RED CROSS CHAPTER FORMED IN YADKIN

Will Have Charge of Distributing Clothes To Needy

At a meeting in the courthouse at Yadkinville the latter part of last week of a large number of representative citizens of the county together with officials of the Winston-Salem chapter of the American Red Cross, a local chapter was organized with W. S. Church, of Boonville, as chairman.

The following persons were appointed as township chairmen and are now engaged in naming their local committees:

Deep Creek Township, Prof. S. G. Wallace, Harmony; Forbush township, Mrs. Paul Davis, Yadkinville; Liberty township, Dr. Marler, Yadkinville; Deep Creek township, Rev. Charles Hutchins, Boonville, route 2; North Knobs township, Mrs. Maud Greenwood, Jonesville; Boonville township, Mrs. Harrison Craver, Boonville; South Knobs township, Mr. S. S. Wagoner, Boonville, route 1; South Buck Shoals township, Mr. W. L. Denny, Hamptonville, route 1; East Bend township, Miss Maggie Tomlinson, East Bend; North Buck Shoals township, Mrs. C. B. Pinnix, Cycle.

The newly formed chapter will have charge of distributing clothing to the needy of the county during the coming winter, the clothing being made of government owned cotton. For the present distribution will be made mostly to children of school age.

WINSTON FAIR SET FOR WEEK OCT. 3RD

Event Expected to be Bigger And Better Than Ever

Winston-Salem, Sept. 15.—The first full week in October, as has been the custom for years, will be known as the Winston-Salem and Forsyth County Fair Week, and President W. N. Reynolds declares that purses for the horse races and prizes for agricultural and commercial exhibits this year are larger here than at most state fairs in the nation, and larger than at any other county fair in the entire Southeast.

Dr. T. N. Spencer, Secretary-manager, has completed all arrangements for conditioning the large number of buildings at the fair grounds here, and the race track is in the best of condition. He states that the number of free days has been increased to three this year: Tuesday all ladies will be admitted through the turnstiles without cost; Friday all school children from the white schools will find a welcome and will be admitted without tickets; Saturday all colored children of school age will pass free.

This year preliminary entries are far above the average, and while some had anticipated a decreasing interest because of general financial conditions, the management realizes that competition will be keener than ever for the larger cash prizes and certificates of merit, which mean much to producers.

The best in the show world has been obtained, L. D. Long, Treasurer, declares, and he bases this conclusion on the high prices which the management is paying for its attractions. Thaviu's pageantry, never before brought south on account of the prohibitive cost, will startle the fair visitors every afternoon and night in front of the grandstand. Seventy-seven experts in the dramatization of colorful scenes, taken from the Bible and from pagan histories, will appear in astounding array of unequaled costumes, changing daily. Supporting will be the Thaviu Band, noted for its radio and concert work.

SCHOOL OPENS WITH RECORD ENROLMENT

Yadkinville Shows Increase of 75 Over Last Year

Yadkinville high school opened Monday morning with a record-breaking enrollment of 479 students, 242 of which were in the elementary school and 237 in the high school. This is an increase of 75 over last year's highest mark and Mr. Crater, principal, advises that the records of his office show that about 75 elementary students have failed to enroll. One of the causes of this large enrollment is that Williams school has been consolidated with the local school and a truck is being operated into Yadkinville territory, bringing in both elementary and high school students.

Four buses are being used to transport children, one new bus having been added this year. There will be fourteen buses operated in the county school system this year and these buses will transport over 1000 students to four high schools of the county. The drivers of these buses have the safety of these children in their hands and they have been very carefully instructed as to the law concerning the driving of school buses. However, should anyone see a school bus being operated recklessly and endangering the lives of the students thereon, Mr. Reece superintendent, states that he will be very glad to receive the information as it is his purpose that the buses shall be operated as safely as possible.

Mr. Crater is assisted by a very efficient faculty this year as follows: Miss Madolin Johnson, 1st grade, Miss Grace Fleming, 1st grade, Miss Mildred Logan, 2nd grade, Miss Sara Holcomb, 3rd grade, Miss Eva Cranfill, 4th grade, Miss Mary Williams, 5th grade, Mrs. Edith Crater, 6th grade, and Mr. D. D. Martin, 7th grade; high school teachers are Miss Mary Harding, Mrs. Ethel Brumfield, Mr. M. B. Ritchie, Miss Merlie Sizemore, Mr. W. N. Ireland, and Mr. Crater, principal.
