

THE CASWELL NEWS.

A total eclipse of the moon will occur tomorrow night.

Mr. Julius Johnston is attending Rockingham court this week.

See the new Collar Button at Wilson's. It is the latest thing out in that line.

Mr. J. H. McDaniel, of Mayfield, Rockingham county, passed through town this week with a drove of fine horses and mules.

Attention is particularly called to our light weight over coats, J. M. Neal's sons.

Mr. Franklin Foster, an aged and much respected citizen, died suddenly at his home near Hycote on the 23d. He was about 70 years old.

Know all men by these presents that you can get the bottom prices at Neal's.

Mr. W. B. Swans, who had the misfortune to break his arm in falling two weeks ago, we are glad to learn is improving as rapidly as could be expected. He is now convalescing and could walk about outside if the weather was fit.

Exchange Warehouse, Danville, Va., Jordan & Bernard proprietors, is truly the Headquarters for fine tobacco, for high prices, for good warm fires and best attention both day and night.

Mr. J. C. Pinnix, Jr., of this place and Capt. E. S. Parker, of Graham, have formed a law partnership. Mr. Pinnix is a promising young lawyer and with Mr. Parker's ability, and his experience, makes a good firm.

Ammunition, shells, primers and wads at the very lowest prices at Neal's.

To Hunters—Shells, Wads, Powder and Shot at Vaughan's as cheap as anybody can sell them.

We have a letter from a gentleman at Seaboard, Northampton county, who desires to locate in Yanceyville and engage in the millinery, notion and fancy goods business, and says he has a friend who will also come and go into the general mercantile business. Plenty of room here for business of all kinds. Our people will offer inducements to business men who will come and help us get a Railroad and build up the town.

Sold at the Exchange Warehouse, Danville Va., Jordan & Bernard, proprietors, a few days ago, 1255 pounds tobacco at the handsome average of $62.00 round, including several grades. Pretty good.

New Hope Items.

Miss Florence Lea left Wednesday for Danville, Va., where she will attend the exercises of the Danville Female College.

Miss Kate Durham, of Semora, is spending several days with Mrs. N. T. Paine.

Miss Laura Powell has returned from Danville where she has been for several months visiting her sister, Mrs. John G. Lea.

Last week several tobacco buyers from Danville purchased the crops of some of our farmers, among the number Messrs. Hubbard, Lea, Taylor and Moore, who were highly pleased with their prices.

ROSEBUD.

Exchange Warehouse, Danville, Va., Jordan & Bernard proprietors, by continued hard work and special efforts for their patrons is still the leading house of the Danville Market in pounds sold, in prices and in HIGHEST AVERAGE.

From Danville.

The new year brought many changes in the management of the R. & D. R. R. Capt. W. H. Green, former Div. Supt. of this division has been promoted to Gen'l Supt. and moved to Washington, D. C., W. B. Ryder, Train Master and Div. Supt., and Jas. H. Walsh has been appointed Master of Trains with headquarters at Greensboro. Mr. Walsh has been long with the R. & D. and this is a deserved compliment and promotion. I wish Jim much success in his new office.

We have had all the weather imaginable for a week or two. Hail, snow, and sleet.

"Old Hickory" Jackson's notice, published in Danville Register last week, gave Pelham a call. She was ticketed to Reidsville from here and have heard nothing further from her.

Tell James Goslin, J. P. to give my respects to "Grover" when he gets to Washington, and tell him to stop that surplus, abolish the internal revenue and let us have more money for tobacco.

Runaway couples scarce for the season. Guess all the grown folks in Virginia are married. Very few single ones hereabouts, too.

Our new preacher, Rev. R. P. Troy, preached here yesterday. He made a fine impression and his discourse was impressive. I believe and hope he will be much beliked and think the Bishop did wise in his appointment.

Bad colds are prevalent with us and very malignant they are too. The Sargent has been suffering very greatly from one for some days, hence no letter from him last week and not well yet.

SARGENT BUZZUL.

Exchange Warehouse, Danville, Va., Jordan & Bernard proprietors is not ashamed to show up its average. For November its average $1240; for December $1115, and up to 17th January it averaged $14.56 for everything sold on its floor, and it sold largely over its proportionate part for the time at that. Good showing, indeed.

The following letter was received this week by a young man in this place from a young lady at one of our colleges. She seems to be in earnest, and no doubt is. Four long years denied to the ages of a great many who are denying their ages and doing every thing they can to make themselves look young make wrinkles that Magnolia Balm nor any other preparation for facial development can fill up, and will put them "on the shelf." We admire her pluck. All leap year proposals are not jokes. We have read recently of several marriages from proposals made by the young ladies already, not one month of the leap year gone. So let the marriageable young ladies, and old maids too—no telling what some of them might do—go ahead and, like this one says, "make hay while the sun shines" and in casting about we believe they can find those who will lend an ear and soon come to an understanding about making the trip through life together. There are many men single to-day because they dreaded to "propose." Now is your time, young ladies, and you should make good use of it. "Be not weary in well doing."

January 1888.

DEAR MR. — Since this is Leap Year and we fair maids of — College would fair escape another five months' incarceration we hereby agree to propose each to a chosen youth of Israel, as it were.

As this is probably the last opportunity of its kind that will present itself during our young maidenhood, and you will know opportunities like this should be embraced, we will make hay while the sun shines and choose us a husband before another four years has elapsed into our old maidenhood.

I am sure, from all I have heard concerning yourself, that we will suit each other admirably, and have only to add that "Barkiss is willing." So to make a long story short I ask WILL YOU BE MINE?

I offer to take your name, your fortune and your fame. Suspense is not good for the heart. Anxiously waiting a speedy reply and looking forward with great expectation to the day that shall crown my happiness by changing my present name to that of Mrs. — I remain

MARVELOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike artificial systems. Any book learned in one reading.

FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES of the Loisetian system:

I. Wholly unlike Mnemonics in Conception, Process, Development and Results.

II. The Natural Memory Restored to its right use and made powerful. Precisely as the Microscope and Telescope constitute a Scientific extension of the Natural Eyesight so is the Scientifically trained Memory an extension of the Natural Memory.

III. The power of Continuous Attention growing apace with the Memory.

IV. Memory and Attention being strengthened to the highest degree by the five lessons, the System is no longer used, except in rare cases at first, and afterwards in none at all.

"Prof. Loiset gave me a new memory"—Hon. Judah P. Benjamin. "It has greatly strengthened my natural memory."—Hon. W. W. Astor, late U. S. Minister to Italy.

"Prof. Loiset's system appears to me to warrant the strongest endorsement."—John C. Minor, M. D. "I regret that it did not form a part of the curriculum of our schools!" Stephen Rand, Esq., Paymaster of the U. S. Navy.

"There is not one institution of learning in the land that would be without its aid if its merits were known."—Rev. A J McInery, Rector of St Mary's Church, Annapolis.

"I have formed one class by correspondence and have decided that hereafter I shall try to induce all my students to master this system before they engage in their linguistic studies under my direction."—Rev Francis B Denio, Prof of Hebrew in the Bangor Theological Seminary.

"Prof Loiset's system is a great boon not only to the student of shorthand, but to the veteran reporter."—W W Wilson, Stenographer.

"Since learning your system I find I can soon learn to play any piece of music without notes, a feat impossible to me formerly."—Eliza Cawthorne. "No man has a memory so poor that this method will not greatly aid it; nor has any one a memory so good as not to stand in need of the help which it can furnish."—Prof Wm Harper of Yale.

"By his system I have already learned one book at one reading, and I intend to learn many more in the same way."—Sir Edward H Meredith, Bart. "I confidently recommend your system to all who desire to strengthen their memory and cure their mind wandering."—Bernard Ellis, Esq. "It is a perfect memory system."—Weekly Budget.

"I do not say that I made myself a walking Hume or Macaulay but I do say that what I had learned I knew perfectly, thanks to your system. The result fully marks (150)—Reginald E Murray, Esq. "I have no hesitation in thoroughly recommending the system to all who are in earnest in wishing to train their memories effectively, and are therefore willing to take reasonable pains to obtain so good a result."—Richard A Proctor, the Astronomer.
