HIS, THAT AND THE OTHER

(By Mrs. Theo. B. Davis)

T. and O. Every year, just about this time, I find myself envying those women who do it doesn't pay to can vegetables and fruit when they can be bought so cheaply, and who have time to rest. Always worries me to see food wasted and I wear myself to a frazzle trying to save everything. And must confess that I don't envy the canners when winter comes.

Back in Catawba County they used to make a dessert I never saw anywhere else—until I made it elsewhere. They called it "flummery" and made of the juice of dewberries or blackberries. Here's how: Strain and sweeten the juice, bring it to a boil and thicken with corn starch. Add a pinch of salt and continue the cooking until the starch will not taste raw and the mixture is quite thick. Pour it into a bowl that has been wet with cold water, and when the flummery is cold it can be removed by inverting the bowl. Served with whipped cream, plain cream or milk—or just served—this makes a dessert far less messy than the berries in a more liquid form. And it tastes very much like it sounds.

In this day of cold drinks every bit of fruit juice should be saved. When you want a fancy "punch," mix together several kinds of juices—say, grape, cherry and strawberry—add some lemons and enough tea to make a quantity you need. A pinch of ground ginger helps if you like the flavor. Sweeten to taste and pour the mixture over crushed ice and see if it is delicious. Or, if you have enough fruit juice, you don't need lemons and

Funeral of Mrs. Lee

The funeral of Mrs. Ophelia Lee who died on Sunday was held at her home near Hephzibah on Monday afternoon at 2:30. Services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Theo. B. Davis, assisted by Rev. R. F. Hall of Fuquay Springs, a former pastor. Members of the Hephzibah choir and a quartet from Raleigh sang some of the old hymns that Mrs. Lee had loved. Relatives and friends thronged the house and yard. After the service the body was taken to Raleigh and interred in Oakwood cemetery. Nephews of Mrs. Lee were pall-bearers.

While she had not been able for months to go about much, Mrs. Lee had not been in bed many days when the end came. She will be greatly missed in the community where she had for fifty-four years lived in the house where she died. For more than sixty years she had been a member of Hephzibah Baptist Church, and even when she could not attend its services she kept her interest in its work.

One son, Ed Hugh Lee, survives, with two grandchildren, and a great-grand-child.

J. I. White

Badly Hurt

Mr. Jno. I. White, book-keeper for the Consumers Exchange, bought himself a new Chevrolet coupe last Saturday and started to visit his family in Nashville. When about three miles this side of Nashville, he met two other cars filled with colored men. The first one side-swiped Mr. White's car, striking the front left fender. His car spun around and the second one struck it, turning over.

Mr. White had two ribs broken, right hip dislocated, knee bruised and other minor injuries. He is in the hospital and hopes to be out again before long. His car was wrecked, and when we say wrecked, we mean wrecked. Both the other cars were Chevrolets, one a coach and the other a sedan. None of the cars had been driven over 2,000 miles.

There were six passengers in each of the two colliding cars. Eight of them were carried to the hospital, and some of them are reported to be in a serious condition. No blame so far has been fixed for the collision.

ANNOUNCEMENT

There will be a Laymen's Meeting at the Wendell Methodist Church on Sunday morning at 11:00. Hon. Kale Burgess will speak. Zebulon laymen are asked to be present.

GROWING DAHLIAS

Dahlias may be grown in central and eastern North Carolina with the same success that they are propagated on the mountains if the proper varieties are used. The plant furnishes some of the most beautiful and colorful blossoms to be had in any flower garden.

The flower produces a wealth of bloom in a multitude of colors at a time when other outdoor flowers are scarce. It blooms constantly from June until frost and there are thousands of varieties with a wide range of color combinations. In size, the bloom varies from one to 15 inches in diameter.

While dahlias are peculiarly adapted to the western section of the state, there are many varieties suitable for the warmer sections.

Probably the five best and most satisfactory dahlias for the central part of the State are: Treasure Island, Jane Cowl, Jerseys Beauty, Fort Monmouth and Mrs. Ide ver Warner. Some new introductions may surpass these but they will have to be unusually good. There are several other varieties which are also satisfactory for this section. These are: Roman Eagle, Sagamore, Buckeye Pride, Barbara Redfern, Chemar's Eureka, Regal, Kentucky and a number of others equally as worthy.

The controversy frequently arises as to the relative merits of roots and plants. Plants give as good results as do the hills grown from roots in Mr. Schmidt's opinion. The principal objection to plants is that their root increase is not dependable, especially in adverse seasons. However, plants cost only one-half as much as roots and make excellent blooms.

A compliment always passes for more than its face value.

"WOLF! WOLF!"—AND HERE IS A WOLF

Owing to there being so many names of people on our subscription list who have not paid for sometime, we have had considerable trouble in getting the list revised correctly. We do not want to leave any one's name off that ought to be on our mailing list, nor do we want to stop the Record of any one who wants it. These are the reasons why we are still sending the paper to all whose names are on our mailing list.

Probably the subscription of half those getting the paper expired in 1931 or even before. We have been sending it to them since the first of this year, thinking they wanted the Record after we had shown them that we intended making it a real newspaper for this section. If you don't want the Record, then send us fifty cents (stamps or money) and we will stop it. As we have said, before, send us a postal saying you want it and you will pay later, and it will be sent to you till the end of the year.

But the cry of "wolf" is real. Every name of unpaid subscribers will through necessity be dropped before July unless we are notified to the contrary. And, our readers should remember that unless a subscriber notifies an editor to stop his paper, he is under obligation according to the law to pay for the time he receives the paper.

Now, send us that postal that you've intended sending for the last month, or if you have a dollar bill lying around that you can't use, send it; we can!

Lawyer Slugged And Robbed

Dunn.—David Williford, city attorney for the town of Dunn, was knocked down and robbed of $1,186 belonging to the town one night last week. Williford was on his way to attend a meeting of the town board and turn over to them the money which he had collected for the town when someone slipped up behind him in a dark alley and slugged him. He was found a short time later lying face downward and unconscious, with his pockets turned inside out.

No clue as to the identity of his assailant had been discovered up to Tuesday night.

MAY DESTROY PROFITS

It is a wise plan to use home-grown feeds for poultry but it is a poor policy to substitute poorer feeds in an effort to keep down expenses. To do so may cut deeply into the profits to be expected from the flocks this season.

"Poultry has suffered along with other farm crops but due to the drop in feed prices in proportion to the prices being received for eggs and because of the mild winter permitting production to stay at level, poultrymen have been much encouraged to go ahead with their work," says Roy S. Dearstyn, head of the poultry department at State College. "However, some poultrymen have attempted to increase their margin of profit by decreasing the feeding or substituting certain feeds which do not give as good results. One of the main substitutions being practiced is to use vegetable protein feeds for animal protein feeds. Soybean meal and peanut meal are good if used in limited quantities but they should not entirely displace the animal protein especially at this season of the year when production is heavy and the eggs are being used for hatching."

Any radical change from the usual methods of feeding at this time is likely to be reflected in the hatchability of the eggs or the livability of the chicks, Mr. Dearstyn says. The breeding hens should be fed so that they will produce only the highest quality of eggs.

Mr. Dearstyn insists that green feed, plenty of sunlight, an adequate mineral supply and milk in some form should be fed the birds to get the best eggs for producing healthy chicks. If the breeding birds are to go through a long laying season and maintain body weight, they must be fed a balanced ration. It is particularly unwise to depend on grain feeds alone without mash.

BRITAIN WANTS REPORT

The British Consul General in New York has been instructed by his government to draw up a report on the suicide of Violet Sharpe, servant at the Morrow home, in New Jersey. The suicide is said to have been caused by insistent questioning by the police as to her knowledge of the Lindbergh kidnaping.

CONTROL OF TOBACCO BUD

WORMS AND HORN WORMS

Bud worms and Horn Worms usually do considerable damage to many of the tobacco crops of this county, each year. They can be very easily controlled, however, and it is not necessary to hand pick them as many farmers do.

The tobacco bud worm is the same insect as the corn ear worm, and usually prefers corn to tobacco. This makes it very easy to control them with poisoned corn meal. Carefully mix 1 pound of Arsenate of Lead to 50 pounds of corn meal, and place a small pinch of this mixture in the buds of the young plants during the early morning hours while the buds are open. (It is very important that the poison corn meal be placed in the top of the plant in and around the bud) Quite a large number of tobacco growers have been using this mixture for several years, and have reported excellent results in bud worm control. In case you wish to make up only a small amount of the mixture, use 6 heaping table spoons full of Arsenate of Lead to 1 peck of corn meal. Do not wait until the crop is seriously damaged before applying the mixture. Begin now and repeat the application about every 10 days to two weeks until the plants are topped. This will give almost 100 percent control for bud worms and help control the early horn worms.

Crops that are being damaged by horn worms should be sprayed or dusted for the control of these insects, however. Make up a mixture of 1 part Paris Green to 5 parts of Arsenate of Lead, and use from 1-2 pounds to 2 pounds of this mixture to 50 gallons of water. Spray the plants with this spray as often as necessary.

Those who have good dusting machines can also get good control by dusting their plants with Arsenate of Lead at the rate of 4 or 5 pounds per acre. These mixtures are recommended by our Experiment Station and have given good results during the past few years.

Do not allow tobacco insects to damage your crop this season, but control them by the use of these poisons.

Jno. C. Anderson, County Agt.

The warehouse contained about 20 bbls. corn, 4 tons hay and 2 carloads fertilizer. The corn was consumed, the hay scorched and the sacks burned off the fertilizer. The loss was approximately $1,000, partly covered by insurance.

A Great Number Take Treatment

There were probably between 150 and 200 persons taking the typhoid vaccination here last Friday. This was the first of the series of treatments, so it is not too late for others to begin today. The three treatments will give immunization for 18 months at the least, and should be repeated every three years. Do not be misled by thinking one injection of the serum will make you safe for one year. It takes three to be complete. Dr. Flowers says that state and county working together in this way have done wonders for this section; and that he has had but one case of typhoid in eight years.
