ZEBULON TOBACCO MARKET

When we want a certain thing, we generally go after it and pay for it. The certain article that we need will not take feet and come to us. We have got to make an effort to get it. We should by all means pull together and help to make Zebulon's tobacco market the best market in the existence of the town. We should let the farmers know that we will have the best buyers we have ever had, and too, that the warehousemen will see to it that the farmer gets a good price for his tobacco.

The only way for Zebulon's market to be larger than last year on opening day, is for every merchant in town to boost the tobacco market.

We have got to offer some inducement. We will have to see the farmer is protected, and also that he gets a living price for his weed.

We have been told that nearly every tobacco farmer within 20 miles of Zebulon has been visited by other market men. These men know about how much tobacco will be sold this season throughout this section, and some of them can almost tell about the price that the tobacco will bring.

NOTICE

We hope that those who wish to have personal or other local items published in this paper would make it a rule to send in these items as early as possible. We are making a new rule and expect to abide by it. We will not accept locals or personals later than 10 o'clock Thursday a. m. Also we will not accept new copy or change of ads later than Wednesday at 1 p. m. If you want an ad in this paper, bring it before 1 p. m. on Wednesday of each week to insure publication the same week.

ON CASH BASIS

On account of scarcity of money we are compelled to put our job department on cash basis. When work is delivered the cash must be forthcoming or the job returned to this office. We have several accounts due us, and when the statement is mailed it is generally put aside and we hear nothing from it until we go over and check up, and find it not paid. We have to pay our bills—if we can get hold of enough money, and some times have to borrow to keep the office running. Pay as you go, and all of us will be better off.

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

If there is anything in your town worth talking about, ten chances to one your own newspaper had a hand in putting it there.

Every town gets its money's worth through the home newspaper. It's the wagon that carries all your goods to market. It ought to be kept in good repair. It will pay to grease it, paint it and keep its running gears in good shape and shelter.

It is the guardian and defender of every interest, the forerunner and pioneer of every movement and the sturdy advocate of law and order.

FRANCE AND UNCLE SAM

The mercurial and temperamental French are sore just now at Americans because Uncle Sam wants France to pay what she owes or to make some satisfactory arrangements to do so. The French, like all other people of Europe, who participated in the great war are taxed to death and in the face of the depreciating franc they are in an ugly mood and are naturally looking for some source of responsibility for their troubles.

Since the forbidden fruit was eaten in the Garden of Eden people have blamed others for their mishaps and misfortunes. It is natural—no nation, however, should blame its neighbors for insisting upon the collection of an honest debt, especially when contracted under such circumstances as the debt of France.

The French when about to give vent to bitter feelings against America should remember that but for her timely aid in men and money the whole of France would today be under Germa domination and control.

How soon people forget! The friendship however, between the two nations is based upon too substantial a foundation to be shaken by the vaporings of a relation element in France—Uncle Sam can never forget the friendship of France who came so nobly to his rescue when forced to resort to arms in defense of his rights against a powerful foe.

These acts of friendship are indelibly implanted in the hearts and the minds of the people of the two great nations and something more than ordinary causes would be required to make these old friends fall out.

SUMMER ADVERTISING

There are some business firms that make it their practice to let up some what on their advertising in summer. Sometimes they may argue that many of their townspeople are away.

But if that is the case it is also usually true that a great many visitors are in the region at the time, and are carefully looking over the newspapers and making such purchases of things as they need. When people are away on vacations, they have considerable time in which they can put in shopping, and often buy more than they do at home.

Frequently they like to carry some articles home as a kind of souvenir of their trips. The firms that keep their advertising up through the summer draw in a lot of transient trade of people who are visiting in the locality or who pass through it as tourists.

A great many firms have goods in stock at this time that will be a source of expense if carried over to another season. Styles may change, money has to be borrowed to carry goods that do not sell readily. A great many enterprising firms find that they gain the best results by cleaning up their stock very largely as they go, and getting fresh goods on their shelves. They accomplish this result by advertising freely during the summer.

It is tremendous help to a firm if it can give the impression that it is pushing for trade every day and week in the year. The firm that advertises constantly gives that impression. It makes the public feel that it is alert all the time to pick up goods at a bargain, and pass its goods values on to the public.

Metropolitan department stores know the game of merchandising, and it is noticeable that they keep up a great deal of advertising through the summer. If it pays for them, it will pay for the stores in Fayetteville.

PISTOL LAWS

F. Trubee Davison's National Crime Commission announces as its first step in tackling the crime problem a conference to agree on some uniform legislation throughout the States to control the miscellaneous buying and pistol-carrying nuisance. A joint committee of the commission and States' Attorneys is meeting in Denver to compare notes and draw up regulations to be presented in the various States.

There are laws against promiscuous gun-toting already, as well as against the promiscuous sale of any kind of fire-arms. But almost anyone can walk into a store and buy them just the same. Every one knows that most of the gun crimes are casual and the result of merely having the weapon handy at the moment of emotional stress, whether of fright or desperation or mere anger or what not.

If deadly weapons could be kept out of hands unfit to be trusted with them, there would be an enormous shrinkage in the number of murders committed. But how to bring about actual control of this item of hazard is really a big question.

If the commission and the prosecuting attorneys can work out anything workable along that line it will be welcomed.

STATE AND NATION QUESTIONS

What is one of the best evidences of the fact that the government of the United States is operated and controlled by the big business interests of the country?—It is the unlimited amount of money these interests are willing to spend to elect men to public office, who will do their bidding.

This was strikingly demonstrated by the recent Pennsylvania primary slush fund and again on a somewhat smaller scale in Illinois, where investigators have so far, accounted for more than $600,000 spent in the McKinley-Smith senatorial race.

The expenditure of these great sums of money to buy public office involves all sorts of corruption, is disgraceful in the highest degree to the states in which it takes place and shows conclusively the character of material of which our law making bodies in Washington is composed.

The man whose place in the senate has been bought goes in as a direct hireling of those who put up the money to buy the office for him and may be depended upon to do their bidding—thus our under republican rule is a plutocracy pure and simple and just as far remote from a representative government as the East is from the West. Now can we expect anything but discriminative legislation, or that which favors the classes as against the masses with hirelings to make the laws?

What chance have the poor farmers for relief unless it suits "Big Business" to give it to them. If it is economically wrong to assist the farmers in securing a market for their surplus crops so as to encourage and build up the agricultural interests of the country, how does it happen to be economically right for the government to assist the railroads as it has been doing thus. Authorizing and permitting them to hold up the people in exorbitant freight rates in order to pay big dividends to stock holders on highly watered stock.

This is accomplished through the Interstate Commerce Commission, a government agency, but it has the sanction of "Bib Business" and is therefore alright.

This favoritism is the direct result of plutocratic government—government of, for and by the rich.

These expenditures in Pennsylvania and Illinois make the late Newberry slush fund which at the time created a national sensation, look, in the parlance of the struggle like 30 cents.

SOUTH GEORGIA WEED SALES SATISFACTORY

Atlanta, August 4.—One million lbs. of tobacco were sold at auction in south Georgia yesterday at prices averaging 20 per cent greater than the growers received last year. The quality of the weed was considered superior to crops of former years.

Growers were pleased with the results of the opening day sales at the 22 towns where auctions took place. Estimate of the total value of the crop this year run from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000.

The average price at Hazelhurst was 20 cents a pound. Waycross was above 20 cents and 23.96 at Douglas.

Tifton averaged 25c and approximately 250,000 of lugs and wrappers were offered for sale. Nashville, Ga., average 26c; Camilla averaged 23c, the highest at Thomasville was 53c, Alma 18, Fitzgerald 26c.

At Valdosta, Ga., three warehouses were filled to capacity and conservative estimates placed the amount of tobacco on the floors at 400,000 lbs. The average price for the first day was 21.90 per hundred pounds.

Prices at Bainbridge, Ga., averaged three times more than last year. Warehouse figures showed 42,174 pounds of bright leaf tobacco were sold.

begin August—16 and will continue for two weeks through August 28.

The Institute, which is a new phase in the University's program of adult education, is attracting wide attention both in this and other states, judging from the number of registrations and inquiries being received by R. M. Grumman, director of the Institute.

The Institute consists of three schools each offering short courses of study. The schools are the school of Citizenship, the School of Recreation and Physical Education and the Fifth annual Coaching School. The first two mentioned are new schools, the coaching school having been successfully conducted for the past four years under the direction of Robert A. Fetzer, director of athletics in the University of North Carolina.

140 CASES OF TYPHOID FEVER IN THE STATE

Eight more cases of typhoid fever were reported to the State Board of Health last Saturday bringing the total number of cases of this disease developed in North Carolina since July 1 to 140. Only one new case of infantile paralysis was reported. No deaths from either disease were reported.

Three deaths from infantile paralysis took place in June in North Carolina, bringing the total for the first six months of the calendar year to seven. Two deaths since July 1 have boosted the total deaths for the year to nine, a report says.
