Wakelon Plays Two Games Here This Week

Erwin Friday; Clayton Saturday; Took Last Two Games

Wakelon took two games last week. One from Angier Saturday the tune of 9-2 and the other from Clayton Sunday with a 8-4 tally. A. C. Dawson hurled the Clayton game while Raney Hayes tossed the old pill for a loop around Angier's heads. With this lead and two games coming next, Wakelon will probably be on top in the acco State League by the end of the week.

The next two home games are Friday and Saturday of this week. First, a tilt with Irwin on Friday will probably be a tough one as Irwin was the toughest team in the league. Pitcher for this has not been picked. Clayton plays here Saturday and the score will probably be easily scored with last Sunday's. While Clayton has a fine ball club, it will well near the bottom of the scale. Her chances did well at one time, but Wakelon renewed vim, vigor and vitality has put the Indian sign on a streak of luck. Another sign of Wakelon's prowess as a club is evidenced by the fact that players of her league's are seeking out Wakelon's manager in hope of landing a job on the local band wagon.

TOWN OF ZEBULON

Zebulon, North Carolina

June 1937.

Complaints have come to me concerning the keeping of hogs within city limits. Sec. 4, Page 14, of the ordinance forbids the keeping of hogs within the city limits of 100 ft. of the property of the owner without the written consent of the property owner within the city limits.

Our citizens who have complained of this ordinance are asked to obtain written consent of the property owner as mentioned in the ordinance.

On the part of the property owner, the ordinance is in effect on the books and the choice but to see that it is followed.

Our sincere hope and desire is that we may have the cooperation of our citizens in our efforts to adhere to the affairs of our town and to be justly toward everyone. The Mayor and Board of Commissioners of the Town of Zebulon.

RECREATION NEWS

The playground is open daily from 8:00 till 11:30 and from 3:00 to 5:00 except Saturdays.

Various kinds of handiwork are being made by the children. All is supported by federal money. It has been closed except one and our local recreation committee the parents wish to keep it open so they can do so by co-operating with our program. Let the children come to learn how to do useful things.

CHURCH NOTES

All candidates for baptism into the fellowship of the Baptist church are requested to assemble on next Sunday night when the ordinance will be performed by the pastor at the close of the evening worship service.

The Northside Circle of the Baptist W. M. S. met with Mrs. W. O. Glover on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Julian Horton in charge of a program on Italians. Others taking part were Mrs. Lester Green, Mrs. Victoria Gill, Mrs. Pittman Stell and Mrs. M. T. Debnam.

Mrs. G. S. Barbee was hostess to the Circle of the Methodist church on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Fred Page discussed the seventh chapter of the Gospel of St. John in an interesting manner.

The Young Married Ladies' Class of the Wakefield Baptist Church held its monthly meeting Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. C. L. Ousley in Wendell. After the election of officers there was a very interesting program. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Rev. C. E. Crawford, who for several years has been the efficient and popular pastor of the church at Bunn, has resigned the pastorate and will at an early date go to another field of work.

PEARCE REVIVAL MEETING

The revival meeting of the Pearce Baptist church, six miles north of Zebulon, will begin Sunday night, July 4th and continue through the week, with services at 3 p. m. in the afternoons and 8 p. m. again in the evenings.

The speaker for this series of meetings is the Rev. L. R. Evans of Knightdale. Mr. Evans, who held a revival meeting here several years ago, is a popular young pastor of the state. He is a forceful speaker and a lover of souls.

The public is cordially invited to attend any or all of these services. The services will be held in the new brick church, although it is not completed. The new church will be made comfortable. It is hoped that large congregations will attend these services.

FIRST COTTON BLOOMS

On Friday, June 25, L. D. Sutton brought to the Record office a cotton bloom. It was raised on J. E. Winston's farm near Emit.

On Saturday following our fellow townsman, J. D. Finch, brought in the second bloom we have seen. It was grown on a stalk of Coker No. 8, an improved cotton growing a staple one and a quarter inches long.

Then Monday noon, Durwood Lewis brought one. During the afternoon, J. E. Carter brought a fourth grown on his farm south of Zebulon.

A cotton blossom was sent in on June 27 by Siddle Bunn. Another bloom of June 27 was sent by Sallie Mae Pearce and one by John (Tank) Richardson for Henry Boyd.

L. R. Temple sent in a bloom on June 29. Thurman Murray sent one on June 30. Another was sent in by Mrs. M. D. Hood.

Business Places Will Close Wed. Afternoons

The following resolutions were passed at the last meeting of the Town Board:

THAT WHEREAS—Requests and a signed petition have been presented to the governing board of our town, indicating that a majority of the business men, merchants and shopkeepers want to close their places of business at one o'clock each Wednesday during the months of July and August, 1937.

AND WHEREAS—The closing of business houses for business each Wednesday during the dull summer months each year is becoming a popular custom among our neighboring towns.

AND WHEREAS—There seems to be no inconvenience to customers, little or no loss of business since the patrons are aware of the closing and the practice is becoming general.

NOW THEREFORE — Be it resolved that the Mayor and Board of Commissioners of the town of Zebulon do favor and endorse the closing of all places of business except drug stores, gas and oil dealers, and eating places each Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock during the months of July and August, 1937.

The above resolution was, upon motion duly carried and it was suggested that the same with comment be published in the Zebulon Record. Complaint has been made that only two or three places of business in town refuse to close and that they, even though agree to close persist in returning to serve a customer, and stay in places convenient to call. Those representing the majority ask that we take some action to assure closing. We hope that will not be necessary, but that every one will enter into the matter in good faith and abide wholly by its terms. Perhaps, during the summer it will benefit us to take one afternoon off each week. Certainly we are too small a town and too good a community to attempt to take unfair advantage of each other, especially on matters designed to help the town as a whole. We believe those in the minority will accede to the wishes of the majority, at least we trust they will do so.

The following merchants and business people have agreed to close their places of business on Wednesday afternoons during the months of July and August. It is hoped that their customers and patrons will transact all business or make all purchases in the forenoon so no one will be disappointed because of not being able to get service in the afternoon on Wednesday afternoons. This will be the only opportunity many clerks and others will have during the hot summer months for an outing and it is hoped that every one will assist in enabling them to have it.

YE Flap-doodle

By THE SWASH-BUCKLER

I have no faith in fortune tellers. Still, I often wonder how they arrive at definite statements such as the names of people they have never seen. Your age, your name and various other things.

When Fayssoux the great mentalist, was here a few years ago, despite my best efforts, I could not find out how he performed the blind-fold drive, nor the letter delivery. Mental telepathy may be, and may not. But he certainly did convincing things supposedly by the power of thought concentration and suggestion.

I have a brother who disbelieves all these things. He states definitely that he could look up a lady's horoscope as easily as anyone else.

Well, he might have something there, at that.

Speaking of things of like nature, brings out blushes on many people's faces when they remember a few of the things fortune tellers could tell, but more often don't.

Did you ever stop to think just what a blush is?

Many would say, "Well, it's just turning red" or "It's flushing when embarrassed." There are probably a thousand and one answers, but I believe the most complete and only reliable definition of the blush appears in the next paragraph handed me after hours of study by a biological friend.

A BLUSH is a temporary arithma and a calorific effulgence of the physiognomy, ettigilized by the precipitation of the sesorum from a predicament of inequilibrium caused by usdden shame, anger, fear, humiliation or other emotion, resulting in a partial parris of the vasomotorial muscular filaments of the facial, immediately become suffused with radiance emanating an intermediated precordia.

Mr. Webster, who also has made a study of the word, I'm told, says—The redness due to a suspension of the action of the local vasomotor nerves allowing the arteries and capillaries to dilate so that there is an increased flow of blood to the parts that redden.

I suppose this fellow Webster know his stuff, but I still like my friend's best.

I am reliably informed that people blush all over too. Some of them. Others blush in spots. That is probably true. I well recall a certain spot that would redden rapidly when brought under a sudden emotional strain by dad with the aid of a razor strop!

Blushingly yours,
The Swashbuckler.
