Fowle and Dockery at Yanceyville.

Last Thursday the Gubernatorial candidates spoke here. Although it was raining and had been raining for several days, there was a very respectable crowd, but not one-third of the number that would have been here had it been a pretty day. Judge Fowle was introduced by Col. Geo. Williamson, and though having a deep cold and very hoarse, proceeded to make a very instructive and entertaining speech of over an hour. He uses some fine practical illustrations on the tariff. He says the people pay one-third of their earnings to protect the manufacturer. He showed how it affected farmers, laborers and the general welfare. His position on the county government was the true one and the one which every liberty loving white man should support. His whole speech was the plain, unvarnished truth. The Democratic party truly has the interests of the laboring men at heart and in the Mills Bill it offers that which will necessarily increase the welfare and prosperity of the laboring classes as well as the whole people of this great country.

Col. Dockery's speech was an ingeniously couched campaign document of misrepresentation. It was wily, the artifice of a sly demagogue to gain favor and applause from an ignorant class. It was calculated to array that class against those whose interests he knew were identical. We have little sympathy with that party, or the man offering himself as a leader, which, or who, will strategically discuss important measures, and name enemies of those in dependent interests or that should be considered in opinion. But this was his aim. He harped on hard times, the tariff, the Mills Bill and county government in a manner really without meaning. He was forced to call himself a "plain farmer" and stated that if Capt. Alexander had been nominated by the Democratic convention at Raleigh for governor he would not have accepted the nomination against him. Our Alliance men took this as a bid for the Alliance vote, which it was. The Democrats of Caswell well know that year by year they are gaining ground and they confidently believe that by a strong pull, and a pull all together, they will have an overwhelming victory for Fowle and Cleveland in November.

A meeting of the Republicans held in Anderson's township the following delegates were selected to represent that township in county convention to be held in Yanceyville on the 2nd: Ephraim Walker, James T. Moore and Dr. S. S. Sells. The sentiment of the convention was for Wilson Cary for the Legislature, B. S. Graves for Sheriff, Felix Roan for Register of Deeds and Geo. O. Wilson for Treasurer. Ephraim Walker, Chmn.

ALLIANCE NOTES.

[We are anxious that some one in each of the Alliances in the county will give us all the Alliance news and all other news in his action each week. And we would be glad to have short communications from the brethren for the good of the order. Make them short and to the point.]

1224 Alliances in N. C.

W. A. Dardin, Speights Bridge, N. C., is State Business Agent.

The sub-Alliance which makes the largest and best exhibit of Agricultural products at the coming State Fair, grown by its members, will get the premium of five tons Raleigh standard fertilizer.

President Alexander has issued a notice to the effect that all commissions of Organizers in counties where there are county Alliances will expire at the first meeting of the county Alliance. Deputy Organizer can only be appointed hereafter by the State Organizer.

The Secretaries of the sub Alliances are urged to be prompt in making out and mailing their quarterly report for the quarter ending Sept. 30th to the county Secretary. The county Secretary should have your report as soon as possible after your last regular meeting in this month.

Rev. R. L. Abernethy Withdraws.

The following letter from Rev. R. L. Abernethy was published recently in the Raleigh Chronicle.

At the earnest solicitation of many friends, and after mature and prayerful reflection, I beg to withdraw my name as candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction on the Prohibition ticket. In the lengthening shadows of evening, musing my "three score years and ten," the esteem of my friends is more than ever dear to me. Thus, I am sure I should lose in a measure by my candidacy, while I am now convinced that evil would result thereby, both to prohibition and to my friends and fellow-citizens in the State. I think my friends in North Carolina will testify that during my life I have never hesitated to follow where duty pointed the way. The nomination came under the guise of duty and I accepted. I now plainly see that this present Third party movement will not only imperil the white man's supremacy in the South but it will damage the cause of prohibition almost incalculably. Since the war, when I voted at all, my ballot has always been cast in favor of Democracy; and as I am now, and always have been in full sympathy with that party on every question except that of Li-cess, if, as is plainly to be seen, one of the old political parties must triumph in this contest, I shall not allow myself to be used as an instrumental in putting my friends in North Carolina under the dominion of negro rule. Hence, I hereby decline the candidacy and withdraw from the Third party, and earnestly recommend my life-long friend and brother, Maj. S. M. Finger, who is a Christian gentleman, a prohibitionist and a scholar, to all my prohibition brethren in the State.

In the present situation, I earnestly advise the withdrawal of the prohibition ticket in North Carolina, and the support of Democracy in the present contest. We cannot afford to impose negro supremacy upon our fellow-citizens. In an off year (next year, if you please), I earnestly beg all good men of all parties to unite with me, outside of politics, in putting this infamy of all infamy, the liquor traffic, out of our State.

I am now an old man. Most of my labors in the past, how it has been consecrated to humanity the people know. And in this fight against the arch enemy of earth and heaven, though my sword be powerless as I stand, at least strike for God and the Right. Yours truly,

R. L. ABERNETHY.

As far back as living free trade, the most striking thing about the Mills bill is that it is the most moderate reduction of tariff duties that has ever been attempted in this country. The average duty levied under the present tariff is 47 per cent, and under the Mills bill the average would be about 40 per cent, a reduction of only 7 per cent upon all commodities taken together. Of course there are some things upon which the duty is reduced more. For instance, the duty is taken off a number of articles called raw materials, which are used by manufacturers in their work in the fabrication of their products. And as they receive this great benefit of having their raw materials free, or with a comparatively small duty, the bill wisely provides that the articles manufactured by them when brought into the country shall pay a lower rate of duty than they did before.

Judge Thurman at Fort Huron.

Our Government belongs to the people. They have decreed its purpose, and it is their clear right to demand that its cost shall be limited by frugality, and that its burden of expense shall be carefully limited by its actual needs. —Grover Cleveland.
