

POU ASKS VOTERS

TO GET ON BOOKS

James H. Pou, Jr., chairman of the Wake County Democratic Executive Committee, Saturday issued a statement urging all Democratic voters to be sure they are registered for the primary on June 5. Registration will close on Saturday, May 22.

Mr. Pou points out that those registered in the general election in 1924 need not register again unless they have changed their residence, and emphasizes the fact that registration for no other election counts.

The statement of the chairman follows:

"All Democratic voters who were registered for the last general election, and who have not changed their places of residence since that time, are eligible to vote in the June primary without again registering. The precinct lines are the same as they were in 1924.

"Registration for the City of Raleigh election and Raleigh Township Bond elections has caused considerable misunderstanding in the minds of the voters in Raleigh. Unless the voters were registered for the 1924 general election, that is, when Governor McLean was elected, they are not eligible to vote in the June primary; and they are not eligible if they have moved their residence since that time. They should not allow the registration for the city elections and the various bond issues to confuse them.

"Voters living in the territory recently annexed to Raleigh Township should register in the precinct to which their territory was annexed.

"It is hoped that every Democratic voter in Wake county will see that he or she is properly registered. It will only require a few minutes time. In case of doubt, phone or see your Registrar or Mr. Harvey Correll, secretary of the Wake County Board of Elections, Raleigh, N. C.

"The registration books close on Saturday, May 22."

MIGHT GET GOOD CAR WITH LOAF OF BREAD

New York, May 8.—A vision of the finest motor cars on the market being obtainable along the latter part of 1933 in exchange for a standard loaf of bread—with probably a chauffeur in full uniform thrown in for a hunk of coffee cake—might well rise before an optimistic eye.

According to these figures, the 1914 cost of living dollars is now worth only 59 cents, whereas the automobile dollars of that year is now valued at $1.16. In other words, it required 1,482 bushels of wheat to buy the average motor car in 1913, while only 552 bushels are needed today. If this rate of 71 bushels less every year continues, no doubt the citizens ten years from now can only be coaxed to take a car away from the show room if its equipped with a bread box, filled by the dealer.

Other items of the report are: "In 1925 there were 3,839,302 cars and 497,452 trucks produced in the United States and Canada.

"Of the world's motor vehicles, 81 per cent are owned in the United States.

"The automobile industry employs more than 1,500,000 motor vehicles 3,445,642 persons.

"The total of taxation required for the Nation's highway bill was about $1,000,000,000, of which nearly $300,000,000 was raised by bonds. Taxes paid by the motor vehicle during 1925 totalled $667,000,000."

CORRECT TIME-KEEPING IN THE HOME

For many years electrically controlled clocks have been used in public places. Now, the need of a similar timepiece for the home is being filled by the Philadelphia Electric Company. The same electric socket connection serves as is used for a flatiron, fan, etc. The impulse which motivates the clock are sent out from a master device in a central station.

This is the latest thing in household conveniences. Cost of installation and maintenance is small; and due to high state of electrical development, fear need not exist that current will fail. One large electric system in the Southeast, comprising 1,500 miles of 110,000-volt transmission line is said to be entirely regulated from one master clock.

Those who find fault with Red Grange for going after easy money are not entirely consistent. Many a chap has left college to go into the bond selling business without a word of criticism.

BRINGING CITIES CLOSER. THE OLD RIFF RUNNER. LIGHTNING AND OIL. MR. KINGSMORE'S CASE.

When Mussolini recently told the world he would cut railroad time between Naples and Rome five hours by tunnelling five mountains, it was suggested here that railroads between Chicago and California might do the same to the unnecessarily long running time between the Pacific and the Great Lakes.

Now lo and behold, the railroads have done it! The shorter running time begins in October, and west-bound travelers will save one entire day in California for business or sunshine.

Santa Fe, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, making the cut in time simultaneously, are managed by able railroad men.

Cutting time means bringing cities closer, helping business, making men's lives longer. A recent cut in time between Seattle and all the Pacific Coast south set a good example.

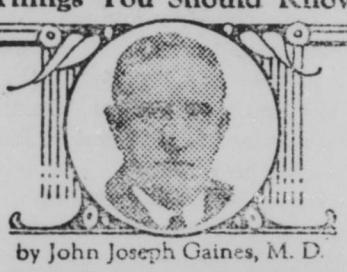

Soon passenger-carrying flying machines will bring Chicago seven hundred miles nearer to New York and two thousand miles nearer the Pacific.

Bernard Shaw says Great Britain must take the coal fields, nationalize and operate them, thus cutting out the industrial cancer that causes so much trouble. "Britain's Government must have the courage and the financial intelligence" to do this, says Shaw.

His suggestion will send a shudder through the rich coal mine owners, for he observes truthfully: "The mine owners themselves will supply money to buy their property, since what they get from the Government will be taken from them by collectors of the income tax, the supertax on estates and duties."

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

OLD FAITHFUL.

Your physician bends all of his energy for the welfare of yourself and your family. He sacrifices his own comfort in order that you and yours may be happy and comfortable. He is a scientific man, of course. His constant aim is to so perfect himself that he may render you better service. The hours are not his; the days are not of his choosing; his constant task is an endless search for better methods of treatment—for more palatable medicines—for more harmless agencies for the relief of suffering.

Believing that the physician is in possession of an easy way of making money, there are many who would imitate him, so far as surface markings are concerned. There are cults and healers galore; they even guarantee cures; they advertise to the world of their alleged superior skill. Remember—the capable physician never has need of advertising. The incapable impostor can get his victim into his clutches by no other method. So long as people are gullible—so long as people can be deceived, just so long will the charlatan flourish.

The quack is not aligned with efforts to eradicate disease. It was no humbug that discovered diphtheria anti-toxin; the cults are not hunting for cures for cancer, tuberculosis and other enemies of the human race. No advertising quack made the canal zone safe for human activities; nor drove yellow fever from the South.

And still there are those who cry the faithful, hard-working family physician who happened to be there when Baby Sue came into the world; when Grandma all but died of pneumonia! Ingratitude has been called the chiefest of sins. Think of this, when you are tempted by the glaring advertisement of the quack.

How would high finance in America which sympathizes so sincerely with itself in the income tax question, feel if it were living in Britain?

Great is the endurance of man. No animal with four legs can do what man does with two legs. You read of the Riff warrior, sixty-seven years old, Hammouch Ben Hadjje, who ran seventy miles across the hot desert between sunrise and sunset, carrying a peace message to French headquarters.

Even more remarkable was the feat of an Irishman, nearing middle age, who in a six-day race in New York City ran more than 600 miles between Monday and Saturday and was subsequently elected Mayor of Long Island City.

That tough Irishman in the six days could have run any race-horse in the world to death.

Lightning at Bakersfield, California, strikes and destroys 500,000 barrels of oil in a Standard Oil tank—made of steel, presumably.

Is there no way of stopping such waste? What about a coating of reinforced concrete on the sides of the metal tank, or a coating of cheap reclaimed automobile tire rubber covering the whole tank? And especially what about lightning rods? Are they a delusion? Was Franklin's idea worth nothing, and did the Frenchman Danton impose on the public when he peddled lightning rods before he took charge of the French Revolution?

Americans eat more sardines per capita than any other race, which is good for sardine men, bad for sardine eaters. If this country depended less on a can opener and more on good cooking it would be healthier. Canned food, including canned sardines, is a blessing, a convenience and an economy. But it should not take the place of competent cooking, and too often it does.

Mr. Kingsmore, of Maryland, convicted of knocking his wife down and repeatedly kicking her, is moderately described by the poor wife as acting "downright onery." The "onery" gentleman was sentenced to five blows with the cat-o-nine-tails on his bare back.

What do you think of that punishment? Is it too much or too little? For the wife beater, five hundred blows would be too few. There are nine tails to a "cat," so the five blows will amount to forty-five stings.
