THOSE "BABY BONDS"

The "Baby Bonds" issued by the government are on display and for sale at the postoffice here. They are very pretty and the only trouble in the way of our owning some is that they do not seem to have any that may be exchanged for a deficit.

NOT THE PAPER, BUT THE COMMUNITY

To us it seems that the reason a man should take the paper published in his own town or community is not so much for the value of the publication from a literary or political standpoint, but as a measure of his interest in matters pertaining to his home, his church and his school. It is entirely probable that the news in a small paper would be unimportant to a big daily; that the social functions it mentions might be of little interest to strangers; that even the weather and the condition of the crops might fail to thrill city-dwellers. But they are all of consequence to those concerned with them and give a fairly definite picture of what is going on.

Announcements of meetings, church services, etc., may be worth little to most readers the greater part of the time; but occasionally they are of great value and the small paper is always glad to give them prominence. Do you love your community? Do you like its paper? If it is not what it should be, help make it better.

LAW HAS NO LIFE

We would like for the advocates of state controlled liquor, if it is not supposed to be state controlled as it is, to tell us what, if the state can't control it when it is outlawed, will happen when this wet camel gets its head into the tent? The best the Hill Bill can offer is better (?) liquor and a cloak for the bootlegger to carry on his business behind the state fence. Law within itself is dead, till made alive and effective by public sentiment and behind officers of the law.

LARGER PAPER PLANNED

For some time we have hoped to be able to offer our readers a larger and better paper. We are still not able, but have an idea of trying it anyway. It will cost us more money and more work, but we feel it might be of more service to the community. If you care for the change, please pay up your subscription in order that some bills may be met, and we shall do our best to increase the size of the Record.

HURRAH FOR JUDGE DANIELS

A few days ago Judge Frank Daniels rendered a decision in court in Goldsboro holding that landlords who had not contracted with farm tenants for the year 1934 be compelled to retain them in the same relationship and under the same terms for the year 1935. This decision came too late for those tenants who had to give up their cotton and tobacco acreage last year and move, but it will save many who otherwise would suffer great hardship and loss in 1935. What the government failed to do, Judge Daniels has done and is to be congratulated in using some common sense and justice in this case.

IT'S NONE OF OUR BUSINESS BUT—

If Raleigh votes for a city manager we believe it will remove police, firemen and other politically appointed office holders and appointees from the influence and control of professional politicians. This is the bane of a government that controls appointments that are made with the primary object of strengthening its power and continuing its existence.

WHISKEY WHIFFS

The advocates of the Hill Bill point to the raid made a few days ago by federal agents on bootleggers and distillers around White Lake in Eastern Carolina as an argument for repeal. It is our opinion that that only shows the indifference of North Carolina officers to the Turlington Act. What is there to hinder a repetition of this even with the Hill Bill a law?

INDIFFERENCE DEADLY

A prominent newspaper man stated in an editorial sometime ago that it did not make any difference to him whether we have legal liquor in North Carolina or not. Just such statements of an attitude from prominent men who are personally dry is all the liquor crowd wants to carry on their nefarious business unmolested. Just this sort of thing is what has made conditions such as they are in North Carolina and it would nullify any other law just as surely.

DO YOU KNOW?

Does Zebulon have any ordinance concerning vicious dogs being allowed to run at large? Not long ago a minister in this town told of being chased on the street by a bulldog and we know of several cases where children and even grown persons have been bitten as they were passing peaceably along our sidewalks.

No owner of a dog wants to see his pet killed, for the old law, "love me, love my dog," has never been repealed. Yet there is another and a higher law which commands that one love his neighbor as himself, which could hardly be interpreted to mean exposing him or his child to pain and danger because of a dog's not being kept in bounds.

With the present epidemic of rabies among dogs the danger from being bitten is greatly increased. The Pasteur treatment is expensive and painful, yet the only safe thing when a dog has not been vaccinated against rabies.

For the sake of us all we respectfully recommend to the mayor and the town commissioners that in case there is no rule covering such cases, one be formulated. And if there is such a rule, it should be enforced.
