CONTEST

THIS, THAT AND THE OTHER

(By The Editor's Wife.)

Last week we gave you a number of long articles on yard and garden written by national experts, and a few short items by local women. We have on file a number of short articles on different flowers, sent in by our community gardeners at our request and shall use them in the weeks to come. To my mind they are worth more to us than the others. Save them and you can have a booklet written by our folks and for our

For Lindbergh Baby Search Still On

Out of all the columns of print about the Lindbergh baby, only a few facts stand out. They are: The $50,000 ransom has been paid in marked bills by Col. Lindbergh. The baby has not been returned.

Every effort possible is still being made to find the child. Those carrying on the negotiations with the kidnapers, say they have established "contact with them again and great hope is yet held that the baby will be restored to its parents.

April Party

I do not know the origin of April Fool, or why folks are bigger fools in April than the other eleven months. Anyway, the biggest and best April Fool party was given at the home of Mrs. S. H. Hoyle in Wakefield, Mesdames Hayle and Joyner being hostesses of the occasion. The invited guests were members of the Wakefield Band, with three members of Rogers Band—Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Finch, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Joyner, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Chamblee, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rogers and Mrs. Ed Richardson being present.

First on the program was the initiation, each as their turn came, being dressed in a robe, and surrounded by the others, had to locate a riddle which was attached to the robe. Since this was blown by different persons at different times, it is not easy to locate.

Afterwards we were placed on the floor of honor, where an electric bulb was concealed; but no one was a better judge than the one occupying the floor as to the duration of time he held the honored guest.

The stunt of passing odd objects under a sheet was the height of fun, as it is not easy to identify objects unless we have our eyes to discern.

Next, the guests were invited into the diningroom for a regular chicken feed. For this the men were decked with ladies hats which long ago had served their purpose, as was thought, but now served another purpose. The servings consisted of sparkling water, seasonably salted, and saucers of chick feed. On returning to the sitting room it was discovered that some error had played a noticeable part in the candy; since candy should be made of sugar and not of cotton flour dough.

The contest proved a brain test in the true sense, as we had no use for our brains for so long.

The salad course with hot waffles was indeed refreshing, as we had been led to believe we would get something appetizing for so long.

Marigolds are among the best flowers for summer growing, with their golden colors; best of all when it has dried, for it can be made into salve for family use. The farmer's wife needs to learn to live to fit her every need and that of her neighbors. Flowers that are both pretty and useful are best. Be sure to raise Marigolds.

MRS. C. F. W.

Mrs. E. B. Stallings prefers pantries to any other annual. She says that her favorite shrub is the snowball, which is easy to grow and beautiful when in bloom, and very hardy.

Hatchery To Close

The Zebulon Mutual hatchery has had a very successful season. Mr. O. D. Massey, who has operated the hatchery, has given the most careful attention to the business and has had the best hatches since the plant was installed three seasons ago.

Eggs for hatching will be received only two more weeks—next Monday, April 18th, and Monday, the 25th. Those wishing to have chicks to raise for summer use, should set them now. The weather is warmer, yet not too warm to raise chicks most successfully. The market indications are that prices will continue good. So fill a tray for one of these last two hatchings.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Let no one think that only those living in Zebulon can enter the Yard and Garden Contest. The contest is open to all readers of the Record who are interested. It must have headquarters in Zebulon, because it is a central point, but that bars no one from entering. It is being sponsored by organizations both inside and outside of town, and was begun for the purpose of making our whole community more beautiful.

Smith-Williams

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Westbrook Sanatorium on April 1st at 3 p. m. when Miss Laura E. Williams, of Zebulon, N. C., became the bride of Mr. Walter F. Smith of Lincolnton, N. C.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. R. Williams of Richmond, Va.

The bride was attired in a tan suit with brown accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of butterfly roses and lilies of the valley.

She entered on the arm of Dr. Paul V. Anderson of Richmond, Va., and the groom had as his best man, Mr. J. A. Young of Petersburg, Va.

The wedding march was played by Mr. W. E. Shackleford of Richmond. Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a trip in N. C. They will make their home in Richmond.

LAST MEETING OF P. T. A.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week the Wakelon P. T. A. held the last meeting for the school year. There was a good attendance. The program consisted of reports from the chairmen of the various committees for the year, and an account by Mr. Moser of some things the school has accomplished during the term.

All officers were reelected, with the exception of Mrs. F. L. Page, who has already served the limit of time. Her place as secretary is to be taken by Mrs. C. E. Mizelle.

The Record hopes to publish the annual summary of P. T. A. activities in next week's issue.

W. M. S. Meeting

Mrs. J. L. Stell had charge of the program at the meeting of the Missionary Society of the Zebulon Baptist church last Monday afternoon. Fourteen members were present, despite the bad weather.

The topic—Heroines of the Cross—was ably presented by Mesdames E. C. Daniel, Isaac Strickland and Lela B. Horton.

U. D. C. Meeting

The April meeting of the Finch-Bissette chapter of the U. D. C. was held Friday at the home of Mrs. K. W. Ballentine in Middlesex. Mrs. J. B. Outlaw was in charge of the program, which specially featured a reading by Mrs. E. P. Liles. Mrs. Lela Horton gave the annual report of the activities and contributions of the chapter, which was most encouraging. At the conclusion of the program the hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be held in Zebulon, with Mrs. Lela B. Horton, hostess.

Prompt Action

Hunter Ellington, Wake County register of deeds, closed his office with a record of having passed on 139 loans to farmers without any delay.

"The government requires a certificate in each case that there is no prior lien and that must be made out before we can pass the checks, but they have all gone out the same day they came in, although we do not receive a penny in fees and have no extra help to look up the records on each borrower," said Mr. Ellington. The loans, which have ranged from $50 to $300, have averaged about $150. Mr. Ellington has been informed that there will be a total of 1,000 loans in this county.

Flour For The Needy

Wake county has been allotted 211,220 pounds of the flour furnished by the government for the needy. The first consignment of it is being milled in Durham and is expected in Raleigh on April 14. There will be 149 barrels of this allotted to the county outside Raleigh.

Wake county is to receive two more shipments.

In no case is the flour to be donated to any except genuine charity cases.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

On Friday evening of last week, Miss Doris Horton was hostess at bridge to a number of friends.

Early spring cut flowers and flowering pot-plants were used as a setting for the three tables in progress during the evening. Also table appointments appropriate to the spring season were used. At the conclusion of several spirited progressions, high score prizes were awarded Miss Ruby Temples and Mr. Eugene Privette.

Guests of Miss Horton included the following: Misses Anne Kemp, Guarica Ferebee, Edith Outlaw, Ervian Massey, Ruby Temples and Katherine Whitlock, of Wendell; Messrs. John Hill, Waylon Richardson, Eugene Privette, Robert D. Massey, Harvey Strickland, and Robert Dawson.

The hostess was assisted by her mother in serving a dainty dessert course with coffee.

Recorder's Court

ZEBULON RECORDERS COURT
Arthur Duke was accused of disposing of mortgaged property. He was tried by jury and found not guilty. It was proven on trial that the time price charged was above the cash price more than 10 per cent and it was on this ground that he was cleared, since this made the mortgage illegal.

Nona Winburn was tried for fornication and adultery and found guilty; given 90 days in jail.

Haywood Pace was found guilty of assault; found guilty, but discharged on payment of the costs.

John Nihozinoki was found guilty of trying to sell a half pint of whiskey to a merchant on main street. He was taxed with the cost. This young man was raised in an orphanage, has no relatives, and no job. It is hoped some farmer will give him work for the summer. Because of need, it is said he tried the liquor business to get something to eat.

When the case of Paul Brantley was called he failed to answer. He had four charges against him: assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill; living in fornication and adultery and using store for immoral purposes; driving a car while drunk and transporting liquor; assault by holding a boy and "sicking" a police dog on him and also threatening to shoot the boy. Those who went on his bond were left holding the "sack."

Owen Ferrell was found guilty of drunkenness and disorderly conduct; discharged upon payment of the costs.

Cigaret Parade

The usual monotony of a spring morning in town was broken Wednesday by the sound of an electric calliope, or graphophone with loud speaker, coming down main street. This calcade of three cars down the street, turned and stopped in front of John Bunn's place of business. Men, boys and a few women came from every direction and soon 75 or more were gathered about the parading paraphernalia.

All this music, all the excitement and gathering crowd were caused by an advertisement of a new cigarette tobacco made by the Brown Williams Co. As the crowd stared and listened, one farmer was heard to remark: "The robbers and profiteers have come to town. Look at all those fellows in overalls and rags. They are the ones that were robbed by the cigaret folks to make them rich while the poor farmers starve." And, we walked on, thinking of the remark, and saying to ourself: "Yes, and they are getting ready to do the same thing yet again."
