

Senate Passes 3 Per cent Sales Tax

NINE BASIC FOODS EXEMPT

Weary hours of debate on the sales tax ended Friday afternoon when the senate at 3:00 passed a 3% general sales tax. Nine basic foods, such as meat lard, flour, molasses are exempt as the bill now stands, but A. J. Maxwell, Commissioner of revenue estimates that these nine exemptions will cost the state $1,500,000 annually, so they may decide its too much to lose in view of the fact that the money raising ability of the revenue bill is some $5,321,000 below allotments already made.

The upper house has also voted to divert $630,000 a year from the highway fund to go into the general fund.

A number of new bills have been introduced in the house during the week. Perhaps the most important were those introduced by Dr. McDonald whose proposals would give small school communities the same chance for extension of their terms as larger units have. It seems at last that the house is getting interested in schools.

Other bills were passed by the house to increase the pay of public utilities commissioner from $500 to $5,500 a year; to boost the salary of parole commissioner from $3,000 to $4,500 a year; to increase legislators pay from $600 to $900 per year. require railroads to maintain minimum crews of five men.

New house bills of interest are measures to make kidnapping a capital felony and to require automobiles to have safety glass.

I stood watching the tempest rage,
And then I blessed the rain;
For rain is not unlike the tears,
That soothe a soul-felt pain.
And when I saw the trees bend low
Before the blasting wind,
I thought of wills bent down—
Of weak ones who had sinned.
And then a lull —!
The sun came out so bright,
It seemed symbolic of God's love
That makes all wrong things right.—Hunter.
