THE DAY AND THE WORK

To each man is given a day and his work for the day; And once, and no more, he is given to travel this way. And woe if he flies from the task, whatever the odds; For the task is appointed to him on the scroll of the gods.

There is waiting a work where only your hands can avail; And so, if you falter, a chord in the music will fail. We may laugh to this sky, we may lie for an hour in the sun; But we dare not go hence till the labor appointed is done.

To each man is given a marble to carve for the wall; A stone that is needed to heighten the beauty of all; And only his soul has the magic to give it grace; And only his hands have the cunning to put it in place.

We are given one hour to parley and struggle with Fate, Our wild hearts filled with the dream, our brains with high debate.

It is given to look on life once, and once only to die: One testing, and then at a sign we go out of the sky.

Yes, the task is given to each man, no other can do; So your work is awaiting: it has waited through the ages for you. —Edwin Markham

Mrs. Ruric Gill and little daughter, Norma Faye, have been quite sick with chicken-pox. Mrs. Gill's sister, Miss Myatt Dean of Wendell, has been with her during her illness.

Mrs. Early Brantley of Wendell visited Mrs. Ruric Gill on Thursday of last week.

Wm. Bryant and family, former residents of Zebulon, have moved back here from near Raleigh.

Friends in this section are interested in the announcement of the marriage of Venton A. Ferrell to Miss Eufaula Draughan of Durham on December 24. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ferrell who live near Union Chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Joyner and son, formerly of Wakefield and Zebulon, now of Mt. Olive, were here on Tuesday. Mr. Joyner was looking after matter connected with his property in Wakefield, Mrs. Joyner and James were seeing friends and relatives. They took dinner with Mrs. D. S. Joyner. While they like their new home, the Joyners have not forgotten the old, and renewed their subscription to the Record that they may continue to keep in touch with friends in this section.

Mrs. Merritt Massey has been confined to her home by illness since the latter part of last week.

Miss Sadie Leigh Blount was hostess to her bridge club at her home on Monday night of this week.

Mrs. Wayne Whitley of Rocky Mount visited in Zebulon Sunday. Mr. Whitley is now at Hot Springs, Ark., for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mitchell and family have moved from Wakefield to Zebulon and will make a crop on the Seymour Chamblee farm.

Rev. A. D. Parrish is no longer connected with the City Market, due to the fact that his pastoral duties take all of his time. Mayor R. H. Bridgers is now the head of this firm.

Mrs. Irby Gill entertained the members of her bridge club at her home on Monday night of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jones and Mr. and Mrs. William Jones occupy the house at Wakefield recently vacated by the Jesse Mitchells. Mrs. Charles Jones was formerly Miss Priscilla Hood and Mrs. William Jones was Miss Miriam Horton.

A. D. Antone has been absent from his store two weeks because of illness. Beginning with a deep cold, he has since had an attack of spinal trouble.

V. E. Rawls, bookkeeper with Page Supply Co., has taken the Horton place left vacant by the Judd Robertsons and has moved his family here from Henderson.

Wayne Whitley, Jr., of Rocky Mount, visited his iousin, Charles Whitley, here last Sunday.

L. E. Richardson was in the Record office Wednesday to say that he has moved out beyond Pilot, near Bunn, and needs the paper to keep informed about the home community. As he paid his subscription he remarked that he likes his new home.

Robert Kemp Horton has been made a member of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity at Chapel Hill where he is a member of the junior class. To be eligible to this fraternity juniors must rank with the upper eighth of their class.

Annual Meet Of RPCA Jan. 29

Arrangements are complete for the Raleigh Production Credit Association, which will be held on January 28th, 1937 at the Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh at 10:00 o'clock, according to Mr. B. F. Warner, Secretary of the Association, who said that a large attendance of farmers are expected.

The Raleigh Production Credit Association serves Wake County and furnishes short-term credit for production of crops and other purposes to its members. The Association now has a membership of 1066 and Mr. Warner says that every member is expected to attend the annual meeting at which a complete report of last year's operations will be made, directors will be elected and plans made for 1937 operations.

The meeting will be attended by Mr. H. L. Gardner of the Production Credit Corporation of Columbia, who will address the stockholders at the conclusion of the business session.

The officers and directors of the Raleigh Production Credit Association are:

Mr. Geo. D. Richardson, President
Mr. Jas. H. Akins, Vice-President
Mr. T. F. Warner, Sec'y.-Treas.
Mr. F. N. Shearon, Director
Mr. C. S. Chamblee, Director
Mr. Obe Tingen, Director.

Motor Strike Marks Time

Flint, Mich.—After the violence of last week, in which clouds of tear-gas swept through the streets of the motor section in a clash between General Motors strikers and the police, labor leaders and company officials renewed their efforts to effect a peaceable settlement of their differences.

More males than females have pneumonia; more negroes than whites. No one develops permanent and entire immunity.

Special Notice

Look this issue of the Record over. Did you ever see so much for $1.00? You get from 16 to 20 pages each week for 52 weeks —All for ONE DOLLAR.

And if you will send your renewal or pay up back subscription (one year or more) or send us a new subscription of $1.00, we will send you a $1.00 electric LANTERN FREE (while they last. We have only a few left). In this way you get $2.00 value for $1.00.

You will have to hurry if you want a lantern. We may withdraw the big $1.00 free offer any time.

Tell your friends about it—a 16 to 20 page weekly newspaper, a fine electric lantern worth $1.00 all for the price of either the paper or the lantern — $1.00.

GENERAL NEWS

Markets Re-open

The tobacco market at Danville, Va., has reopened for the sale of the leaf after having been closed for the Christmas holidays. Despite the deep mud on all unpaved roads there was a large amount of last year's crop for sale on Monday and it is thought that there is still a quantity of good tobacco yet unsold.

Still Much Unemployment

Notwithstanding the multiplied alphabetical agencies and their concerted efforts, the latest reports on unemployment show that there are still nearly nine million workers in this country still without jobs. It was not stated, however, exactly what lines of work had the largest number unemployed.

State Fair

A topic much discussed these days is the wisdom of the State's assuming the responsibility of the annual Fair at Raleigh with its possibilities for gain or loss. For some years now the fair has been operated by Hamid and Chambliss, who have always paid to North Carolina authorities the sum agreed upon. At times the state could doubtless have cleared much more than they received; at times the amount might have been less.

Proponents of a reversal to former management point out that the Fair is not truly representative of the state as a whole; opponents declare it almost impossible to make it so. Commissioner Kerr Scott has a full sized problem to solve in some way.

Carp Eat Plants

Word has gone out that carp in Contentnea Creek are eating the plants in tobacco beds. This is said to be due to the fact that the creek is so high the fish can swim around in the beds. If there are carp in the creek; if there are plant beds along its banks; the statement is perhaps accurate. Carp eat almost anything. But the news came from Kinston.

Cigarettes Higher

Cigarettes have gone up in price about 15 cents a thousand. It is planned to pass this advance on to the consumer. It is said by the tobacco companies to be due to the higher prices paid for leaf tobacco and other materials used.
