AWAY WITH ALL ABSTAINERS!

"How can you make people drink at noon?" is the bold headline of a liquor maker's announcement to the trade, an authenic copy of which the American Business Men's Research Foundation asserts has come into its possession.

Here are several excerpts from this candid document of an American liquor-making and importing firm. They are submitting to the consideration of those persons who voted for repeal because they swallowed the propaganda of the drink interests and honestly believed repeal would promote temperance. Incidentally, this first release to the liquor retailer promises a sales play which shall be "an effective assault on the great market of non-drinkers or very infrequent drinkers." This objective is to be attained by a barrage of advertising.

"Newspapers of all leading metropolitan cities will carry frequent advertisement . . . stressing its (the imported French drink's) very real virtues . . . National magazines will feature the whole . . . story."

"At least four drinks ordered where there might have been none before," is the glad news predicted as one of the results of the new sales plan. Just one result. Another is that "in almost every instance, those who would have refused a drink will take this distiller's product."

All is fair in the liquor trade. It is pointed out that thousands take time out between luncheon and dinners for a few minutes' refreshment, ter I judge he did not. Frankly I was ashamed to write (though I realize now it would have been the only right thing to do) for I did not have the money and saw no way of getting it. You DR. CHAS. E. Since I had caused you to wait so long I thought maybe I could get a few more dollars to "sorter" pay as interest for having you to wait so long but I didn't get enough. However, I am sending the whole amount and I guess you will be glad to get that—for you surely had thought you would not get even that. But before I got what I did I had determined to try to work this summer and pay it myself, if I could not get it some other way. Since the Business Manager did not take the responsibility it was left to me and I could not bear to think of my owing

Mr. Davis, you don't know how much I ap ciate your spirit in dealing with us. Most pe would have been harsh but you have manife a wonderful spirit, a kind of understanding patient spirit. I appreciate it greatly—thou don't deserve it at all. I am sorry things tu out as they did and that you had to suffe it, but I thank you for waiting patiently so Though I do not know you personally, I that you are a real man and shall always re you as such.

You would not go on your neighbors' premises and suck his eggs and kill his chickens. Oh no! Certainly not. But if you keep a dog that does, what is the difference? There seems to be frequently non-alcoholic. The bold type is ours. By using the new plan inroads are being made into this great crowd of non-drinkers, the circular declares.

And so on, ad nauseam. How about it, Mr. and Mrs. Honest Believer in Repeal?—Christian Science Monitor.

THE SPIRIT AND THE LETTER

The letter we publish below is of such an unusual sort and shows such a wonderful spirit that we can't refrain from printing it for the benefit of others. This young woman has just finished, we understand, Junior College and we sincerely hope she may continue till she has completed her education. The world needs more of her type.

After receiving so many letters that breathe an entirely different spirit, from those who owe us, we are encouraged to endure much more after receiving one like this. Its spirit is such that we commend it not only to the young, but to older ones who may profit by its reading. Read it and see if you do not agree with us that it is one of the most beautiful letters you ever read, not excepting those wonderful love letters your sweetheart used to write you.

Record Publishing Co., Zebulon, North Carolina. Dear Mr. Davis:

At Last! Enclosed you will find a receipt for twenty dollars ($20) for the last issue of _______. ______. I should have written you before and explained conditions to you. I asked the Business Manager to do so long ago, but from your letno assurance that any vaccination for rabies is effective. Equally wise men maintain confliviews upon that subject. #### SEEN AND HEARD

Sure Enough Not Our Business

A young business man of Zebulon was telling us yesterday that "they" were going to boycott him for not closing on Wednesday afternoon, and asked me what I thought about it. We do not know who the "they" are and told him we did not know and besides that we were not directly concerned and had no opinion to voice nor advice to give.

Some Spelling

Dave Privette got a package the other day addressed to "A. D. Priratte or Prinette". He says the reason the writer could not get his name straight was another man wrote the order.
