This, That & The Other

From the Smithfield Herald, Kenly item:

"Rev. Theo. B. Davis of Zebulon is spending this week in town with relatives and attending the union revival."

If that is true, I'm wondering who the man was who came in every night last week just about the time I was too sleepy to stay awake any longer.

And the "relative" part puzzles me, too. I've decided that impression was made by his habit of calling so many folks "brother" and "sister". One who didn't know would just naturally conclude he was kin to the whole community. The final touch is the fact that "The Rev. Theo. B. Davis of Zebulon" has been pastor of the Baptist church at Kenly for some time.

Joking aside, it is comforting to find that other papers get things mixed as badly as ours, and I thoroughly enjoyed that item.

If you want to stretch out your whipped cream use the white of an egg with it.

Beat it just as usual, adding a pinch of salt, and putting in the egg at the beginning. You'll not be able to tell the difference unless you are watching for it except that the egg makes it less greasy. In these shortcake-y days this may help matters in an emergency.

Hot Milk Cake

For months at a time I don't think about this recipe, but when berries are in season or when butter is "sca'ce", it is a good one to remember. I think it has been printed in this column before, but it has been requested again, so here it is:

Beat two eggs light and add one cup of sugar, beating as it is poured in. Sift one cup of plain flour with one teaspoon baking powder and a pinch of salt. Beat this into the egg and sugar mixture. Put one half cup sweet milk in a saucepan with two teaspoonfuls butter and bring this to a boil, then pour in over the thick batter you have made, beating it well. Flavor as desired and bake it in two layer cake tins or one pan about nine inches square. It is better than most sponge cakes and is fine for layer cakes that have a soft filling. Be sure to use it while fresh. It is especially good cut in squares and covered with crushed berries or sliced peaches and whipped cream for real company dessert.

Of course you'd double the recipe if you serve more than eight plates. And be sure your oven is not too hot when you bake it.

The new shades of yellowish-tan in summer hose make one long accustomed to gray feel as if she had suddenly changed from a Brahma hen to a Rhode Island Red.

"There is no frigate like a book To bear us lands away."

Discipline is a hard lesson to learn All of us would rather be free. We want to do what we want to. That's a good scheme on a vacation, but it's a hard program for living.

Final Meeting of Study Class

The last meeting of the P. T. A. Study Class was held at the Methodist Church on Tuesday afternoon of last week. In line with the day's topic—Creating a Religious Atmosphere in the Home—was the song sung by all present, the prayer led by Mrs. John Broughton and a solo by Mrs. Coltrane.

Mrs. C. L. Read briefly summarized all discussions at the meetings during the months the class met and spoke on the subject for Tuesday. Mrs. W. D. Finch discussed Sunday Observance in the Home and Mrs. Coltrane again sang. Refreshments were served by the hostess organization.

On Tuesday afternoon of next week the Department of Literature of the Woman's Club will hold the regular meeting for the month.

John A. Williams Dead

John A. Williams, 76 years old, died on Wednesday at the home of his niece, Mrs. J. O. Newell, where he had made his home for some time. Burial was in the Ben Arrington cemetery near Castalia on Thursday at three o'clock p. m. with the service conducted by the pastor of the Methodist church there. Mr. Williams had been feeble for months and had been critically ill for several weeks.

Registration Note

It is important that all persons in Wake County desiring to vote in primaries or elections register during the next two weeks. In order to fulfill the regulations prescribed by law everyone who desires to register must appear in person before those duly qualified to compile the lists. It is not according to law for a husband to have enrolled the name of his wife who did not find it convenient to leave home that day; she herself must be present when her name is written down. Rigid compliance with this requirement will do away with any chance of being accused of fraud in this respect.

Rocky Mount Gallopade

Rocky Mount is making extensive preparations for the Gallopade on May 29. Ceremonies begin at 10:00 a. m. with the dedication of the new $30,000 stadium and athletic field. Alderman Wilkinson will make the presentation address and response will be by representatives of various athletic organizations and the Little Theatre Guild.

Bands will furnish music. A barn dance will be held at night on May 27 in the New Planters Warehouse. On May 28 there will be a baseball game by teams in the Piedmont League, a street parade with floats, and band music. That night will be featured by a street carnival. A formal ball will close the ceremonies on the night of the 29.

Public Character

Next to farming interests it is probable that Zebulon's groceries are the town's most essential enterprises. Among the number who thus serve the community with efficiency and courtesy is the subject of this sketch.

Name—F. P. Medlin—Known to many as "Pink".

Native of—Franklin County.

Domestic Status—Married Miss Bertha Pearce in 1918. One daughter, two sons.

Church Affiliation—Baptist.

Business—Mercantile.

Came to Zebulon in 1922 because of business conditions here at that time.

Wakelon Column

On Thursday p. m. of last week Mrs. James Pulley, grade mother, and O. H. Massey, grade father, of Miss Webb's seventh grade, gave a weiner roast at a barn on the Pulley place with Miss Webb and her pupils as guests. The occasion was much enjoyed.

On Friday of last week Mrs. Pulley entertained Miss Barber and her sixth grade at a weiner roast with cake and marshmallows added.

All present enjoyed Mrs. Pulley's hospitality.

Wakelon seniors and some of the teachers were delightfully entertained on Thursday of last week by Mesdames Ruric Gill and Bernice Bunn, mothers of the class mascots, Norma Faye Gill and Billy Bunn. They went to Bob Melton's place at Rocky Mount where they were served a sumptuous supper of barbecue, brunswick stew, and all accompanying dishes. Covers were laid for 48 guests.

Society night was observed on Friday of last week. In the inter-society debates Kay Kemp and Mike Eddins argued that the New Deal was the best possible remedy for the depression, while Gertrude Carter and Talmadge Harper opposed them. The affirmative won, but Talmadge was declared the best speaker of the four.

Cornelia Herring won first place as a reader and Charles Winstead in declaiming. Medals will be awarded at commencement.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jones honored the pupils of Mrs. Wallace Temple's eighth grade with a picnic dinner and ride on Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Jones is grade mother for this room and has for seven years been with them on such a picnic as Wednesday's.

The children were taken to Tarp-ley's Mill where they enjoyed weiners, ice cream and lollipops. They were then given blow gum to help amuse them as they were taken on a trailer ride through Wendell and around by Rolesville before being carried to their homes. There were 39 pupils on the trip.

Church Column

The Methodist revival meeting begins on the fourth Sunday in May as announced last week. Mrs. Steidley, who will assist the pastor, has recently held most successful meetings in Middlesex and Easley. Having been in evangelistic work for years she has added to consecration and ability, experience and deeper sympathy. Hours for services will be announced later.

Women of the Methodist church are serving the weekly Rotary Club suppers during the summer months. Groups have as chairmen Mesdames W. C. Campen, G. S. Barbee, C. E. Flowers, M. J. Sexton Jethro Stell and F. D. Finch. The price of suppers will be the same as heretofore and profits will be used for the repair fund of the church. Any who may be willing to donate food to be served are asked to communicate with a chairman or with Mrs. S. G. Flowers. This will be an excellent means of converting produce into cash for church purposes.

Rotarians Hold Charter Meeting

The recently organized Rotary Club at Wendell held their charter meeting last week. Zebulon Rotarians dispensed with their regular program and supper here in order to attend that in the neighboring town. Zebulon feels more interest in the Wendell Club because of having helped in its organization. Wendell now has the largest Rotary group of any town of its size in the state—a membership of 32. With editor Nowell of the Gold Leaf Farmer to look after publicity, items pertaining to the organizations may be depended upon as "inside information".

UDC Meeting

The Finch-Bissett Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy entertained the Spring Hope chapter of the U. D. C. Thursday May 7, at their regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Frank McGuire in Zebulon. The program leader featured a study of Gen. T. J. (Stonewall) Jackson, who died May 10, 1863.

An article written by Mrs. John Anderson "The Origin of Memorial Day and May 10", in North and South Carolina, was read. After the program the hostess served refreshments.

Jr. O. Celebration

Members of the Junior Order from this area are expected to join those from other sections of the state in the home-coming celebration at the orphans home in Lexington Saturday, May 23. Exercises begin at 11:00 a. m. at which time Senator Robt. Reynolds will speak. Other features will be a concert by the orphanage band, a ball game between the teams of the Lexington and Oxford orphanages, and a picnic dinner.

A large attendance of members of the order is desired and expected.

SEEN & HEARD

CONCLUDED AT THE CEMETERY

Rev. Mr. Allen, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Kenly told us this one the other day: A minister was marrying a doctor. He asked him and the bride to join hands. In taking her hand he felt her pulse. The racing pulse caused him to lapse into his profession and he said, "Let me see your tongue."

Hearing these words the preacher imagined himself not only in the sick room and in the presence of death but at a funeral. He closed the service with these words, "This service will be concluded at the cemetery."

FELLOW SUFFERERS, SYMPATHIZE

Did you ever buy anything against your wife's judgment or word? And later everything that happened in connection with it was directly attributed to that one act of yours? For instance: Did you trade in your old car for a new one against her will? And then if two years later you punctured a new tire or some one ran into you and smashed a fender, did she say "Oh, that car!"? Well, let's shake, brother. We both know how it is.

New Style Refrigeration

At J. A. Kemp and Son Store they have a new kind of refrigerator. It uses no electricity, no ice, but uses kerosene to make the cold that keeps the food.

These refrigerators have been thoroughly tested in many sections of our country. For those who find it difficult to secure ice or who have no electricity, they should offer the complete solution of the refrigerating problem.

Even if you don't buy, do as we have already heard some say they mean to do, and visit Kemp's store to inspect the SUPERFEX.

Ptomaine Poison Five Affected

On last Saturday afternoon Dr. C. E. Flowers was called into the country in the Hopkins Chapel section, where he found five persons of the household of Eugene Mitchell acutely ill. They were all suffering from ptomaine poison, caused by eating fish and drinking buttermilk at the same meal. Fortunately all the cases responded to treatment and no permanent results are expected from their sickness.

ITALY'S DELEGATE LEAVES

Italy's delegate to the League of Nations left the assemblage on Monday when the representative of Ethiopia was invited to a place with the rest. The Italian declared there is now no Ethiopia, and that its only government is from Italy.

Mother, may I go hear a speech?
O, yes, my darling daughter;
Why you may listen all you please;
But vote just like you oughter.
