

Philmore Willips

Heretofore I've defended the country dames but now I've a word for the lovesick fellow who doesn't seem to be able to get along with the girl. "Just what kind of boy do the girls like?" I asked a brunette.

"What kind of boys do I like?" she queried reflectively. After a moment's hesitation she assumed a more wide-awake pose and answered, "First of all he must be a blonde."

"Tall and slim," she added.

"Third, he must be nice," Nice had been used to describe anything from a cave man to a bashful country boy. I needed to be enlightened as to the meaning.

He must have enough money to take me to shows, must dress neatly and be really nice. You know what I mean." I did.

From her description, her most recent crush fills the bill satisfactorily, but if some of you fellows think that you'd fit the description a bit better, I promise to introduce you to her.

The young man drove up in the front of the house, parked his car, climbed out and entered the house. (By the way, he wasn't at home). A young lady appeared from somewhere toward the back of the house and she was heard to say, "Hello Sweet Man" in her sweetest tone.

There was an audience so the gentleman got a bit pink behind his ears. The girl went swiftly into the hall and took him in her arms. Not the man but the new puppy. It was time to feed him.

Until rain falls again, I'll be rambling along.

Rolesville News

"I don't like to preach in churches where there are no children," said Rev. R. L. Brown of Texas in a very timely sermon Sunday night in our Baptist church. We, too, miss our children from our services during the epidemic.

The revival services have been postponed until the first Sunday in September.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bass of Durham visited their uncle, Mr. W. B. Bowling, Sunday.

Mrs. J. T. Evans is spending some time with her brother, W. B. Bowling. We are sorry to say that Brother Bowling doesn't show much improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lentz visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ren Williams, Sunday.

Our community was saddened during the past week in the death of Edgar Brown and Mrs. Genade Williams.

Alice Wall of Wake Forest spent last week with Alice Williams.

Mr. Ed Towler is in Greensboro in the hospital. We wish for him and all of our people a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Bowling announce the birth of a son, Richard Lindsey.

Mr. Francis of Wake Forest is helping Rev. H. O. Baker in a meeting at Pearce's this week.

Good Will Picnic at Corinth
The people of this community are looking forward to the Good Will Picnic which will be held on the lawn of Corinth Holder School on Thursday night of this week. We are striving to make this one of the most enjoyable and successful yet.

Rocky Cross News

The dry weather we had in June has been followed by rain in July and all crops and gardens and grass have made a great improvement. Some people say they believe their tobacco is going to get too big.

Our friend L. A. Hagwod was motoring to Spring Hope very hurriedly last Saturday and venturing to pass another car over near Cox's tourist station, his car turned upside down twice, but no one was hurt much.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pulley and family of Zebulon visited Mrs. Pulley's mother and family last Sunday.

Our friend William Griffin is suffering with some kind of eye trouble.

We are having trouble with water since we have had so much rain in the ditch we are digging is only 5 feet deep so guess the water will soon run out.

The Thursday evening holiday that the merchants in Spring Hope observe proved to be a little harmful to Bullocks Cash Market. Immediately after he closed last Thursday three colored boys went in at the back end of the house but some white man saw them and reported it to the police who broke them away before they had time to get much booty. So they were taken down to Nashville and given lodging in a nice brick building called a jail. I understand that they found about four dollars in money but didn't learn whether they got any goods.

Some of the women in this community are preparing to have some thing to eat next winter. Mrs. Elijah Brantley has canned and preserved 85 quarts of black berries and huckleberries, and she plans to can about 150 more of peaches, apples, beets and cucumbers. The women, or least a part of them, have robbed the birds of their menu; they have picked black berries during the day and scratched red bugs at night.

Lee's Chapel News

As a church we want to thank one and all for their presence at the show Tuesday night presented by the Crazy Tobacco Tags. You know the larger the Crowd, the more collection. We will use it for a good cause. We also welcome you to our church services Saturday and Sunday.

We are glad to report all our sick folks improving.

Mrs. J. W. Strickland, Jr. is so she can go visiting again.

Mrs. J. D. Aycock and his sister Myrtle, and Miss Edna Earl Murray of Black Creek visited Misses Rebecca and Kathleen Lee Saturday night.

Marjorie Leigh Driver is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. Gat Bailey of Hales Chapel.

We feel very proud of our community string band, Bunn and Williams. They have been broadcasting over WEED, Rocky Mount, and hope they will continue for we enjoy the programs so much.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Driver had as their supper guests Tuesday night, The Crazy Tobacco Tags, and Misses Kathleen and Rebecca Lee.

Margie Kemp is attending summer school at the Free Will Orphanage near Middlesex.

Listen Folks! Did you know it was barning tobacco time?

Mr. John Holland from near Lamms Mill is building Mr. W. V. Lee a barn furnace today (Wednesday).

Do we ever stop to think, what this world would be, If everybody was just like me, Could do any good? Yes, if I would I'll stop now, and help somehow, Make life bright and gay.

To all I meet on their way, Good Day.

Mrs. A. D. Driver.
