 1920 and when we consider that only a little over 1,000 of these farms have radios, our standing is very low indeed. This is due in part to the fact that we have only one radio station, WBT at Charlotte, which sends out crop reports and market news."

According to Dean Schaub, there will undoubtedly be a great increase in the number of radios on the farms in the near future. In some states, now, from 25 to 40 percent of the farms are equipped with this modern source of information. As a general rule, farmers have bought the best sets available. In 1923 it was found in a study made by the United States Department of Agriculture that on more than 1,000 farms widely scattered over the country, the average cost of the sets was $175.00. Today better and more easily operated sets can be bought for half of this amount.

On account of the strides that have been made in perfecting the radio and the wonderful information and entertainment prepared for the different broadcasting stations, Dean Schaub urges North Carolina farmers to give more attention to this new hired man and, where feasible, to put in a modern receiving set.

If farmers of North Carolina would plant early corn for hogging down, they would make many dollars of extra profit on the corn, says W. W. Shay, swine extension specialist.

FARMERS CALLED TO MEET; NEW CONTRACTS OFFERED

A meeting of the farmers and citizens of Yadkin county has been called for Yadkinville, on March 29th at ten o'clock for the purpose of organizing a new tobacco growers co-operative association.

Mr. Jno. L. Bray, a member of the organization committee, has called the meeting, and he explains that at that time the new co-operative contract will be shown, explained and discussed, and that the new organization will be known as the Old Belt Tobacco Growers association of North Carolina and Virginia.

Mr. Bray says this new association is in no wise connected with the old association and that it expects to profit by the experience of the later. Signatures will be asked to the new contract at the meeting here and also by agents who will carry on the work throught the county later.

COUNTY COMMENCEMENT WILL BE APRIL 10th.

County Supt. of schools J. T. Reece is busy making out a program and other arrangements for the coming county commencement which for years has been one of the main features of the country schools in this county. It will be held at Yadkinville, Saturday, April 10.

One change will be noted this year, the elimination of the high schools of the county from participation in the exercises. Preparation for the extra work among high school teachers has been a burden on them for some time, and it has been decided to let them devote their time to their own commencement programs and confine the county commencement exercises to the elementary grades.

The group center commencements will be held at the main centers for the purpose of elimination and securing a program to be presented at the county meeting. These group center exercises will be held as follows: Boonville, April 5th; Hamptonville, April 6th; Yadkinville, April 7th and East Bend April 8. All 7th grade examinations will be held this year at the group center commencements, and diplomas awarded at the county commencement.

Teachers and educators have placed considerable value on the county commencement at a stimulus to education of the elementary grades. It creates, they say, a county-wide sentiment for equality of educational opportunity with the coming together of the people and students with a common interest in the work and the success of the schools is a demonstration of the efficiency of the teachers. Teachers this year will be allowed to select many of their subjects, especially in the singing contests, they choose their own songs.

Prof. Reece has not yet selected a speaker for the occasion, which is always one of the main features of the county exercises, but will do so shortly.

NEAR EAST RELIEF CAMPAIGN A SUCCESS

The campaign which was launched in Yadkin County about the first of January by the Golden Rule Society for the purpose of raising this county's quota for Near East Relief is just drawing to a close, and the campaign was a complete success.

The idea was conceived by the chairman Dr. J. G. Marler of the G. R. S., to place this campaign in the hands of the school children of the county and request that they do unto others as they would that others do unto them, and by the aid of many of the teachers the children got on the job and carried the campaign to a successful consummation.

We are informed by the chairman that a check has already gone forward to the State Treasury Near East Relief for the sum of $250.19 and that small contributions continue to come in the daily mails. The county's quota was $360.00 and it looks as if every penny of it will be raised immediately.

This speaks well for the children of Yadkin county, who have never been in a campaign like this before.

The children were asked to raise $3.00 each and were offered as a reward for this service their choice of one of a number of newspapers and magazines, and more than a hundred subscriptions have been sent in.

The chairman also offered as the Grand Prize to the library of the school raising the largest amount a twelve volume set of the Century Dictionary, Cyclopaedia and Atlas, in an oak escrtoire, and this valuable set of books was won by the Jonesville school of which Mr. M. R. Haynes is principal.

Deputy O. G. Sills, of Harmony, and Prohibition Officers Demarcus, Trexler, Moore and Hall, of Salisbury, were in Davie last week and, near the Iredell line, destroyed a distillery. They also caught a Rash boy at the plant. He gave bond.
