COMFORT NOT DISTRESS

The intensely hot weather of last week brought extreme discomfort to many in this section. Nobody was in distress because of the heat as were those in many parts north and west. Friday was the hottest day of the year with an temperature of 100 and it started out to match that or break it, but was modified by a shower in the afternoon. It was no cool day, but Monday was much more endurable with that shut off the sun during part of the afternoon. Tuesday was not warm enough to bother and another light shower in the afternoon. And Wednesday was the coolest day of the summer.
