

Works' Shows Here For Fair

Contracts were signed last week for the appearance of the Works Greater Carnival Company to appear here on the big midway. Mr. R. H. Works who hails from Pennsylvania, carries the cleanest carnival in America. There are no gambling concessions of any kind and the fair has turned over the entire midway rights to the Works shows. Every concession works for ten cents with no buy back or cheating wheels. Merchandise will be used only. No cash prizes will be allowed on the grounds during the week. The Works Greater Shows carry fourteen highclass paid attractions and six big rides. There are no girl shows with the carnival or any immoral attractions.

Every show can be visited by all children and ladies at any time. The company will arrive here on Sunday, and everything will be up and ready Tuesday for the grand opening of the fair. The company is featuring a great all-star colored minstrel show carrying 16 people on this one attraction, and featuring the famous Hamilton family of Cincinnati, Ohio. This family numbering 14 people, are all high class performers, even down to the youngest child who is billed as the child wonder. Their tent theatre seats 1,500 people and is equipped with scenery and opera chairs. The advance man said it is one of the best attractions on the road. All other shows are of the highest calibre. Four of the rides are brand new this spring.

After the death of Mrs. Alice Hayden, at Eau Claire, Wis., $81,000 in old currency was found hidden in her house.

Special Days At The Fair

Well folks, here is a part of the great program we have in store for you, when this breezy little paper goes to press, but remember there are other features yet to be added. On Tuesday morning at 10 A. M. the great parade will leave the starting point and will wind itself through the main part of the city down the main entrance of the Fair Grounds, where all the school kiddies will be admitted FREE to the grounds. Then the Greater Works big carnival will open in full blast and the big FAIR will be on for a great week's run of fun and frolic. Mr. Bob Works, the owner of the show, will cut all the prices for the school kiddies to 5 cents each for all the rides shows, etc., regardless of the regular admissions.

Boy, what a day for the kiddies. All the big FREE ACTS will be presented and everything will be in full blast. The Night Program will be a special one, with speakers and addresses of welcome and other events.

Wednesday will be Wendell, Raleigh and Wake Forest day, with the special added attraction at 8:00 P. M. featuring Pat Alderman and his CHORUS of 60 voices. Pat is one of the world's Greatest Community Chorus Directors and will be here in person. Other Events will also be presented.

Thursday will be Middlesex, Bailey, Sims and Spring Hope Day with special added attractions all day long. At night Shorr's Department Store will offer the Big Style Show and Parade with 25 beautiful Models and showing the Styles of 1936. Mr. Shorr says he will have one of the finest and most elaborate style shows ever offered in Eastern Carolina. All the acts and other features will be offered.

Friday will be Wilson, Rolesville, Knightdale, Bunn and Selma Day, and the fair association has arranged a special day for these visitors. At night the Old Fiddlers' Convention will be offered with cash prizes to the String Bands, Single Players, etc. The Old Fiddlers and Young Players will come into their own on Friday night. All Acts, etc., will also be on the program.

Saturday will be Zebulon and Farmers' Day and the Community Auction Sale where you can sell anything from a Straight Pin to a White Elephant. This sale is all free to all so bring in your mule, old furniture, old auto, and what have you to sell. You will find thousands of bargains, and you can exchange anything with your neighbor you wish. The Auction Sale starts at 1:00 p. m. sharp. There is no cost to you for the man who auctions off your goods. Of course there is the regular gate admission charge at the gate for the fair.

The Public Wedding will be held at night if a couple can be secured for the event. Free acts will be offered Saturday afternoon and Saturday night. Other special events will be announced later through the local papers. This year's fair promises the greatest Fair ever held in Zebulon. Make your plans now to be here every day and night.
