GENERAL NEWS

MURDER AND SUICIDE

N. Archie Brown, Raleigh tailor, on last Saturday shot and killed his estranged wife, wounded Mrs. R. D. Upchurch, his sister-in-law, and then killed himself. Mrs. Brown had left her husband a week before. Separate funerals were held for the couple. A son is left, but he sailed recently for South America and will probably not learn of the tragedy before landing.

MAHRAJAN LARGELY ATTENDED

The Mahrajan, Syrian festival was attended by more than 1,000 persons when it opened at the Fair grounds in Raleigh last Sunday. Among the notables present was Governor Hoey. In his address Dr. Elkourie of Alabama, president of Southern Syrian Clubs, urged his hearers to demonstrate that they can be good Americans while carrying on the traditions of their race. George Hamid, well known as manager of State Fair, also spoke, saying that Syrians owe a debt to this country for the freedom and opportunity found here. A picnic dinner was served. The festivities concluded with a ball at the Auditorium on Monday night.

MANY DROPPED FROM ROLLS

WPA workers on many projects in North Carolina are being notified, or have already been told, that their work is being discontinued or reduced.

The names of 3,780 persons have been dropped. In some cases no warning had been given, the news coming as a distinct surprise.

However, many WPA workers have found other employment or have been transferred to other federal agencies.

WOULD ORGANIZE U. S. EMPLOYEES

John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O. is making an effort to organize federal employees into a union. Lewis' brother, formerly assistant administrator of the WPA, will head the new organization.

Many are wondering if workers thus banded together would strike against the government, and whether they might tie up affairs to the vast detriment of the public good. Already there are two organizations for federal workers with a combined membership of 75,000.

LITTLE RIVER SOIL CONSERVATION COMMITTEE FOR 1937

At a meeting held at Wakelon High School, Friday afternoon, June 18th, members of the Soil Conservation Association of Little River Township re-elected community committeemen who served for this township last year for another year.

These men are: S. T. Davis, Wendell, Rt. 2; Carl D. Bunn, Zebulon, Rt. 3; C. S. Chamblee, Zebulon, Rt. 1; E. A. Chamblee, Zebulon, Rt. 2; F. H. Broughton, Zebulon, alternate.

About 40 growers attended this meeting and heard County Agent Jno. C. Anderson explain the Soil Conservation Program for 1937. S. T. Davis, who was elected Chairman of the Committee and served as a member of the County Committee, last year; gave a report on the work of the County and Community committeemen for last year's program, and expressed his appreciation for the confidence placed in him by growers of this section. Mr. Davis is well known in this section of the county, and has taken an active part in Agricultural, Educational, and Religious Programs effecting this section. A large majority of our growers will be glad to learn that he will serve as a community committeeman again, this year. County Agent, Jno. C. Anderson, stated that approximately $300,000.00 has been distributed among the farmers of Wake county who cooperated in the program during 1936, and an equal amount or more, can be earned by them, again, this year, by reducing their cotton and tobacco acreage and increasing their acreage to Soil Conserving Crops.

Mrs. W. T. Bost Speaks In Raleigh

Raleigh, June 23.—Speaking in Raleigh recently before a meeting of orphanage officials of North Carolina, Mrs. W. T. Bost, Commissioner of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, asserted that "if we could have but one generation of properly born, trained, educated and healthy children, a thousand other problems of government would vanish."

"We would assure ourselves of healthier minds in more vigorous bodies," Mrs. Bost continued, "to direct the energies of our nation to yet greater heights of achievements."

"Perhaps, through the Social Security program, we are even now on the road to that goal. Certainly we must center our endeavor more than ever around the needs of the child and make him in truth the cornerstone of society. We must give him the chance from birth, and even beyond, to be a better-born child, and to help him throughout the period of happy childhood."

"Social Security legislation is today very definitely in the foreground," Mrs. Bost said. "But anyone is mistaken in thinking that everything necessary is already being done by the govern-alone cannot do the job. The Social Security Act providing . . . aid to dependent children . . . is not intended to replace money now being expended by states, local communities, or agencies supported largely by private gifts . . .

"Children's institutions and child-caring agencies—state, county, municipal and private—are expected to continue to carry the load they now have and to meet those new demands which each day brings, and citizens are expected to continue the support of these agencies through voluntary contributions or state and local taxes.

"The Social Security Act, in providing aid to dependent children, gives evidence of long-range planning for the future. It stands out as the greatest opportunity for constructive work with children that has ever been available to the nation."

STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Zebulon's new town commissioners are starting off their administration in a way to please the people. The sidewalks in much of the town and on some of the most traveled streets were in very bad condition. They were weed-grown and washed badly with ruts and gulleys. A number of these have been leveled and built up till they look real citified. And the good work is still going on. We hope a man may be kept busy this summer and fall looking after the sidewalks of the town. The cost will not be great and it will mean a great deal to appearances as well as the comfort to those who travel over the walks.

Farmers in Martin, Tyrrell, Hyde and Washington counties cooperated to sell 400 lambs in a pool recently held at Plymouth.

Uncle Jim Says

Livestock production and soil conservation go hand in hand. Crops that conserve the soil make good forage, and manure from livestock will enrich the land.

MALARIA PROJECT

A campaign to free the state from malaria has been begun. Ditches and other mosquito breeding places will be cleaned up. The cost will be borne in part by the WPA.

Cooperating with Federal agencies, the Extension Service of State College has organized the buying of surplus Irish potatoes in eastern North Carolina to improve market prices.
