Lovely Christmas Party.

On Wednesday evening, December 23, the home of Mrs. L. M. Massey was the scene of a lovely Christmas party when Mrs. Massey entertained her bridge club at dinner and bridge.

The beautifully appointed tables were placed in the living room, lighted by candles and the myriad twinkling lights of a Christmas tree.

At eight o'clock a two course turkey dinner was served after which the tables were arranged for a four progression birdge game. At the conclusion of the play, Mrs. F. L. Page held high score and was presented with a set of dainty hand-made satchet bags.

Mrs. A. R. House Hostess.

Mrs. A. R. House was hostess to the Wednesday afternoon club this week. The house was still in festive dress with Christmas greens and gay wreaths.

Sewing and bridge were enjoyed by the guests. Colorful and delicious refreshments were served.

Club Activities

The "Community Chest" was active in taking Christmas joy and cheer into the homes of many needy families in the community. Supplies were distributed, and children were made happy with gifts of fruits and candies.

Have you been to the cemetery lately? If not, ride out there and see what is being done.

Under the supervision of Mrs. S. W. Harris, the cemetery has been cleaned up and necessary preparations are being made for the planting of shrubbery. All those who have shrubbery that they will donate are requested to notify Mrs. Harris, who will advise them when she is ready for it. Everyone in Zebulon should be deeply interested in this project and co-operate fully in carrying out this plan to improve and beautify the cemetery.

The American Home, Garden and Art Department will meet Tuesday afternoon at the club house. Mrs. Irby Gill, chairman of the art department,

Coming To a Good Country!

Greetings folks! I'm only five days old and there's only 7 1-4 pounds of me but I'm wishing you all a happy new year.

This is a funny old world, I've come to, and I didn't like it much at first because nobody seemed to think I needed anything to eat. But I was hungry and did I get fed? I kept the family up three nights and they agreed to give me anything including onions and liver, but a few ounces of milk was all I wanted.

My only duties right now I understand, are to eat and sleep. I try to keep one ear open tho, part of the time to hear the remarks the visitors make about me. Some of them say, "She's the very image of Jimmy," others think I look like my sister Jean. They know I have a nose like my mother and feet like my dad. I think I look just like myself. My mother says as soon as I'm old enough to go out she's going to take me to my Daddy's office and smear printer's ink on my fingers and make a writer out of me. I'll try not to disappoint her and maybe some day you'll read very scholarly articles or perhaps a best seller by Joanne Grote.

Nothing like being ambitious, especially in time of depression. I've heard a lot of talk of depression since I've been here. I am not sure what it is but I'm told, if I had been a boy I would have been called Panic because I came in the depression, so I'm glad I wasn't a boy.

As long as I find a bottle of milk handy every three hours I'm not going to worry about a thing and I hope all of you will have plenty of bottles of milk for 1932.—Joanne Grote.

SEEN AND HEARD

Little Judy Robertson was, just before Christmas, telling her mother of Mrs. Creech's having bought some socks to give Frederick Strickland. "I suppose," said Judy's mother, "she's going to put them on the Christmas tree." "Oh, no! no!" excitedly declared Judy, "they are for Frederick. He wear em on he legs!" And, come to think of it, wouldn't a Christmas tree look queer with socks on!

A Zebulon matron went to Raleigh this week to have glasses fitted. Her small son stated that his mother was "going to see an optimist." Others might also need such a trip.

A well known citizen of the Wakefield community has frequented the stores there through the Christmas holidays. He leaves for home about six hours after arrival, but soon returns. It is reported that he has to report to his wife every six hours. Anyway he is more fortunate than Jiggs.

A young matron seen begging her husband for a dime, saying he owed it to her and threatening him with no supper if she did not get it. Did she get it? No, she did not. Did he? Ask him.

NOTICE OF SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

In the district court of the United States for the eastern district of North Carolina.

In the matter of S. T. Barham, Bankrupt.

Under and by virtue of the powers vested in me as Trustee, of S. T. Barham, Bankrupt, and in pursuance of an order made by Honorable W. B. Duncan, U. S. Referee in Bankruptcy, I will, on Saturday, January 16th, 1932, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash at the home of S. T. Barham, in Little River Township, Wake county, N. C., the following articles of personal property:

131 barrels of corn, 10 goodmules, one high class saddle horse, 17 high grade milk cows, one fine bull, seven fine heifers, one share of the capital stock in the Maltonia Fishing Club, which owns or has fishing rights in Moore's Pond, in Franklin county, and all farming implements, tools, wagons, carts, plows, hoes and such other articles of personal property as may be found that belong to said estate.

The above described property will be sold in single or very small lots in order to give everybody a chance to bid on every item offered for sale. Each bidder is asked to be prepared to settle for his purchases in cash, at the time of the sale. The sale is made subject to confirmation of the Referee without notice to creditors.

This 1st day of January, 1932.

SELECT BEST BIRDS IN MATING POULTRY

Correct mating of poultry for greatest profits during the coming year is a difficult problem and one that is usually conducted as a "hit or miss" proposition.

N. W. Williams, practical poultryman in charge of the State College flocks, says mating poultry is a hard job for the experienced poultryman and that the inexperienced man generally gives it no consideration at all. However, it is one of the most important jobs to be undertaken at the beginning of the new poultry year.

First the grower must know what he wants. If he wants egg production, he must mate his birds that have been producing eggs. If he wants show birds, he must use those that have the standard conformations.

To mate birds for egg production, the poultrymen ought to understand what body factors indicate high egg production, says Williams. Select those of standard weight that are vigorous, broad, deep and with large body capacity. Such birds will lay more eggs and the chicks will be stronger than those from birds which do not have such desirable characteristics. If the hens lack some of these good qualities but are good layers, use a male bird which will correct the deficiency in the chicks. No bird should be used in the breeding pens which has a tendency to be weak constitutionally.

In mating for show purposes, careful breeding must be done through several generations. Birds with any disqualifications such as split wings, wry tail, side sprigs and foreign color in the feathers should never be used as breeders because the undesirable features have a tendency to crop out in the resulting chicks, says Williams. He urges that much attention be given en to selecting the male bird both when breeding for eggs or for show purposes.

Seventeen Cleveland county poultrymen will keep a careful month by month record of their projects this year in an effort to learn of the most profitable methods of handling poultry.

When you take Bayer Aspirin you are sure of two things. It's sure relief, and it's harmless. Those tablets with the Bayer cross do not hurt the heart. Take them whenever you suffer from:

- Headaches
- Colds
- Sore Throat
- Rheumatism
- Neuritis
- Neuralgia
- Lumbago
- Toothache

When your head aches—from any cause—when a cold has settled in your joints, or you feel those deep-down pains of rheumatism, sciatica, or lumbago, take Bayer Aspirin and get real relief. If the package says Bayer, it's genuine. And genuine Bayer Aspirin is safe.

Aspirin is the trade-mark of Bayer manufacture of monoaceticacidester of salicylic acid.
