SHOP AND MAIL EARLY

A few suggestions offered by W. E. Rutledge, postmaster, in regard to the preparation of mail to be handled during the approaching Christmas holidays:

Securely wrap and pack all packages, address only one on one side, see that your return address is on all packages and letters; and all mail for children in care of their parents or to their street address or box number. Packages containing fragile articles should be marked "fragile" and any package containing perishable should be marked "perishable."

The weight and size limit has been increased and we can now accept packages up to 100 inches combined length and girth and 70 lbs. in all zones.

Valuable third and fourth class mail should be insured; and packages containing jewelry or articles of considerable value should be sent by first class registered mail. And if late in mailing should be sent Special Delivery.

The office force is very appreciative of the cooperation it received in this respect last year and solicits the same hearty cooperation again this year. Boxes will be provided for local and out-of-town mail as usual. Christmas seals when used should not be placed on the addressed side but on the back of all letters and parcels.

YADKIN BOY WINS IN CROP JUDGING CONTEST

Raleigh, Nov. 29.—Five of North Carolina State College's crop-judging teams have won the intercollegiate judging championship and three times the teams have won the stockyard's trophy.

This year's winning team is composed of C. C. Murray and H. B. James of Oakboro, Stanly county and J. M. Parks of Yadkin county, with J. L. Zimmerman of Lexington as alternate.

These men were selected from a large group of agricultural students who trained for the positions on the team during the last six weeks. Coaching for the contest has been in charge of W. H. Darst, professor of farm crops and director of crop improvement work at State College.

The team as a whole won first place in seed judging, second in market grading and ranked high in crop identification, reports of the Chicago contest said.

College officials expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the record. Members of the competing teams are required to place them according to quality and to designate the grades under which they would be classified for market.

Editors note: Mr. J. M. Parks, who was second highest on the entire team is a son of Mr. W. M. Parks of Buck Shoals township and this is his senior year at college. The boy has many friends in Yadkin county who are glad to know of his record.

MAN MUST SWALLOW STEEL BALL EVERY DAY TO KEEP ALIVE

Charlotte.—Earl Lanford, Charlotte business man, must undergo an operation a day to keep alive.

His case is said by Dr. Gabriel Tucker, famous bronchoscopic surgeon of Philadelphia, to be the only one of its kind in the world.

Every morning, Lanford must swallow a heavy one-inch metal ball, pull the object down his throat by means of a string into the bottom of his stomach, and then pull it back again. Thus he is kept from starving to death.

Years ago Lanford found he was rapidly losing weight and a physician in Greer, S. C., told him his lower esophagus had closed and that he was starving to death.

Lanford then went to Dr. Tucker who performed the singular operation. An incision was made in Lanford's stomach and he was fed through a rubber tube for six months. Then his esophagus was opened by hydr ulic pressure—by the weight of water—and later Lanford was started to swallowing a small metal ball.

This was increased to its present size of slightly over one and one thirty-second of an inch in diameter and each morning Lanford goes through his tortuous routine of swallowing the ball and pulling it back.

"Some times the ball presses so hard against my heart, it 'knocks me out,'" Lanford said.

If his esophagus should close entirely as it did two years ago, it would probably mean Lanford's death and so he follows his daily morning routine—swallowing the metal ball to keep from starving.

A negro woman named Weatherspoon, of Winston-Salem was almost instantly killed and eight other persons were more or less injured in a head-on collision which occurred on Main street one block east of the court house here Saturday night about 6:30.

The driver of the colored car was most severely injured of the crowd except the one killed. He had a broken arm, while others had bruises of more or less serious nature.

NEW CHEVROLET SIX FEATURED BY 5,355 PAPERS

Featuring the most comprehensive announcement program ever used by the Chevrolet Motor Company, 5,355 leading daily and weekly newspapers in the United States introduced the new 1932 Chevrolet Six last week.

In addition to newspapers, the program profited for the use of radio, poster panels, phonograph records, canvas banners, dealer window displays, and several other media.

First news of the new Chevrolet was flashed in teaser manner by 25,000 posters in towns of 15,000 population and over. The posters, with a total length of 118 miles, comprised a showing 50 per cent larger than any manufacturer in any business has ever staged. The posters were paneled on Nov. 28, and for one week their message was "Keep Your Eye on Chevrolet."

The next news of the new Chevrolet came over the air. On the night of Nov. 29, the company began a week of spot broadcasting over 168 stations. "Keep Your Eye on Chevrolet" was the theme of the radio program.

On Nov. 29, also, Chevrolet dealers decorated their windows with teaser displays. The material for these displays was a part of 76 tons of promotional matter mailed by the Chevrolet Motor Company. Included in this tonnage were eight square miles of silhouette cardboard, 30 linear miles of canvas banners, and 1,100,000 lapel buttons.

On the morning of Dec. 2, teaser phonograph records, bearing nothing more than an address and a warning to play at once, were delivered by Uncle Sam to 1,280,000 Chevrolet owners in all parts of the country. The message on the record informed them that a new Chevrolet was on the way.

Further radio announcements, of one minute duration, were made over 151 stations on the nights of Dec. 2, 3, and 4.

Then, on Dec. 5, the 5,355 newspapers printed the announcement of the new 1932 Chevrolet Six, the 25,000 posters were changed accordingly, and the public was thronging its way to dealers' showrooms.
