THIS, THAT AND THE OTHER

BY MRS. THEO. B. DAVIS

Ask any housekeeper which meal's dishes she most dislikes to wash and the chances are she will say the ones from dinner, meaning the noonday repast. And there's a reason. Breakfast dishes are not so numerous as are those at dinner and one is not tired when the time comes to wash them. Then, too, they can be cleaned and put away while one might have to be in the kitchen anyway seeing to dinner.

Supper dishes are also fewer than those for dinner and one knows that when they are clean the kitchen door may be closed for the night. But dinner dishes, stacked and piled on a table waiting for a tired worker are a depressing sight. Other members of the family are probably resting after eating and one longs to lie down for a few minutes; but even in a nap there'd probably come a nightmare of dishes running away with spoons and all unwashed. It must be done and it is done, but there are few who do not sigh with relief when it is over.

And sometimes I get so worn out with cleaning up watermelon rinds and seeds, that I feel I'll be glad when the last one is gone. It's not like living in a city where you just throw them into a garbage can; in the country they must be saved for the cow or the pigs. Don't let the chickens have many. If they get their combs wet with the juice it attracts insects which may cause an irritating soreness. Partly eaten halves of melons are specially bad in this way.

If you are one of us who think plain apple jelly rather pathetic and who flavor it with one thing or another on the principle that it can't help improving the stuff, here's a hint. You know those flowering quinces that bloom so early in the spring sometimes bear fruit. It is ripe now and has the most delightful odor. (When I was a child I used to get them from Grandma's bush and use them for sachets to scent my Sunday clothes.) They are extremely sour and hard. Try cutting one up with enough apple parings to make about four glasses of jelly and cooking them together proceeding as usual with the jelly-making. I tried it on Monday of this week and the result is delightful. The apples used were Grimes Golden and the jelly is honey-colored.

It's nice that we are going to have a bank in Zebulon again. So far as I am personally concerned, however, a bank is like heavy brass candlesticks on the mantel—very, very seldom used, but adding greatly to appearances.

And here is a quotation from a story in the last Atlantic Monthly. You can not fail to see its appropriateness in this column.

"Around and around, like a toy train under a Christmas tree, whirled Mr. Fischer's little thoughts."

Big Rally Day To Be Held At Pilot

On Saturday, Sept. 7, there will be a big rally and homecoming day at Pilot Baptist Church. This will be the greatest occasion ever held in the community. Since the church is not large enough to accommodate the crowd it is likely that the meeting will be held in the school building just opposite the church.

Outstanding men will be present and speak. Among them are expected Carl Goerch and Ralph A. McDonald candidate for Governor, Chas. P. Green, Franklin county attorney, will be master of ceremonies. The Wendell band will furnish instrumental music and the church choir will lead the singing.

Following the program a good barbecue dinner will be given for 50 cents. Children will be served for 25c. The proceeds will be used for improvements on the church building.

The occasion will close with a baseball game in the afternoon.

Vocal Union

Next Sunday, Sept. 1, is the time for the Vocal Union at Lee's Chapel. The last one held for this section was in June just at the beginning of the infantile paralysis scare. The situation is now definitely better and it is hoped that a large crowd may assemble and take part on the program, which is sure to be interesting.

Hold Revival At Bethany

The annual revival meeting will begin at the Bethany Baptist church, located on the Wendell and Rolesville highway, next Monday night at 8:00. Services will be held each day at 3:00 and 8:00 p.m. Rev. Edwin C. Sexton, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of Rocky Mount, will assist the pastor, Rev. L. R. Evans, in the revival. Mrs. C. R. Weathers will have charge of the singing. The public is invited to attend.

NEWS of the WEEK

U. S. Warns Russia On Propaganda

Washington, D. C.—The meetings of the congress of the Communist International (Comintern) came to an end. During its sessions delegates from all countries had reported encouraging progress for the party. American delegates had boasted of leading the San Francisco dock strike, of "boring from within." When the sessions were over, the United States lodged a "most emphatic protest" with the Soviet Government through Ambassador William C. Bullitt. It said that the U. S. "anticipates the most serious consequences" if the Soviet Government does not halt activities deemed to be a violation of the pledge signed in November, 1933, by Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Foreign Commissioner. The pledge stated that his government would restrain organizations from "propaganda having as its aim the bringing about by force of a change in the political or social order of the whole or any part of the United States."

Crime & Punishment In Germany

Berlin, Germany—At the International Penal and Penitentiary Conference in the Kroll Opera House, Nazi propagandists dominated the sessions. Germany's Minister of Justice, Franz Guertner the Nazi slogan "No crime without punishment" astounded foreign delegates by announcing that in the future Adolph's Will rather than written law will determine German justice. German delegates, outnumbering all others, passed a law damning prison education, 148 to 40. When the vote was called by countries it was reversed 5 to 1. But the Nazis won their battle. The conference passed a resolution calling for sterilization of sex criminals.

Club News

The Home Demonstration Club held the August meeting on Wednesday p. m. of this week. It was decided that the club as a whole would endeavor to cooperate with the fairs to be held nearby this fall.

There was no local program. Mrs. McInness gave a talk on her recent trip to Washington and New York and urged that club members endeavor to have some interest outside their routine work that their minds may be broadened and their lives enriched. As a closing feature she played on the gramophone records of selections from famous operas, giving short history of each. Mrs. McInness announced that there is a probability of county club members making a trip to Washington in October and asked that all who would like to go communicate with her.

The September meeting of the club at Wakefield will be the time for the bread contest. Not only members but all other interested women are asked to bring for judging a loaf of yeast bread or six rolls. Mrs. W. N. Pitts will be in charge of the day's program and will supply any additional information that may be desired.

New Store To Open

Zebulon's newest department store will soon be open in the old A. D. Antone store building next to Pink Medlin's grocery store. It is to be a dollar store, carrying a full line of dry goods and merchandise, none of which is to sell for more than a dollar. The store will open either next Tuesday or next Friday.

The local stores, Shorr's, Kannon's, Antones', and Flowers', have just announced that their new fall goods have arrived and that they will have special low prices on them next Tuesday.

From reports made public on Tuesday it appears that there are now only about 25 cases of poliomyelitis in the contagious stage in North Carolina. The state has had 560 cases this year.

Amusing, to say the least, was the gentleman who came to get me to unlock his door last Thursday night. I wouldn't swear on the stand nor the Book that he was in an inebriated state, but unless my nostrils fooled me greatly, he had imbibed quite freely of ye spirituous frumentum. At any rate when we arrived on the scene of the locked door, I found that the door was not locked! The rain had seeped in and swelled it tight. Oh well, why go further?

The gentleman of color, who lifted, first the keys, and then the car from John McIntyre must have thought our able night chief was "just another policeman" when he attempted to drive past him last Wednesday morning (very a. m.). But Jiggs was a wee bit too sly for the dark one and picked him up long before he could see that gal he had borrowed the car to take riding. The boys at the Young Men's Club are now theme-singing "Lookie, Lookie, Lookie, where th' heck's th' Cookie".

According to a Topeka, (Kas.) weekly, Amos and Andy are both important, but Amos is the more important. They cite us to the Bible which mentions Amos, but not Andy.

Pardon my copying, but here's one for all who have "swell" ideas. "The self-made man is the one who looks back with pleasure and satisfaction on his early training and experiences."

A plain dirt farmer came in the other day and in the discussion, he allowed that the only difference between him and a Government expert is three text books, four pamphlets and three-hundred sixty-three bulletins in the expert's favor and forty years experience in his own.

I notice that etiquette states that it is perfectly all right for a wife to punch her meal ticket. Oh yeah? We men have got some rights in this here country of ourn.

My shears and paste bring from the columns of another paper the following "Poetry Appreciation Department." No matter what you think, I gotta bang from it.

No. 1

I went with the queen to a tea,
It was just as I thought it would be;

Her rumblings abdominal
Were simply abominable
And everyone thought it was me.

No. 2

Brighten the corner where you are
Brighten the corner where you are
Someone far from sober you may guide from the bar
Brighten the corner where you are.

We're git'n along fine now mammy.

MERCHANTS DAY NEXT TUESDAY

Next Tuesday, September 3, will be a red letter day in Zebulon for everybody. It is not only merchant's day, but in fact it is carpenters, plumbers, farmers,—just anybody's and everybody's day. Tobacco is beginning to sell and is bringing a good price. The crop is bigger if not better than last year. Cotton is going to be good and corn better. We have great cause for rejoicing.

Now let everybody come to Zebulon next Tuesday morning by nine o'clock. The merchants have prepared a surprise—a pleasant one for you. Come and bring you family and friends. There will be a number of freerewards and it will not cost you a cent to be here, or after you get here and you may carry a valuable prize home with you.

And, may we say incidentally, the merchants will have many fine bargains for you that you will either want to purchase and carry home with you, or see how much you may be able to save later when you want to buy.

Remember the day, Tuesday, September 3 at 9:00 o'clock. We are expecting you, come and let us have a good time together for an hour or two. There will be special music for the occasion which you may hear with pleasure no matter where you may be in town at the time.
