EXPLANATION

The serial story promised Record readers was ordered and arrived in due time. The trouble was that it was set in type too wide for our columns and had to be returned and exchanged for columns that are the width of ours. But it is "bought and paid for," and you shall soon have the pleasure of seeing it appear in weekly installments.

ANOTHER EXPLANATION

Last week the one and only Linotype in the Record shop broke down and a new part had to be ordered and received before work could be resumed. This week, in addition to extra work, one of the most important members of the office force has been in bed a great part of the time. In such a small establishment such a loss is keenly felt. Bear with us; we shall try to be on time next week.

THEY ALL GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

HOCKEY STAR. "Bill" Cook, Captain of the N. Y. Rangers, says: "A hockey player can't afford to have nerves. The way I guard my nerves and yet smoke all I want is to smoke only Camels. Their taste sure hits the spot!"

PHONE OPERATOR. Miss Marian Erickson says: "Camels do freshen up my energy in a delightful way. And they are the mildest cigarette I know. Of course I smoke a lot! But Camels never upset my nerves."

ANY TIME AND ALL THE TIME

Here are friends that enjoy each other's company any time and all the time. There's never a moment, all the year round, when Madam Dairy Cow doesn't welcome DRIED BEET PULP—never a time when its name is not music to her ears.

For DRIED BEET PULP is her tried and best friend under all conditions. It safeguards her health—boosts her milk production—banishes off-feed days—and increases the value of other foods in her ration by aiding thorough digestion. It has succulence, palatability and bulk. And you can feed it right out of the sack. It does not have to be soaked before using.

DRIED BEET PULP fits any ration. It replaces part of hay, and all or part of silage. It supplements failing pastures. It is a valuable ingredient of any feed mixture. It keeps indefinitely; will not mould or sour; rats or mice will not touch it.
Good for lambs and beef cattle.
