

Noted Singer Dead

Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, world famous singer, died on Tuesday night at her home in California. She was 75 years old. She had made and had lost or spent an enormous fortune and had in recent years worked for the movies instead of on a concert stage. She was noted for her generosity not only to her own family, but to others in need.

President Goes Through State

President Roosevelt passed through North Carolina on Wednesday of this week enroute to Charleston, S. C. where he was to embark on the cruiser Indianapolis for a vacation cruise. He expects to visit Buenos Ayres for the economic relations conference before returning to the United States.

Tugwell Resigns

Rexford Tugwell has resigned as head of the Rural Resettlement Administration. For months this move has been foretold by some and denied by other. Tugwell says he will enter private business.

New Prison Cells

Work recently done at the State Prison made fireproof the cells where prisoners are confined and gives great relief to those who feared that some day fire might take the lives of those within the walls. It is said that nothing in the cells now will burn except the cotton mattresses. Cells have been painted, toilets installed, shower baths provided, and inmates will be allowed to play some games. Much of the reconstruction work, costing $470,000, was done by the prisoners.

One Twin Has Pneumonia

Siamese twins, joined at the base of their spines by muscular tissue, are in a New York hospital. One has pneumonia and is dangerously ill. The other is thus forced to stay in bed also. The case is being studied with much interest.

and a guest of the hospital.

Old Age Registration Begun

Registration for the new old-age security program has begun. Blanks have been mailed to employers and are to be filled out and returned. Employees will receive their blanks after Nov. 24. Postmasters in the communities will have needed advice on the proper procedure.

Persons are warned not to place confidence in those who wish to enroll them for a small fee. The government makes no charge for help necessary.

For Greater Safety

It is claimed that automobile tires not inflated to capacity give greater traction and friction and less danger of skidding as well as more power to pull out of snowdrifts or sand ruts. However, one is cautioned to drive slowly to avoid damage to tires when they are partially deflated.

Millions of Turkeys

This year's turkey crop is a record breaker. There are said to be 20,000,000 of the birds nearly ready for market. Prices will be lower than last year, since 5,000,000 turkeys can affect the cost to the consumer.

REBELS ENTER MADRID

The rebel forces in the Spanish civil war have captured Madrid, the capital city. Some days ago the Loyalist government vacated the city, but many of the citizens and soldiers remained to defend it. The stories of butchery and slaughter of women and children, are horrible and the destruction of works of art seems to especially delight the infuriated fighters.

REPUBLICANS OFF BALLOT IN FLORIDA NEXT TIME

Because of a state law in Florida requiring that a political party must poll as much as thirty per cent of the total vote before it can get its candidates' names on the official election ballots, the Republican will not have a ticket in that 30 per cent requirement. Only the Democrats will get on the ballots, unless the law is changed before 1938.

WEST COAST STRIKE

Little progress has been made toward settlement of the strike of dock workers and other maritime employees on the west coast. Much shipping is tied up and in some instances company officials have put on overalls and helped to load and unload freight. Hours and wages are involved in the dispute which culminated in the strike.

ELECTRIC CHAIR OUT

The electric chair claimed its last victim Friday, unless the legislature amends the gas chamber law or some criminal is yet apprehended and convicted of a capital crime committed before July of last year. The chair will be kept in its place at the end of death row to be ready for either of these contingencies.

INCREASE IN TEXTILE WAGES

Sixty five thousand textile workers in the southern states will benefit by wage increases totaling $4,000,000 a year, according to recent announcement of the Textile Institute. Many of these people live in North Carolina. The action of the mills in raising wages was voluntary and it is believed that the action was taken as a step toward applying NRA principles to the industry.

Flying Aces—Raleigh Exchange Club—Air Show

Starting promptly at three o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Raleigh Municipal Airport the Famous Flying Aces, consisting of Don't wait for Santa Claus to get your hair cut. See Corbett's today and he will give you an added cause for Thanksgiving.

SHAVES, SHINES AND HAIR CUTS

City Barber Shop

formers, under the sponsorship of the Raleigh Exchange Club, will present the same big show that this famous troupe have presented in all the leading cities of the United States, Canada and Mexico. Fifteen daring, thrilling acts in a two hour parade of spectacular flying and daring ground attractions.

Among these acts will be Miss Jessie Martin's famous death ride, standing on the top wing of an airplane while the pilot executes a long series of loops with her in that position and as a climax she will place herself upon the wing while the pilot completes several barrel-rolls with her, this latter stunt has never been duplicated by any one, man or woman, it is foot delayed parachute jump, Johnny Crowell of Charlotte, who will thrill you with his daring stunting in the GeeBee racing plane. There positively will not be one dead minute of two hours and positively no passengers will be carried during the show.

The admission price to the show will be one dollar for an entire car load of people, regardless of how many in the car, and the Exchange Club invites every one to fill up their car with all it will hold and come over and see America's Greatest Air show in action.
